This year we have been involved with numerous activities that connect us to others — highly important as we strive to provide best educational practices for our students and clients, as well as the soundest resources for our parents and staff.

ISAS Reaccreditation 10-Year Site Visit

Nineteen representatives from Independent Schools Association of the Southwest (ISAS) visited Shelton in late September, culminating a year-long self-assessment by Shelton for reaccreditation by ISAS. The ISAS team, all members from various other ISAS private schools, met with Shelton faculty, staff, administration, board, and parent constituents to discuss findings of an organizational self-study. We have received ISAS' preliminary report that highly commends Shelton for its operations. Shelton ISAS team leaders are evaluating the recommendations for improvement as we await a final report. This rigorous and extensive process will be the impetus for healthy change as we move toward Shelton's 40th anniversary. I am grateful to all who were involved in this self-examination, as it provides the opportunity for us to grow in meaningful ways. Shelton has been accredited by ISAS since 2004-05.

Collaboration with Local and National Organizations

Shelton has collaborated with numerous entities this fall to share information and resources. In September we linked with 16 other area private schools as part of Common Ground, a joint speaker series. We sponsored best-selling author Po Bronson in a program for parents.

SPEAKER SERIES

In October, during Dyslexia Awareness Month, we joined with Learning Ally, Dallas Branch International Dyslexia Association, Decoding Dyslexia - TX, and Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children / Luke Waites Center for Dyslexia and Learning Disorders to host a showing of The Big Picture — Rethinking Dyslexia at the Angelika movie theater in Plano. The movie, which played at eight other cities, captured the myths, stigmas and truths about dyslexia, and showed how we can create a positive culture for dyslexic learners. On hand were Andrew Friedman, CEO of Learning Ally, and Geraldine (Tincy) Miller, Representative District 12, Texas State Board of Education.

I value our partnerships with these and other organizations. I encourage Shelton's involvement in these and other joint-ventures as we seek to put our stamp where it matters most — the lives of our students.

Supporting Shelton

Fall is a wonderful time of year at Shelton School. Walk onto the Shelton campus on any school day and you will find the halls filled with students, faculty and staff who are excited about the possibilities. A Shelton education offers our students extraordinary opportunities for learning with each day bringing new and exciting challenges.

Shelton remains committed to our mission of educating learning-different students in an environment that is unique with programs tailored to help them succeed. Like most private schools, Shelton relies completely on tuition revenue and donations for support. Fundraising will always be necessary to help fund expenditures that meet the changing needs and challenges of our Shelton community.

Our continued success is made possible through the generous support of our committed Shelton community. We are grateful for your support and thank you for being part of our Shelton family.

2013-2014 Now is the Time – To Make a Difference Annual Fund Drive

The Annual Fund is the cornerstone of Shelton's fundraising efforts and everyone is encouraged to participate. Gifts to Shelton's Annual Fund Drive provide vital income to balance Shelton's operating budget and help bridge the gap between tuition revenue and the actual cost of operating the school.

Annual Fund support makes a difference in our programs and your generosity will help Shelton continue to provide the best possible opportunities for all our students. Laura and G. Ellison Hurt and Lucy and Don Witte are the parent co-chairs of the Annual Fund Drive.

Shelton Thanks 2012-2013 Annual Fund Co-Chairs

We extend our special thanks to Jennifer and Joe Clifford and Laura and G. Ellison Hurt for their leadership and serving as 2012-13 Co-Chairs of the Annual Fund Drive. Our Shelton community generously donated $571,486 to the Annual Fund Drive and we are most grateful for the support and participation. Our deepest thanks to each and every donor who helped us achieve this success.

Thank You to Our Shelton Community

At Shelton we are fortunate to have an incredible and dedicated community of volunteers. We offer our special thanks to all our dedicated volunteers who have helped the Development Office in so many important ways. We also wish to acknowledge our leadership for the 2012-13 year:

Endowment Enters Phase II

Shelton School Kicks Off Phase II of $10M Endowment Campaign — Assuring the Future

Shelton School recently launched Phase II of the $10,000,000 Assuring the Future Endowment Campaign. The Ed Heffernan Family made a very generous $1M commitment as a cornerstone gift to this important phase of the campaign. Shelton School is grateful for this gift and appreciates the Heffernan Family for recognizing the need for a stronger endowment and helping us continue to grow this fund in perpetuity.

