THE LARGEST REUNION IN LIVING MEMORY!

Remembrance Weekend saw record numbers of alumni attending on the 100th anniversary of the Armistice, with close to 370 registered to attend.

The Headmaster commented "This special 100th anniversary of the First World War Armistice was particularly poignant for RHS, precisely because of the acute awareness we have of our own heritage and its impact on former pupils, their families and the nation. Sunday is especially so, when we commemorated not only the many former RHS boys who made the ultimate sacrifice in the First World War, but the incredible 18 million military and civilian individuals across the world who lost their lives".

The annual rugby match saw over 30 players and many spectators, ranging from the ages of 18 to over 60. The eldest, Martyn Wheldon (Collingwood 1974), playing in his fourth game aged 63. New this year was a mixed hockey match against the School. Andrew Dotchin (Collingwood 1974), also 63, played a fantastic first half as goalie. There were also fitting tributes to Les Dryden, former Head of Ceremonial and Professor Bernard de Neumann, Nelson 1961. For a full report and more pictures click the Read More.

YOUR OPINION MATTERS

Please do take part in our alumni survey as your opinion is extremely important to us. With your help we can create a stronger and more responsive alumni community. It only takes 5 minutes to complete.

As a small incentive, if you take part you will be entered into a prize draw to win an iPad. There are also some quirky RHS-related questions - the best answers will win 4 tickets to the Army vs Navy match on Saturday 4 May 2019.
