Shelton: a Real School with Spirit

Shelton School has been a leader in the education of children with dyslexia and related disorders for over 35 years. Dr. Shelton began with 48 students in space rented from the Church of Religious Science. Even though the teaching conditions were not the best in those first years, the children thrived because they were able to feel proud of what they could do for the first time in their school career. Since those days, we have incorporated four reading therapy programs into our curriculum. In other areas of the country, families are thrilled if their school has one trained reading specialist, much less an entire program that prescribes a specific plan for each student.

In spite of our nationally recognized academic program, the hardest area to grow in a school such as Shelton is school spirit. Many families feel that Shelton is just a detour in their child's education. Believing that Shelton can work its magic in a matter of a few years, they enter Shelton with their eye on the day they can return to their "real" school. We moved to our beautiful Ward campus to add on our high school, making Shelton more of a real school. We have worked together to build school spirit, because this gives us all something more our families can be proud of.

We create school spirit by promoting success, one small measure at a time. Here are some ways we've done it:

- Success banners – a board member suggested we put up banners of famous successful people with learning differences. We did, and then we added banners of Shelton students who have been successful. You see them every time you enter our campus.
- Expanded offerings to develop and showcase talents
 - Clubs – we've added things like photography and American Sign Language
 - Band – we've grown the program a year at a time and now win real awards. We also have a new Drumline.
 - Choir – we've added a new group that covers more grade levels – they go to real-world places to perform
 - A student newsletter that focuses on Upper School news— students, some published authors, capture and tell their own real successes in The Lasso
- Spirit organizations – we now have cheerleaders, Charger Girls, not one but three mascots, school ambassadors – just like other real schools. And we have dedicated personnel to mentor and train the groups.
- Celebrations, both small and large – from an ice cream party to reward a few volunteers, to a schoolwide pep rally that involves students from Early Childhood to seniors

- Spirit Days – planned dates where we wear Shelton blue and white and gather in the gym to send off teams for a playoff
- Parent booster groups – dads that sponsor football tailgate parties and moms that make desserts for theater productions
- Top-notch facilities – a real kitchen and renovated Dining Hall; a digital billboard at the main entrance to show you Shelton at-a-glance
- Pursuing awards for Shelton – like our Business of the Year award from the North Dallas Chamber of Commerce or our Top 100 Places to Work Dallas Morning News award
- Spotighting our students in Good Kids in the Dallas Morning News
- Community service – getting our students and staff out into the community to help others, thereby building more community within
- Shelton Pride – every year we produce a booklet that spells out the many student accomplishments throughout the year, including the fact that our graduates get accepted to over 90 colleges and universities.
- Fostering the student's well-being – creating balance and well-being is our theme this year. Adding a good measure of spirit is good for one's health

Little by little we grow school spirit. When Shelton hosted the recent Private School Preview for over 105 schools and 1,100 attendees, we overheard some parents say as they entered the building, "Wow, Shelton is a real school." Yes, and one with real school spirit.

Development Doings

Theresa Bruno, CRFE, Director of Development

Supporting Shelton

Since 1976, Shelton School has remained true to founder Dr. June Shelton's values, philosophy and commitment to excellence by providing a quality education for students who learn differently. We are grateful for our faculty and staff for their dedication to Shelton's mission and for their energy and commitment to our students.

Shelton School is a special place for learning different students. Our students are talented and our educational programs are unique and tailored to help them succeed. We are making a difference in the lives of students every day.

Our success is made possible through the generous support of our Shelton community. Thank you for being part of our community and for helping us continue our mission. We are grateful.

A Special Thank You from the 2010-2011 Annual Fund Co-Chairs

On behalf of the entire Shelton community, we express our deepest appreciation to everyone who supported Shelton's 2010-11 Annual Fund Drive. Through your generosity and support we were able to raise $614,000 in contributions! Because of you, Shelton School remains a premier school for our learning different students and for that we are truly grateful.

Thank you so much for your support,
Evan and Susan Griffiths, parents of E.J. (2015)

New Dining Hall Benefits Shelton Community

The summer of 2011 was one to remember for Shelton! Not only did we have a flood that required major renovations, but we were also able to complete construction, on time, of Shelton's new Dining Hall and kitchen. These facilities benefit all our students and enable us to provide hot, nutritious lunches for students and staff in a comfortable and welcoming environment. Special thanks to all our supporters who made this wonderful dream a reality for our community!