Our goal is to reach $10M in commitments by 2016 in celebration of Shelton's 40th Anniversary. During the year, we will actively solicit members of our community for their support to help us reach our goal. You can make a commitment to Shelton's Endowment Fund today and fulfill your pledge over a period of years.

Growth of the Shelton School Endowment Fund is one of the school's highest priorities.

While Annual Fund donations help us with today's operating expenses, Shelton's Endowment is a permanent, self-sustaining source of funding that provides a steady annual income for future use. A large Endowment Fund helps assure, in good economic times and bad, that the school will remain financially strong and viable.

Today, Shelton School stands at the very pinnacle of success. The time has come to invest in Shelton School's future and ensure continued excellence for generations to come. We are asking you to partner with us by making a contribution to Shelton's Endowment Fund today! Income generated from Shelton's Endowment will be used to support:

- Staff Salaries and Benefits
- Financial Aid
- Enhanced Curriculum Programs and Improved Facilities
- Community Outreach/Research

The Development Office would be delighted to meet with you to answer any questions or discuss endowment opportunities. Please call Suzanne Stell, Executive Director or Theresa Bruno, Director of Development at Ext. 2230 or email tbuno@shelton.org for further information.

Shelton Is a Best Places to Work Tri-Peater

For the third consecutive year, Shelton is honored to be one of the Dallas Morning News' Top 100 Places to Work. Employees made it happen with their responses to an online survey about Shelton's culture and work environment. Shelton ranked No. 24 out of the top 35 mid-size companies in the Metroplex in a year when 242 more companies entered the contest. Suzanne Stell, John Hodges, Stephanie Hicks, George Teague, Anne' Hughes, Greta Carter, Joy Martello, Bonita Smith and Anne Thomas represented Shelton employees at the awards luncheon on November 8. Also on hand was Keith Williams, a Shelton alumnus and board member. Says Williams, "Not only is Shelton a positive learning environment for its students but also for its employees. Being selected as a top 100 place to work in DFW by the Dallas Morning News reflects this."

According to Cheryl Hall at the Dallas Morning News, "Three things show up in every winning company's profile: great communication, adding fun and giving back."

Making a Difference in Public School Systems

Shelton School is a private school for students with dyslexia in Dallas, Texas. However, Shelton also makes a difference in the lives of children with dyslexia and related disorders in public school systems in Alabama, Mississippi and Texas through our endorsed International Dyslexia

Association (IDA), International Multisensory Language Education Council (IMSLEC) accredited training courses.

In July 2009, two school systems in Alabama contracted with Shelton to provide training to their teachers. In 2010 the Alabama State Department of Education (SDOE) decided that it wanted to serve students with dyslexia and related disorders throughout the state public school system. Seeing teachers as their greatest resource, the department sought training that would empower selected teachers to serve those students. As of August 2013, 131 teachers have completed or will be completing training through the SDOE or district programs to provide therapy level training in multisensory structured language education.

In August 2013, the Oxford, Mississippi City School System contracted with Shelton to offer therapy level training to teachers from the surrounding area. In Texas, two public school systems – Keller Independent Schools and Grapevine/Colleyville Independent Schools – contracted with Shelton to provide training. To date, through contracts with public school systems in the three mentioned states, 218 teachers have been trained or are in training through SDOE or district programs to provide therapy level training in multisensory structured language education.

Current research tells us that if students are given strong, structured core reading instruction, fewer will struggle with reading. If those who struggle receive short term, small group instruction in their area of difficulty, fewer will need intensive small group instruction. That intensive small group instruction is what we refer to as multisensory structured language (MSL) education. Following that logic, if teachers have the knowledge and skills to deliver the intensive MSL intervention, they can also address the needs of the students who need basic instruction and those who need short term support.

These public school systems have invested in the intensive training of 218 teachers. Shelton's next goal is to determine how many students these teachers serve each year in intensive interventions. If each of them serves two students (a very low estimate) they would serve 436 students each year. Given that these public school teachers represent general classroom teachers, inclusion teachers, reading coaches as well as special education teachers, their service goes far beyond intensive intervention. They work in small groups as well as with full classes, incorporating their knowledge in every situation. The number that we will never know is the number of students who never know failure because their teachers are more informed and more knowledgeable.

