LEAN training

Davis High

Julie Laub

We will have training at Davis High to work on the program LEAN. Learning to simplify and reprioritize how and when they work that still gives the quality to the students but the time saving to the teachers.

Taking everything you do and evaluating whether those things we do will get us to our end goal.

Draft next year's SIP (School Improvement Plan):

*Review of last year's goals and data.

Data

Dibels growth goals: State: 60% District: 70%

Antelope: most met state goal and even district goal. Some grade levels have had 90% growth.

Have data for K-3 right now.

Data from iReady math is showing growth in all classes.

Attendance: Still working on. We've had more illnesses this year and it has affected our daily attendance.

Will review again after 3rd term.

Professional Development: March 18th we will be doing some training, possibly on technology, and then let the teachers do their end of term work.

Jennie will ask teachers to have the money ear-marked for purchases for their grade levels by March 15th or we will reevaluate where we could put that money to use to help reach our goals.

New SIP (School Improvement Plan) for 2019-2020

Professional Development: $19,500

Aides: Want to maintain the aides for grades

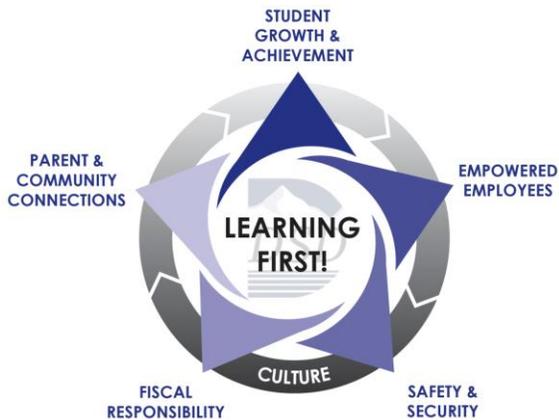

Grade level money: Make sure the wording states that manipulatives, software and reading supplies will directly affect SIP goals.

Will bring write up of plan to the March CC meeting for review and approval. Jennie will bring a hard copy signature page for CC members to sign.

Other Topics:

Strategic Plan for Davis School District

The accreditation process will take place in October. Jennie showed us the updated Strategic Plan for DSD.

Vision: Davis School District provides an environment where growth and learning flourish.

Mission: Educators, parents, and community members work together to create a successful educational experience for each student.

Jennie has invited Tracey Saxey and the Student Council will be making a 2 min video for a district contest that highlights this Strategic Plan and it's affect.

Our goals will now fit within these pillars of focus.
