Social Media

Clearfield respects the rights of students to express themselves and use social media platforms, however, CHS has the right to address and/or take disciplinary measures for information communicated through social media when it creates a disruption of school environment for any student, comprises academic dishonesty, or is deemed threatening to any person associated with the school. For the purpose of the guidelines, social media contains any form of electronic communication, social networking, online communication, or online presence. CHS students should be aware that if their conduct negatively impacts the education environment, such conduct may be subject to discipline, not only by school authorities, but also by law enforcement agencies. Read the full "CHS Social Media Guidelines" in the "Student Policy Handbook."