Alabama students are all smiles over "a"

Shelton Outreach Is Everywhere

Joyce S. Pickering, Hum.D., Shelton Executive Director Emerita

The Shelton Outreach / Training Center began offering services to the community in 1991. They include the following:

- Saturday Scholars and Summer Scholars Program for reading remediation
- Summer Program
- Teacher Training in specific programs delivered to students with learning differences
- Montessori teacher training
- Workshops and conference presentations on services for students with Learning Differences (LD) and Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)
- Collaboration with colleges and universities for credit classes toward a master's degree
- Online training
- Educational resources and materials

Multisensory Structured Language (MSL) Therapy

Nancy Coffman, the director of the Outreach / Training Center has been training across the state of Alabama (see p. 6). Teachers are receiving coursework and practicum supervision in Take Flight curriculum, an approach written at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children for teaching reading to students who need a multisensory structured language method. The goal in Alabama is to have a trained Academic Language Therapist in every school, a lofty and unique goal for a state educational system.

Teachers in Mississippi and Arkansas, as well as Texas teachers from Grapevine/Colleyville and Midland, have also been trained by Nancy Coffman. Chris Bedenbaugh has also taken this type of training to Keller ISD.

Dr. Joyce Pickering has delivered training at Shelton in the Sequential English Education (SEE) approach to teachers from Texas, Arkansas, Maryland, and New Mexico.

The Montessori Method

Shelton offers training in the Montessori method at both the Early Childhood and Elementary Level, delivered by Shelton Montessori teachers and other invited experts. Dr. Pickering and Pauline Novak co-direct the Shelton Montessori Training Course, which is accredited by American Montessori Society (AMS) / Montessori Accreditation Council for Teacher Education (MACTE). For 20 years, Shelton has offered the Montessori Applied to Children At Risk (MACAR) course. In Summer 2013, 46 teachers from all over the United States attended this training provided by Shelton staff members Dr. Pickering, Amy Kelton, Sue Cantrell, Casey Barnett, and Rob Kelton.

Summer Courses

Shelton instructors trained 407 teachers in various courses in Summer 2013. The knowledge and expertise of Shelton are being disseminated widely through these training courses.

Shelton Scholars

The Shelton Scholars Program, coordinated by John Hodges, serves approximately 30 students each semester and 70 in the summer. This is a lower cost alternative to private reading therapy. Summer Scholars was also offered at J.W. Ray Elementary School (Dallas ISD) with sponsorship by Church of the Incarnation's Reading Buddies program.

Workshops and Seminars

Beyond these intensive training courses, Shelton staff travel to give workshops and seminars, this past year in Spain, Alaska, New Jersey, Illinois, Arkansas, Wisconsin, Washington state, New Mexico and Texas. National presentations have been given at the International Dyslexia Association (IDA) and AMS.

Reading Remediation a Core Element of Outreach

Shelton provides training and supervision of reading remediation programs to the staff of Literacy Instruction for Texas (LIFT), Dallas Juvenile Justice System, and J.W. Ray. We are especially proud of LIFT's first SEE graduates, who were recognized November 18 for their two-year commitment to reading.

Shelton Speech / Language / Hearing Clinic

Stephanie Hicks, M.S., CCC/SLP, Director

We have had a busy start to the school year in the Speech Clinic. We began the first week of school with screenings in the community. The Clinic has provided speech/language/reading and vision/hearing screenings to 16 schools in the Metroplex this fall.

Shelton Screenings Vision/Hearing EC-High School

Greenhill School	Arbor Creek Montessori
The Hockaday School	Dallas North Montessori
Parish Episcopal School	Stringfellow-Coppell
Meadowbrook School	Sunshine House-Coppell
DaVinci School	St. Andrew's Weekday School
Preston Hollow Presbyterian School	Pebblecreek Montessori
St. Michael's Catholic School	McKinney Christian Academy
A Child's Garden Montessori	Behavior Exchange

We are excited to offer this service as an outreach opportunity to surrounding schools and also to provide early identification and services to preschoolers and early elementary students. Several of the facilities where we screen are also receiving speech/language services for their students at their school site. The Clinic also provides private services for Shelton students and the community at our facility. We continue to offer community screenings at Shelton (vision, hearing, speech/language and reading) on the second Wednesday each month by appointment.

Team effort gets it done

Like Us?

We have created a Facebook page for us to keep others updated on the services we provide at the Clinic, in addition to articles, activities and websites that we feel will be useful to parents of children with speech and language delays. You may access our site by searching Shelton Speech Clinic.

We are happy to have a new speech-language therapist in the Clinic. Avie Nikolopoulos joined our team this summer, completing our team of eight.

