

Families Making the Connection

Move More, Sit Less

Being active is one of the most important things all of us can do to improve health. The Physical Activity Guidelines for Americans have been updated to encourage us to move more and sit less. How can we do this?

Preschool children (3-5 years of age)

- Should be physically active throughout the day to enhance growth and development
- Adult caregivers of preschool-aged children should encourage active play that includes a variety of activity types.

School-age children (6-17 years of age)

- Should do 60 min/day of moderate to vigorous intensity aerobic activity
- Should include bone and muscle-strengthening activities 3 days/week
- Young people should have opportunities and encouragement to do activities that are age-appropriate, enjoyable, and varied.

Adults

- Should do at least 150-300 min/week of moderate OR 75 to 150 min/week of vigorous aerobic activity OR a combination
- Should do muscle-strengthening activities 2 or more days/week

Examples of activity

- Aerobic: Improves cardiorespiratory fitness (i.e., brisk walking, running, or bicycling)
- Bone-strengthening: Promotes bone growth and strength (i.e., jumping rope or running)
- Muscle-strengthening: Improves muscle strength, power and endurance (i.e., resistance training or weight lifting)