Shelton School Assuring the Future Endowment Campaign

The Board of Directors, Endowment Committee and Development Office continue to work on Shelton's multi-year $10,000,000 Assuring the Future Endowment Campaign. Special thanks to co-chairs Gary Webb and Richard Cheatham, volunteers, and supporters for their commitment to the campaign.

The success of this campaign will ensure that Shelton continues to set and meet the highest standards in educating learning-different students. There are many opportunities available to help support the Endowment Campaign. The Development Office staff would be delighted to discuss with you how your gift can both fulfill your own wishes and meet the needs of Shelton.

2011-2012 Annual Fund: Today for Tomorrow

The Annual Fund is the first and most important way to support Shelton. Gifts to the Annual Fund help support the daily operations that make Shelton an extraordinary place where well-prepared teachers teach the way our students learn.

As with most private schools, tuition alone does not cover the total cost of educating a Shelton student. Tuition covers only 79% of the actual cost. All gifts to Shelton's Annual Fund help bridge the gap to meet operating expenses such as building maintenance, professional development, and classroom materials, ensuring that Shelton School remains the best learning environment for all our students.

Of Annual Funds raised to date, $9,500 were received as a match from the 2011 North Texas Giving Day coordinated by the Communities Foundation of Texas.

Shelton Receives Grant for Anti-Bullying Programs

Shelton has received a grant of $6,500 from RBC Wealth Management Foundation to fund several Shelton workshops on anti-bullying. "These workshops will be a great addition to our offerings, and they will assist our counselors and teachers in their daily work with students," says Linda Kneese, Head of School. "This will help us provide awareness and education on a most important topic needed by all students and educators in today's environment," says Suzanne Stell, Executive Director. Shelton parent and board member Andy Teller, Senior Managing Director with RBC Wealth Management, presented Shelton with a check in October.

Outreach Offerings:

Intensive Multisensory, Structured Language Training: The Ripple Effect

Nancy Coffman, MS, LDT, CALT, QI Director of Outreach / Training

Nancy Coffman

Current research tells us that if students are given strong, structured core reading instruction, fewer will struggle with reading. If those who struggle receive short term, small group instruction in their area of difficulty, fewer will need intensive small group instruction. That intensive small group instruction is what we refer to as multisensory structured language (MSL) education. Following that logic, if teachers have the knowledge and skills to deliver the intensive MSL intervention, they can also address the needs of the students who need basic instruction and those who need short term support.

In the summer of 2010, Shelton Outreach entered into a contract with the State Department of Education in Alabama to train teachers to the level of therapists in MSL education. This training was offered to teachers across the state. At this time there are 98 teachers (three cohorts) in Alabama who have received training from Shelton Outreach.

Alabama teachers are part of ripple success

To assess the impact of these teachers on their school communities, the first State Department Cohort was asked to complete a survey. They were asked how many students received the intensive intervention and how many students had received short-term support. We also asked if they had delivered in-service instruction to their colleagues and if they had implemented any programs on their campuses. Finally we asked how many students had received support based on those in-service trainings and programs.

First, let us consider the impact of the training on the colleagues of those trained.

|--|-----|
| Teachers in the initial cohort | 32 |
| Teachers receiving in-service training from those teachers | 285 |

The results on student impact were astonishing! The 32 therapist candidates from that first cohort reported the following:

|--|------|
| Students receiving intensive intervention | 167 |
| Students receiving short term support | 498 |
| Students receiving support resulting from in-services provided | 1091 |
| Total students receiving support impacted by MSL training | 1756 |

The state invested in the intensive training of 32 teachers. That investment would appear to be a solid one! Within 12 months of beginning their training, on average, each of the teachers had impacted the professional knowledge of 8.9 other teachers and impacted the learning of 54.9 children. The number that we will never know is the number of students who never know failure because their teachers are more informed and more knowledgeable.

Shelton Consults with Benjamin Franklin International School in Spain

The Shelton Outreach Center is consulting with Benjamin Franklin International School (BFIS), helping this fine international school with its goal to teach their students in ways that they learn best. As with all schools in all countries, BFIS has students with average and advanced skills, as well as bright children with learning differences. To better understand the needs of those who process information differently, BFIS turned to Shelton for advice and training.

BFIS is an international school with some 600 students located in the Sarria area of Barcelona. Instruction is in English, and Spanish and Catalan are also taught. The middle and upper school have an International Baccalaureate program.

