

AP Literature and Composition Summer 2019 Reading

Welcome to AP Literature! You are about to embark on a challenging yet fulfilling journey into the world of literature. The summer reading assignment is designed to prepare you for the level of critical reading and the depth of conversation required in this class. Canonical literature commands your full intellectual attention. Therefore, begin your reading early in the summer so that you have plenty of time to enjoy and carefully contemplate the complexities of the text.

You will be reading Jane Eyre* by Charlotte Bronte this summer. Be prepared for a timed writing based on your reading the first day of class.

Pace your reading. This is a long book. Putting the reading off until the end of summer is not a good idea.

I would suggest annotating the text as you read. Pay particular attention to character and plot. Highlight memorable quotes, use of figurative language, and any other point of interest.

Please join our Classroom page to access the next part of the assignment. Our code is t1gshf.

Begin to fill in the MWDS (major works data sheet). Focus on characters, plot summary, and author. Those are the areas I will be grading. As you are reading and you see a memorable quote, jot it down on the data sheet. We will complete the MWDS in our first few weeks of class.

Do not cut and paste from the internet. That is considered plagiarism and a violation of our Honor Code.