Shelton Evaluation Center

Laure Ames, Ph.D., Director

The Shelton Evaluation Center has been very busy over the summer and then into the fall of this year. We are blessed to have such wonderful clients. It can be challenging to raise a child with learning difficulties, and it is a privilege to help our clients navigate that road. When we evaluate a client through either a psychoeducational, neuropsychological, psychological, Autism Spectrum Disorder, and / or ADHD evaluations, our goal is twofold. First, we work to obtain a comprehensive picture of the client's functioning so that we can make recommendations that will facilitate success at home and in school. Second, and most important, our goal is that clients leave this Center feeling understood and hopeful.

We couldn't do the work that we do without our experienced staff. Susan Fleming, Ph.D., the former director of the Shelton Evaluation Center before moving to semi-retirement in 2009, officially retired this year. She is greatly missed, but her commitment to children who learn differently lives on here. Joni Williams is our administrative assistant and the first voice one hears when calling the Center. Her compassion for the families we serve is unwavering. Jacquelyn Pack, Ph.D. is a licensed psychologist who has been at Shelton since 2011. Prior to Shelton, Dr. Pack worked for 25 years in a variety of settings conducting psychoeducational, neuropsychological, and forensic evaluations of children and adolescents. She has specialized in the assessment of preschool children and children with Autism Spectrum Disorders. She brings experience from rural and urban school districts, private practice, and the juvenile justice system.

Stephanie McCain, M.A. has been at the Shelton Evaluation Center since 2006. She is a Licensed Psychological Associate and a Licensed Professional Counselor. Stephanie has a broad understanding of testing and is a valued member of our team. Mary Dryden, M.A.

joined our staff this fall. Mary is a Licensed Psychological Associate and a Licensed Specialist in School Psychology. She comes to us from a large public school system and has extensive experience conducting evaluations in the public schools to determine special education eligibility for learning disability, Autism Spectrum Disorder, and emotional disturbance.

The Shelton Evaluation Center is unique in the Dallas area because our experienced staff is capable of offering multiple kinds of evaluations and integrating the information from these different evaluations. Please call Ext. 2244 if you have any questions about how we may work together in order to best understand your children.

Togetherness Picnic Is Favorite Fall Fling

The Upper Elementary division enjoyed its annual Togetherness Picnic on October 11. Students spent the preceding weeks defining and writing about togetherness and sharing their thoughts via morning announcements. The October event also included field games, an obstacle course, and a highly competitive tug-of-war competition.

Fifth Grade Fright at Halloween

Fifth-graders were guests at a fun Halloween event hosted by the Upper School Student Council (see Upper School News, p. 13). This annual activity is always a popular connection between Upper Elementary and Upper School students.

Education Takes Place in the Fields

Fifth-graders enjoyed an outing to the Trinity River Audubon Park in early November. Students examined grasshoppers, mud, seeds, birds and more. The park offers students a chance to increase curiosity and comfort with the natural world. At the conclusion of the field trip, students wrote reports about their experiences. Says fifth-grader Trinity Byars in her thank-you note to the Audubon Park, "I had a blast. I wish I could go back a second time. It was the best field trip ever!"

Students Celebrated at Year-long Ceremonies

"Every child in our division is acknowledged at a special Celebration Ceremony at some point during the year," says Letah Samuelson, Head of Upper Elementary. "Our ceremonies are held at the end of each six weeks. Each student's unique qualities and interests are mentioned when the child is celebrated by fellow classmates and family. We love this time of special recognition for each student."

Student Council Engaged with Rewarding Activities

The Middle School Student Council sponsored numerous fall activities, including a party for new students, numerous community service projects (see Community Service, p. 23), and the annual Halloween parade. They assembled and delivered treats to Shelton's custodial staff, thanking them for making the school sparkle. In November seven officers and representatives attended the annual Texas Association of Student Councils in Austin. They met with other students from all over the state to learn more about leadership and various projects to sponsor in their schools.

All in the Families

Shelton continues its Families program, which connects students across different divisions. Students held get-acquainted meetings in early fall, and each "family" will continue to meet together throughout the year to work on various projects. The groups particularly enjoy community service activities, where everyone takes ownership of a common project, while engaging individually for the family goals. Jennifer Counce is the faculty sponsor for the Families project.