Drs. Robert and Joyce Pickering traveled to consult with the school for a week last November. After much ongoing dialogue, Shelton was invited to work with the school in Barcelona for seven weeks this school year.

Joyce S. Pickering, Hum. D.
Executive Director Emeritus

Nancy Coffman, Director of the Outreach Center, and Joyce Pickering, Shelton's Executive Director Emeritus, spent three weeks at BFIS earlier this fall. They screened students who were already identified for learning support services, gave workshops to the staff and trained a group of staff to deliver the Sequential English Education (SEE) approach. SEE is one of the language therapy methods used at Shelton to teach reading, writing and spelling. It is effective with beginning readers as well as those who may be struggling to learn to read for a variety of reasons, including learning differences and English as an additional language.

Two additional trips to Spain are scheduled for January and May. Mrs. Coffman and Dr. Joyce Pickering will evaluate the implementation of the program and supervise year-end progress testing.

This special consultancy began when a family from Barcelona moved to Dallas so that one of their daughters could attend Shelton for two years. Returning to Barcelona, these parents inspired the staff of BFIS to seek Shelton's help, so that other students could receive the same help as their daughter. Shelton is pleased to share its model with other international schools that want to help all of their students.

Partnership Benefits J.W. Ray Elementary School

Ellie Halpin, CALT, Scholars Coordinator

Ellie Halpin

The Shelton Outreach Department is partnering with Church of the Incarnation and the Boone Family Foundation to provide training and support of a literacy project at J.W. Ray Elementary School. Located in the Roseland Community of Dallas, J.W. Ray has a group of 47 devoted teachers and support staff, lead by Onjaleke Brown, their dynamic principal. This exciting project kicked off in July with a three-week Scholars program using the Sequential English Education (SEE) method of reading, writing and spelling remediation, mirrored after the Shelton Scholars program. Twenty volunteers from Church of the Incarnation and J.W. Ray received the two-day tutor training and immediately began working with 16 at-risk students for the next three weeks.

Dr. Joyce Pickering, Executive Director Emeritus, and Ellie Halpin, Scholars Coordinator, provided onsite support and continuous training to Kimothy Case, J.W. Ray's coordinator, and her team of tutors. One of the tutors shared comments about a student at the end of the three-week program, "I have seen great improvement in his distinguishing letters and sounds. He reads and listens to all of the words more consistently." This insight was shared by many of the tutors working individually with their students.

To ensure that all 335 students at J.W. Ray could be successful readers, we knew that we had to broaden the scope of training and instruction. In September 2011, 25 teachers and staff began training in our Multisensory Structured Language Course using SEE with the goal of teacher level certification for all. All of the students in grades K-4th and at-risk fifth-grade students would receive direct, remedial instruction in reading, writing and spelling. This program began October 17, with 45 minutes of SEE instruction provided daily to all students.

With Shelton's level of expertise in SEE, J.W. Ray's motivated, enthusiastic teachers, and support from Church of the Incarnation and the Boone Family Foundation, we anticipate measurable levels of improvement in literacy, thus having a positive impact upon the community, the school and, most importantly, the child.

Screenings Identify Developmental Delays and Help with Early Intervention

The goal of our Speech Clinic staff is always to help families by identifying children with developmental delays and to provide early intervention. This is important, not only in filling gaps in development, but in maintaining a high level of self-esteem for students. One way we accomplish this goal is to perform vision, hearing and speech and language screenings at various private schools in the Metroplex. The screening program starts in August and our last screening is usually conducted sometime in January. This fall we have already completed screenings at 13 schools.

There are a number of children identified by this process who might not otherwise receive the benefits of early intervention. Often parents of preschoolers, especially first children, are not aware of the normal developmental sequence and may not realize that their child has a speech or language delay. In other cases, parents may be aware of a problem but cannot define or describe it and are not sure where to go for help. Our screening process includes individual consultation and referrals for appropriate services. A number of children identified in screenings are seen for therapy at our clinic, and some of them seek admission to Shelton School.

The Speech Clinic continues to provide speech-language evaluations and therapy for students at Shelton, other private schools in the Dallas area, and children in the community. In addition to Greenhill, Parish Episcopal and Mt. St. Michael's Catholic School, we are also providing services to Preston Hollow, Christ the King and Golden Rule, a charter school in Dallas. We provide in-services for other private schools on the topics of language and speech development and early at-risk signs for learning differences. We have also participated in monthly meetings with staff from Children's Medical Center and Callier Center at the University of Texas at Dallas in order to inform them of our services. To inquire about in-services, please contact Marilyn Aaron at Ext. 2282.

