

Center for Academic Achievement Position Announcement

2019-20 Academic Year

(Full or part-time)

Tilton School seeks a qualified Specialist to teach full or part-time in the Tilton School Center for Academic Achievement. Specific teaching duties include working one-on-one or in small tutorial groups with a wide range of students, developing effective learning habits (e.g., time management and organization skills) and improving student academic skills in reading and writing.

The Specialist will work under the supervision of the Director of the Center for Academic Achievement.

Preference will be given to candidates who have

- experience with a range of ed-tech strategies to promote learning
- demonstrable skills in oral and written communication
- training in and understanding of diverse learning abilities, differentiated instruction, special education, universal design for learning, and assessment
- skill at managing multi-faceted work within a supportive learning community
- experience with curriculum design strategies (e.g., Understanding-by-Design or Teach-For-Understanding and/or Design-Thinking).

A typical teaching position at Tilton School involves both after-school activities and weeknight-weekend supervision.

Other duties include

- advising
- participation as an athletic coach or activities leader for two seasons each year, and involvement in the School's residential life program.

New employees will attend a week-long new faculty workshop July 30-August 1.

To apply

Interested applicants should send a cover letter, resume and contact information for three references to employment@tiltonschool.org.
