- Teachers' lesson plans make explicit reference to the standards being taught.
- Consumables are being provided to implement standards based instructional programs.
- Standards-based assessments are being utilized at the school site.
- Teachers implement a variety of instructional strategies to meet the diverse needs of our learners (English Language Learners, Special Education,)

Analysis of Current Instructional Program

The following statements are derived from the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) of 1965 and Essential Program Components (EPCs). In conjunction with the needs assessments, these categories may be used to discuss and develop critical findings that characterize current instructional practice for numerically significant subgroups as well as individual students who are:

- Not meeting performance goals
- Meeting performance goals
- Exceeding performance goals

Discussion of each of these statements should result in succinct and focused findings based on verifiable facts. Avoid vague or general descriptions. Each successive school plan should examine the status of these findings and note progress made. Special consideration should be given to any practices, policies, or procedures found to be noncompliant through ongoing monitoring of categorical programs.

Standards, Assessment, and Accountability

1. Use of state and local assessments to modify instruction and improve student achievement (ESEA)

Meyer has adopted a data-driven cycle of inquiry approach to school improvement that impacts budget, curriculum, instruction, assessment, and student achievement. We are implementing data-driven instruction by making data readily available to all teachers. The District has invested in a data management systems, "Illuminate", Online Assessment and Reporting System. Easily accessible and simple to use, Benchmark Advance Assessments, i-Ready and Illuminate allow teachers to access their students' performance data so that they can compare it to school-wide, district, state and national data to ascertain student performance and guide their efforts to individualize instruction, provide differentiated instruction that is responsive to the students' assessed needs and measure the effectiveness of their own instruction. Illuminate also allows administrators to assess the effectiveness of curriculum and support intervention programs. In addition, Illuminate and Data Zone provides data regarding criterion-referenced test performance (CAASPP and ELPAC), and writing samples, Benchmark assessments.

Teachers analyze the data from the different assessments students and modify their instruction to meet students' needs.

2. Use of data to monitor student progress on curriculum-embedded assessments and modify instruction (EPC)

Meyer uses the following state and local assessments to modify instruction and improve student achievement:

- *Benchmark Level Screener
- *ELPAC
- *Common Core State Standards based quizzes
- *EnVision Math Topic Test and Performance Tasks
- *I-Ready Diagnostic
- *I-Ready Standards Mastery
- *District Writing Assessments
- *Grade Level Designed Assessments
- *RAZ
- *SBAC

Staffing and Professional Development

3. Status of meeting requirements for highly qualified staff (ESEA)

All teachers are highly qualified and hired through the district. New teachers go through the BTSA program to receive mentoring from an experienced educator.

4. Sufficiency of credentialed teachers and teacher professional development (e.g., access to instructional materials training on SBE-adopted instructional materials) (EPC)

The district provides ongoing professional development including the ELA/ELD framework, PLCs by content and grade level on ELD Constructing Meaning, Common Core training in the areas of Math and English/Language Arts, and in the areas of Special Education.

5. Alignment of staff development to content standards, assessed student performance, and professional needs (ESEA)

Meyer's Road Map has explicit student goals that are aligned to staff development and professional learning systems.

- Teachers are encouraged to participate in district professional development that are explicitly aligned to Common Core State Standards and the district adopted curriculum.
- New teachers are provided the opportunity to participate in new teacher program through BTSA.
- All teachers will participate in school and district sponsored grade level meetings, which focus on standards-based adopted instructional programs.
- Thursday afternoon prep time will be used for individual and collaborative planning and sharing of "best practices".

6. Ongoing instructional assistance and support for teachers (e.g., use of content experts and instructional coaches) (EPC)

The principal, instructional leadership team, and instructional coach support staff through, providing staff development, conducting focused classroom demonstration lessons and observations, providing specific feedback to teachers on lessons and observations, assisting classroom teachers in diagnosing reading problems through analysis of assessments to help focus student instruction, supporting lesson planning, room environment and classroom management; and supporting and collaborating with site administrators.

7. Teacher collaboration by grade level (kindergarten through grade eight [K–8]) and department (grades nine through twelve) (EPC)

Grade Level collaboration is embedded into bi-weekly staff meetings, professional development, and designated collaboration days. Some grade-level, such as Transitional Kindergarten participate in monthly professional learning communities to collaborate around curriculum, assessment, and instruction.

Teaching and Learning

8. Alignment of curriculum, instruction, and materials to content and performance standards (ESEA)

Meyer has aligned curriculum instruction and materials to content and performance standards through the following practices:

- Teacher evaluation focuses on the California Standards for the Teaching Professions (CSTP).
- Kindergarten students receive a minimum of 90 minutes of standards-based language arts instruction and 30 minutes of ELD instruction daily.

- Grades (1-3) have a minimum of 2.5 hours of language arts standards based instruction plus 30 minutes of ELD.
- Grades (4-5) have a minimum of 2 hours of language arts standards-based instruction, 90 minutes of Language! plus 30 minutes of ELD.
- All textbooks and enrichment materials are aligned with district- adopted curriculum and CCSS.
- Each teacher and site administrator is accountable for the implementation of the district- adopted curriculum and Common Core Standards.
- Teachers collaborate twice a month to assist each other in planning, modeling lessons, instructional techniques to use to ensure full implementation of curriculum.

9. Adherence to recommended instructional minutes for reading/language arts and mathematics (K–8) (EPC)

Meyer Elementary School adheres to the recommended instructional minutes for reading / language arts mathematics. Pacing schedule is used in all of the adopted reading/language arts and mathematics programs by grade level.

10. Lesson pacing schedule (K–8) and master schedule flexibility for sufficient numbers of intervention courses (EPC)

The district provides pacing guides that are flexible enough to provide intervention courses and instruction for student needing additional support.

11. Availability of standards-based instructional materials appropriate to all student groups (ESEA)

Teachers have all standard based instructional materials to meet the needs of all students and to ensure that we are teaching CCSS.

Meyer has ensured the availability of standard-based instructional materials for all students through the following practices:

- Common Core Standards aligned learning objectives are posted and visible for the students to view in every classroom.
- The school has academic materials from the State-Adopted list (K-5) aligned with the standards. Common core curriculum maps are also used to aligned with our state adopted curriculum.
- Teachers will examine samples of student work monthly at grade level meetings to ensure that students are mastering grade level standards.

- Teacher prepared, weekly lesson plans make explicit reference to the standards that are implemented. At the beginning of each lesson, objectives will be posted.

- Consumables are provided for the implementation of the standards-based instructional programs.
- Standards-based assessments are utilized at the school site.
- Curriculum mapping will be implemented to assess instructional alignment with standards.
- Curriculum maps will be used to assess alignment of instruction.
- Student work samples are used to assess alignment of instruction with content standards.

12. Use of SBE-adopted and standards-aligned instructional materials, including intervention materials, and for high school students, access to standards-aligned core courses (EPC)

All district provided curriculum is State Board of Education approved.

Description of Barriers and Related School Goals

There are some school, district and community barriers to improvements in student achievement:

Meyer has identified barriers to improvement in the following areas:

- Many of our students are not meeting grade level proficiency on state and local assessments, including our English Language Learners.
- Our attendance rates are not as high as we would like, and student absences interfere with student achievement. Our daily attendance goal for 2018-2019 is 97%.
- Meyer will ensure early identification of academically at-risk students and guarantee quality staffing and interventions to best meet their needs.
- Staff will continue to maintain a strong focus in meeting the needs of at-risk students.