Staff Updates

We are pleased to have Stephanie Weatherford join our team as administrative assistant. In addition, Lindsay Neuman, a speech therapist in the Clinic, recently has married Michael Cobert.

We are enjoying a busy and productive year in the Speech Clinic.

Clinic Features Pam Marshalla in Conference

The Shelton Speech / Language / Hearing Clinic presented Pam Marshalla, M.A., CCC-SLP in a conference on November 12. Over 100 speech language therapists from throughout the state attended the event. Marshalla is a nationally known therapist, speaker and author. Marshalla worked with therapists on maximizing students' time in treatment for persistent articulation errors.

Shelton Evaluation Center

Laure Ames, Ph.D., Director

The Evaluation Center has been busy with the start of the school year. Our more recent clients have come to us from all over the United States and also from Europe and Asia. Parents usually want an evaluation because they have concerns about some type of learning difficulty that their child is having. These might include:

- Problem with attention or with sitting still
- Difficulty reading or with understanding what has been read
- Illegible handwriting, or not being able to get work done in a reasonable amount of time
- Anxiety and other types of emotional difficulties
- Problems with social interactions

Regardless of the initial concern, all parents want to better understand their child so that appropriate help can be obtained. Our goal at the Shelton Evaluation Center is to obtain a comprehensive picture of the client's functioning so that we can make recommendations that will facilitate success at home and school. Through our evaluation process, we give parents a roadmap that helps them navigate the challenging road of raising a child with learning difficulties. We have a highly trained and experienced staff to help in this process:

Susan Fleming, Ph.D. B.A. and M.A. in Speech Pathology and Audiology, SMU • Ph.D. in Communication Disorders, UTD • National Lecture Staff of the Gesell Institute of Human Development • Director Greenhill Preschool 1975-1981 • Former director Shelton Evaluation Center before semi-retirement in 2009

Stephanie McCain, M.A. B.A. in Psychology and M.A. in Clinical/Counseling Psychology, SMU • Joined Shelton Evaluation Center 2006 • Previously worked in the research department at a New Mexico VA Hospital conducting neuropsychological batteries • Private practice experience performing neuropsychological evaluations with adults and children • Experience administering dementia testing at a rehabilitation hospital • Licensed Psychological Associate • Licensed Professional Counselor Intern

Amy Rollo, M.A. B.A. in Psychology, Texas A&M University • M.A. in Clinical/Counseling Psychology, SMU • Joined Shelton Evaluation Center 2009 • Was Administrative Research Coordinator, Shelton School - helped manage multisite research study that investigated innovative non-medication treatments for AD/HD • Private practice experience performing neuropsychological evaluations and psychotherapy on adults • Specialized in psycho-educational assessments at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children • Licensed Psychological Associate • Licensed Professional Counselor Intern

I am pleased to announce the latest addition to our staff: Jacqueline Pack, Ph.D. B.S. in Psychology, Northern Illinois University • M.A. in Developmental Psychology and Ph.D. in Educational Psychology, The University of Texas at Austin • 25 years in a variety of settings conducting psycho-educational, neuropsychological, and forensic evaluations of children and adolescents and supervising psychology interns and trainees • Specialization in the assessment of preschool children and children with Autism Spectrum Disorders • Experience in rural and urban school districts, private practice, and the juvenile justice system • Taught at the University of Texas at San Antonio and Trinity University, training teachers and school psychology students

Our Shelton team is able to consult with two respected colleagues in our community:

Peter L. Stavinoha, Ph.D. Licensed psychologist and board certified by the American Board of Professional Psychology in the specialty area of Clinical Neuropsychology • Manages Neuropsychology Service, Children's Medical Center • Professor of Psychology, Department of Psychiatry at University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas • Private practice, Richardson, TX

Laurel Bass Wagner, Ph.D. Licensed clinical psychologist with specialized training and experience in psychological and personality assessment • Clinical Associate Professor of Psychology, Department of Psychiatry, University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas • Private practice, Dallas, TX

Finally, I have years of personal and professional experience that help me understand how to assist children with learning difficulties. I have a Master's degree in Counseling Psychology, a Ph.D. in Psychology, and am licensed as both a Psychological Associate and as a Licensed Professional Counselor. After working in psychiatric hospitals for ten years, a personal commitment to understanding and helping learning different children led me to join the staff at Shelton in 1993. I became the Director of the Shelton Evaluation Center in 2009 and am blessed to work with such experienced colleagues and wonderful clients.