Homecoming 2013: Where the Magic Happened

The entire Upper School celebrated Homecoming the week of November 4. This year's theme was Where the Magic Happened. Activities included themed dress-out days, the annual Pep-nic, the football game against Tyler T.K. Gorman, the homecoming dance at Eisemann Center in Richardson, and spirit-filled pep rallies and school decorations.

The Homecoming Court, presented during halftime at the football game, included:

- Freshman Prince and Princess: Preston Cracken and Shannon Yuncker
- Sophomore Prince and Princess: Spencer Arnold and Adrianna Luedtke
- Junior Prince and Princess: Sam Stevens and Molly Crisp
- Senior Homecoming Court: Mitchell Dours (King), Gabrielle Gaudette (Queen), Andrew Luce, Ruby Skotchdopole, Steven Rasansky and Brynn Sutherland

It was a fun week for all involved, and a great chance for the entire Shelton community to celebrate.

Lasso Staff Rounds Up the News

The Upper School Cyber Journalism Class produces The Lasso, the school newspaper. The Lasso is sent to Upper School students, faculty, and parents through Shelton's content management system. It includes articles, profiles, editorials, sports news, and photos from Upper School events. Cyber Journalism is a one-semester class that can be taken more than once. The Lasso staff comprises seniors Chris Hahne and Ashleigh Price, juniors E.J. Griffiths, Jonah Kahn,

Fine Arts Features

Anné Hugues

Shelton Announces Director of Fine Arts

Shelton is pleased to announce the appointment of Anné Hugues as Director of Fine Arts. An employee at Shelton since 1999, she served most recently in the Middle School division, delivering many drama productions that captivated both students and audiences. She will work with numerous other Shelton faculty to integrate the many disciplines offered to talented Shelton students – art, music, drama, film. Shelton students receive a solid foundation in the arts beginning in Early Childhood. Many graduates continue their studies in college, and some have pursued careers in the arts.

Theatre Bill

Upper School Theatre Arts presented its fall production of The Man Who Came to Dinner October 23, 24 and 26 in The Commons. The play was an enormous success and showcased the talents of some 46 Upper School students in both the cast and crew. Seniors Mikey Halperin and Gabrielle Gaudette led a talented cast in this classic comedy by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. Next up for the Theatre Arts department is the winter musical, Once Upon A Mattress on February 13-16, 2014. Make plans now to attend this wonderful musical!

Shelton Student's Art Featured at IDA

Thirty-two Shelton Middle School artists entered the Portraits of Success art contest, sponsored by the Dallas Branch of the International Dyslexia Association (IDA). Congratulations to sixth-grader Uriel Bolton, whose artwork was chosen for the cover of the program for IDA's spring conference.

Take Note — Band Plays for Fall Events

Shelton's band has performed for notable fall events. They played spirited music October 18 at AT&T Stadium (see Spotlight on Sports, p. 22), for Shelton's Run to Read event October 26 (see p. 21), and at Grandparents' Day in late November. They next perform holiday concerts and participate in the annual City of Richardson's Christmas Parade. Ken Utz and Jerry Bishop direct Shelton's band.

Vocal Charge Uses Vocal Cords

Shelton's Vocal Charge presented a fall concert on October 29. They performed an a cappella arrangement of The Star Spangled Banner on October 18 at AT&T Stadium and again at Grandparents' Day, along with a reprise of Why We Sing. Blair King is choir director for the group.

Middle School Visual Art

Studio 7, the Middle School art room, is the place for imagination and collaboration. Eighth graders created a group sculpture from paper, and learned about the elements of design. Then they did monochromatic acrylic paintings on large canvases to express their thoughts in individual abstract paintings. All classes have enjoyed sharing their art in Gallery Days.

Shelton Success Goes Everywhere

We share a great amount of Shelton Pride when we recount the success of our recent graduates. The Class of 2013 graduated 63 seniors, the largest group ever in the school's history. These graduates were accepted at 128 colleges and universities. As a group, they were offered $4,762,000 in merit-based scholarships that included academics and test scores.

Jacob Goldfine was valedictorian of the class. He is attending Clark University in Worcester, MA, majoring in chemistry and theater. When asked the best advice he had received, and from whom, he answered, "Organize, organize, organize – this I learned at Shelton." He said his way of changing the world would be "one step at a time." When asked about his following on Facebook or Twitter, his response was, "Don't do Facebook. Don't do Twitter." He is currently assistant stage manager for a theater production at Clark.