The Shelton Evaluation Center is unique in the Dallas area because our experienced staff is capable of offering multiple kinds of evaluations and integrating the information obtained from them. Please call Ext. 2243 if you have any questions about how we may work together in order to best understand our children.

We went on a field trip to the farm and pumpkin patch.

We rode on a big bus. Our bus driver's name was Joe.

First, went on a hayride.

We saw a horse, pigs, sheep, cows, goats, chickens, turkeys, donkeys, llamas, mules and emus.

Then, we ate a snack.

Next, we watched an animal show. We cheered on the pigs running fast.

We cheered for Wilber! He got 2nd place.

After that, we milked a cow.

We saw many animals today!

We went in a maze. Everyone found the way out!

We picked out the perfect pumpkins.

We had a picnic lunch.

Finally, we went to recess. There were fun slides!

After recess we got back on the bus and returned to Shelton!

Zelinsky Engages Students with Drawing and Stories

The Upper Elementary and Lower School divisions welcomed author / illustrator Paul O. Zelinsky to campus on October 14. Zelinsky, a Caldecott Medal and Honors winner (Rapunzel, Hansel and Gretel, Rumpelstilskin, Swan Angel), told students how he drew compulsively from an early age, later to have it become his career. Several Upper Elementary students were lucky contest winners of a lunch with the author. Zelinsky's visit was a day filled with wonderment and inspiration. Librarians Sarah Broz, Barbara Katz and Margaret Simmons coordinated the day.

Togetherness Picnic Is Fall Highlight

The Upper Elementary division enjoyed one of its favorite traditions on October 7. Students, faculty and staff took to the athletic fields for a day of fun at the Togetherness Picnic, an annual event structured to help students understand and participate in togetherness. In preparation for the day, students created their written definitions of the word "together" on paper slips that were joined together in a chain and paraded at the picnic. Other activities included a fifth-grade tug-of-war, as well as other field games for all grade levels. Students enjoyed the outdoor picnic on a glorious fall day, which ended with a gathering to sing the Shelton Alma Mater from the second floor railing.

Project Heroes Presents Singing Quarterback

Neal Jeffrey spoke for the first Project Heroes program of the year. Jeffrey, a pastor at Prestonwood Baptist Church, has been a stutterer since childhood. A former All-American quarterback at Baylor University and later for the San Diego Chargers, he told students that he learned to sing out his football plays instead of speaking them, thus becoming known as “the singing quarterback.” He inspired students by telling them, “Throw out the ‘I can’t,’ ‘I’ll never make it,’ and ‘I’m not good enough.’ Dream big, believe with your heart, show up, and make a play.” Project Heroes features speakers who have overcome obstacles and gone on to lead productive, rewarding lives. Seniors Reflect at Retreat

The class of 2012 gathered at the home of classmate Allen Levy in October for a day of retreat. Students discussed a variety of topics—what it's like to be a senior, going off to college, and other future hopes and plans. In addition, the group enjoyed burgers, hotdogs, fun and fellowship. The retreat is one of several traditional events for seniors to be held throughout the year.

StuCo News

The Upper School Student Council, led by President Sarah Davis, has had a whirlwind of fall activities. After a fantastic homecoming week, chaired by Barrett Cole and her committee, student representatives have moved forward to new projects. Operation Respect/Beautiful kicked off in mid-October, with the goal of encouraging male students to elevate their level of respect for one another, and affirming with female students that they are beautiful just the way they are. This project is chaired by Meredith Cook. StuCo also coordinated the annual Halloween Carnival for fifth-graders and the annual Thanksgiving Feast. Upcoming projects include an Energy Dance in early December. Finally, Student Council continues to help Shelton with a productive and beneficial recycling program, chaired by Katherine Freel. It's Cool to Read

Two new clubs—Man Cave Book Club and the High School Girls' Book Club—are up and running. Students enjoy a Chick Fil A for lunch while everybody reports about the book they're reading. The new clubs have been a hit with Upper School students.

Book Fair Draws Entire School

The annual Scholastic Book Fair took place November 7 – 11. Parents, students and staff flooded the Lower School Library and perused an array of books for every reading pleasure. Parents popped into the library during parent conference days or while they were on campus for early morning or lunch events. Shelton's book fair is coordinated by a dedicated groups of parent volunteers. Some $48,000 was raised during this year's event—$6,000 in book donations goes to Fort Hood for their Christmas store. Another $10,000 will benefit Shelton's own libraries.

Professional Section Open to Parents

The third floor Upper School Library has a new "Professional" section with the latest information on Montessori methods, ADHD, Dyslexia and parenting. Several movies are also available for checkout. Parents and teachers may visit any time during the school day.

Staff Includes New Library Media Coordinator

Melissa Harrison is Shelton's new Library Media Coordinator. She formerly taught English and College Writing in the Upper School. Reading is her top priority and she wants every student at Shelton to visit the library and check out a book! Says Harrison to students, "If you don't know what to read, just ask your librarian. But read, read, read!"

Shelton collaborates with major entities involved in research. Our ultimate goal is to use the best educational practice to benefit our student population, as well as to help their parents. Throughout the years, our staff members have collaborated with The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center, UTD Center for BrainHealth, Children's Medical Center, Texas Instruments, as well as with a number of independent researchers. Presently Shelton is working with The University of Texas at Arlington and Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children. Areas of research include Dyslexia and Attention Deficit Hyperactive Disorder, Language Disorders, Occupational Therapy, Auditory Processing, the teaching of Math with three-dimensional teaching tools, and the effect of parent support for the learning-different student and his success in academics and school activities.

Joyce Pickering

A longitudinal study of students with language disorders and learning differences was conducted over an eight-year period. Drs. Curt McIntyre and Joyce Pickering reported on the Language Intervention Study (LI) research of the last four years at the International Dyslexia Association's recent annual conference.

The reported LI data was collected on the same group of students over a four-year period. These Shelton students ranged from the Early Childhood (EC) level through Grade 6. In this approach, all of the teachers in EC through Grade 4 were Montessori-trained. In each class at least one teacher was a Speech Language Pathologist and all of the teachers were trained in the DuBard Association Method. Students in EC- Grade 4 also received Occupational Therapy twice a week. In Grades 5 and 6 the students continued to be instructed in the DuBard Association Method.

The DuBard Association Method, written by Drs. Etoile DuBard and Maureen Martin at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg, MS, was created specifically for students with oral language disorders. The combination of this effective therapy with the multisensory Montessori method was a unique feature of this study.

The results showed that the students in the LI program made continual progress over the four years of the study. Most of the students improved their expressive language skills to reach a low average range of functioning. Without the intensive program they received, many students would have remained at the lowest end of expressive language skills and suffered significant communication difficulties.

These students improved academically in reading rate, reading accuracy, reading comprehension, math, and written expressions. It was particularly impressive that the written language skills of the LI students equaled the writing skills of those attending Shelton who were assigned to other remedial programs and who had less complex language learning differences.

For a PowerPoint presentation that shows the progress of the students in the LI study, please see the Shelton website.

For information about any of these research projects, contact Stephanie Weatherford in the Research Office at Shelton, 972.774.1772, Ext. 2512.

Spotlight on Sports and Physical Education

George Teague – Athletic Director / Director of Physical Education

Chuck Locke – Middle School Athletic Coordinator

Jennifer Davis – Physical Education Coordinator

The Athletic Department staff and coaches are committed to providing students with an unmatched experience during their school career. Our coaches are experienced and proven in their sport and possess a motivational gift to bring out the best in performance. We also focus on coordination, strength and conditioning with our student-athletes. We take pride in our facilities that are maintained to enhance players' abilities. Finally, we prosper by upholding integrity, sportsmanship, respect, responsibility, and leadership. Our holistic approach to physical education and athletics, along with individual focus on each participant, culminates in winning seasons and championships, a sense of pride and well-being for all involved, and the greatest sense of camaraderie among athletes.

Within the last year we have celebrated some amazing success stories:

- Our boys basketball team competed in the final four tournament
- Our tennis team placed 2nd in the state
- Our golf team placed 3rd in the state
- Our boys baseball team competed in the playoffs
- We had several runners and throwers compete in the state track and field meet
- We had numerous All District awards across all sports
- We had a state champion in boys cross country
- We have over 80 fifth through eighth-graders involved in our Triple Click jump rope program

Through physical education, we see improvements daily in mastering skills and developing social skills. Using programs designed to empower students, Shelton's dedication and performance from our staff and student-athletes extend beyond playing fields and to academic pursuits above all else. The support network of the faculty and staff, in conjunction with the student, creates a win-win situation for all.

Middle School Drama

Middle School drama students have commanded the Barton Fine Arts Center this fall. Sixth-graders performed the comedy After Hours in early November. Seventh-graders followed with their production of Cinderella and the Substitute Fairy Godmother. Eighth-grade drama students presented a world premiere comedy called Good Cop, Bad Cop, rounding off a full calendar of events.

Lower School Drama

Students in the Lower School have hammed it up in their readings of Hunter King.

Art Abounds

Studio 7, the Middle School art room, is the place for developing drawing skills, sculpting with recycled materials and clay, making original linoleum block prints and watercolor painting. Students have been learning the elements and principles of design, while exploring personal themes. Gallery Days are scheduled each six weeks to showcase the art for parents.

Community Connections Beyond the Campus

Middle School Student Council Involved with Numerous Projects

The Middle School Student Council held a jeans day to raise funds for the Susan G. Komen Foundation. They collected $877 from students who were happy to pay for the privilege to wear jeans to school. The Student Council then added $123 from their snack cart profits to round out their Komen contribution to $1,000. Their next project is collecting money for the Seven Loaves Food Pantry.

Shelton Families Work Together Throughout the Year

Shelton's Families program has focused on several fall community service projects. The first benefited the Susan G. Komen Foundation. Students supported the Race for the Cure by saving and redeeming Yoplait Yogurt lids (Saving Lids to Save Lives) and by participating in the October 15 5K Race for the Cure.

Students Walk for Autism Speaks

On November 12 members of the Shelton community participated in the Walk Now for Autism Speaks event in Grand Prairie. Shelton parent Adrienne Bransky invited the June Shelton Team, organized by Upper School student Hira Prakash, to join her team of family and friends at their Bransky Bunch Tent. Everyone had fun raising awareness for a worthy cause.

Students Help with Private School Preview

Shelton hosted the annual Private School Preview for the Independent Schools Admission Association Dallas (ISAAD) on September 25. Over 105 private schools exhibited at the event, which was attended by some 1,100 attendees. Parents from all across the Metroplex came to the event to get information about private schools and to interface with their respective representatives.

Shelton's Middle School Ambassadors and Student Council members, along with numerous Upper School students, served as greeters and helpers for the occasion. They escorted vendors and helped them set up and strike their booths. They also directed guests and representatives throughout the event. Shelton students reported that they had a great time interacting with all guests.

Shelton is known for student, staff and parent involvement in a wide arena of community service. It's a thread that runs through the fabric of all activities at Shelton. In 2010-2011, Upper School students alone performed a total of 9,449 hours of service. From Eagle Scouts projects, to collecting for such agencies as The Stewpot, Shelton builds community by serving others and making the community a brighter place for many in need.

Accolades

Shelton Is NDCC 2011 Business of the Year

Shelton is the recipient of the North Dallas Chamber of Commerce (NDCC) 2011 Business of the Year award. Twelve companies were nominated for this honor, which was announced October 18 at the NDCC's annual awards luncheon.

Shelton staff members were interviewed extensively on two occasions as part of the nomination process.

Shelton has been a member of the NDCC since 2002, with several active committee members on the Education Committee. Shelton has hosted the NDCC AM Exchange, participated in the Take a Student to Work Day, and, most recently, hosted the Education Committee and made a presentation on how schools are using technology.

Suzanne Stell, in her acceptance comments, thanked attendees for the honor. "This will mean so much to our Shelton community. It is another stamp of endorsement for those who send their children to Shelton, some of whom think having a child with learning differences is the end of the world. It is not. Some businesses change the world. We change the world at Shelton, one student at a time. This is a real vote of confidence for us, and we are all proud."

Shelton's Speech Clinic, Evaluation Center, and Outreach Center were also recognized at the event.

"I was fortunate to play a role in the selection of the Business of the Year," says Chamber member Nancy Joslin of The Moore Landscape Group. "As a committee, we have strict criteria involving fiscal and community responsibility, past achievement and future plans, and generally how the candidates view their role in the delivery of goods or services. I was honored to be one of the interviewers of the final three. We were overcome with enthusiasm when we presented Shelton to the committee."

Shelton has brought so much to the students and families of the area. It is our honor and duty to recognize this excellence."

Shelton Is a Top 100

Shelton is one of the Dallas Morning News Top 100 Places to Work 2011. Shelton employees went online to complete an extensive survey about the workplace this past summer. Out of 1,150 local companies that participated in the survey, Shelton was pleased to have advanced to the top 100. Suzanne Stell and Anne Thomas represented Shelton employees at the DMN luncheon on November 9.

Houpt Creates and Judges Art

Middle School Art instructor Sherry Houpt had original art work included in two fall exhibits, From Sandy Beaches to Vibrant Arts, the 30th anniversary exhibit at the Bath House Cultural Center, and Ghost Stories at the Art Hotel Gallery in the Cedars Art District. She also was a juror for On Our Own Time, the annual Business Council for the Arts exhibit at Northpark Mall.

From Their Applications...

I believe Shelton has a team of evaluators that can lead schools to provide better services to children. I am looking forward to working with a group of professional, well-educated and highly motivated staff at Shelton.

Jacquelyn Pack, Ph.D.

When I found out I would be moving to Dallas, I learned about Shelton School almost immediately through its impressive reputation. After some research about the school, I found that my personal education mission and the school's mission are very much aligned. When I spoke with the staff at the school, I quickly recognized the community was one I would be proud to be a part of.

Cait Kraus

I always feel rewarded seeing students grow and learn through the Arts. Having this position and being given the opportunity to teach students about themselves and the world around them through drama would be extremely satisfying.

2010-2011 Report of Gifts and Sources

From Our Board Members

My family and I relocated from Chicago to Dallas so that our three children could attend Shelton. By serving on the board, I gain valuable insights into Shelton's strategic course, latest research and greatest needs. This allows my wife Kathy and me to contribute our time and resources in the most meaningful way.

Kevin Hanrahan, father of Emily (13), Ben (12) and Quincy (10)

The luxury attached to being a board member is meeting the many families who are quick to share the life-saving experiences that they and their children have encountered by becoming a Shelton family member. This is a very gratifying experience for me as well.

Benton Markey

Our family is forever thankful to Shelton for giving Andrew the structure, skills and support needed for future learning and success. His years at Shelton were the most influential to his development. I am always so proud of Shelton and we are fortunate to have this amazing resource in our community. I am honored to stay involved and serve as needed.

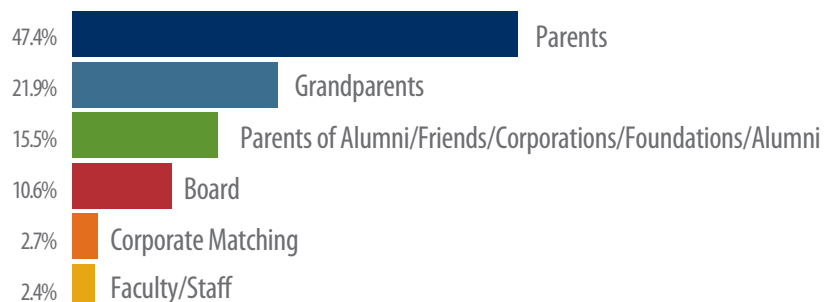

Dee Velvin

As a parent of a former student, it is a tremendous honor to serve on the Shelton School Board of Directors. It offers me the opportunity to give back to an organization that believes in giving children who learn differently a chance to build a foundation for success. I am so grateful for what Shelton provides for students in our community and far beyond.

How Will You Change the World?

Jeff Baker - I'm going to learn all I can, work hard, think outside the box, and tackle any and all problems that are put before me.

Monica Parssinen - I can help the world become a healthier place by fulfilling my dream of becoming a doctor and treating people who are sick and helpless, especially in some poor countries of the world.

(from survey questionnaire posed by the Dallas Morning News)

Jeff Baker, Valedictorian and Monica Parssinen, Salutatorian

Delphi

Delphi is a small town in the mountains of Greece where the famous oracle of Apollo supposedly took place, announcing the future. It is a symbol for seeking to know and shape the future.

To honor those individuals who seek to shape the future of Shelton School, the Delphi Society was established in 2003. The Society recognizes and thanks alumni and friends of Shelton who have created provisions in their wills or estate plans to benefit Shelton School.

From the Chairman

I would like to welcome our new families to the Shelton community and welcome back all our existing families. Shelton continues to grow and mature with the help and guidance of our outstanding staff and administration.

As you see, our very eventful summer brought about major changes in our ground floor common areas and we now have a wonderful kitchen and dining hall to serve our children and staff. I want to thank all the very generous donors who made this long awaited addition possible.

Our top priority this year is building our endowment to insure our future. With your support, Shelton can continue to serve our children, the Dallas community and reach out to other communities with help for their educational needs.

Have a great year.