Barrett Cole was salutatorian of the class. She is currently attending Southern Methodist University, with a triple major in human rights, religious studies and environmental studies. A Hunt Scholar and New Century Scholar, Barrett was one of 20 freshmen selected to be an emerging leader. She is the McElvaney Vice President of Community Service. In her remarks to her fellow seniors, Barrett told the group to "Work hard, dream big, serve others, and laugh often." Barrett shared that "The greatest blessing in my life the past few years has come in the form of serving others. Dancing used to be my passion. When I came to the realization that no one was going to want a 5' 10" ballerina, I felt selfish that I could not have what I wanted. I learned through community service that being selfless instead was much more satisfying. I have learned I can share my heart and soul with the community as my stage. I might not be standing in front of large audiences and hearing the applause, but I see the smiles and dignity of those whom I can serve."

André Dowd, Class of 2007, now director of public relations and communications for ShowBiz Cinemas, returned to campus to deliver the commencement address. Diagnosed with dyslexia and ADHD in kindergarten, André said he has learned to face any challenge with one word: enthusiasm. "Enthusiasm can make an ordinary person great." He also said, "A nation's success is in direct proportion to the quality of its education – the teachers of Shelton are the unsung heroes and heroines of that success." André is a new member of Shelton's Alumni Executive Board.

We look forward to following these Shelton graduates with their life success stories. Their hopes and dreams are scattered in as many directions as their mortarboards were with the Shelton hat toss at graduation.

The Health and Optimism Provided with Exercise

Joyce S. Pickering, Hum.D., Shelton Executive Director Emerita

Enhancing Educational Achievement: Reducing Effects of ADHD and Learning Differences with Exercise The Health and Optimism Provided with Exercise (HOPE) Study

Shelton School has been conducting research on the treatment of Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) since 2003. In our first study in collaboration with the University of Texas-Dallas Center for BrainHealth and the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, cognitive approaches to non-medication treatment were explored.

In 2012 Shelton received grants from the Discovery Foundation and Communities Foundation of Texas for a two-year research study on the effects of strenuous and regular exercise on learning, memory and attention. Dr. Carroll Hughes is lead researcher of the project.

There is a strong need for non-medication alternatives for the treatment of ADHD and enhancing educational achievement for children and adolescents with different types of learning disabilities/differences (LD). Recent research suggests that aerobic exercise may be a potential such treatment based on the increased release of Brain Derived Neurotropic Factor (BDNF) and brain neurotransmitters that accompanies vigorous exercise. ADHD is one of the most prevalent childhood disorders to cause social and academic impairment, with estimates of the general population ranging from some 2-5% (Costello et al., 1996; Shaffer et al., 1996).

Statistics in 2006 seemed to suggest that boys were more likely than girls to be diagnosed with ADHD, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. However, data from 2010 suggests that the number of girls with ADHD is greater than previously believed, asserts 4-ADHD.com. Boys and girls manifest ADHD differently. Girls are more likely to manifest symptoms that are less overt. Boys, in contrast, more commonly manifest the typical hyperactive and disruptive behavior traits associated with ADHD, according to a survey published in 2004 in Medscape General Medicine and consequently more likely to be diagnosed with the disorder. By and large, girls with ADHD have greater difficulty than boys staying focused, and are more likely to have difficulties developing interpersonal skills. As such, boys with ADHD tend to do better in school or have relatively smoother social interactions with friends and family than girls. Boys with ADHD are less likely to manifest changes to their self-esteem after being diagnosed with the disorder. On the other hand, girls displayed a higher probability of having self-esteem issues prior to being diagnosed with ADHD, explains 4-ADHD.com. Further, it is now recognized that the disorder follows many into adulthood. Clearly, more attention is needed for research on the effects of ADHD for girls. Females with a LD also appear to be at more risk as described next.

Follow-up studies of individuals with LD during the initial post school years consistently show that males are employed at a higher rate than females (Edgar, 1995; Sitlington & Frank, 1990; Wagner et al., 1992). Edgar's study of two cohorts of graduates from Washington State schools revealed that females with LD were employed at a lower rate than both males with LD and nondisabled females. This in part is explained by the phenomenon of early parenthood: females with LD appeared to have children at a younger age and at twice the rate as nondisabled females and to receive more public assistance. Edgar (1995, p. 296) concluded that "females with LD are at risk for becoming mothers at an early age without benefit of a supportive partner or financial resources." The risk for females with LD is an amalgam of societal and disability factors that few studies have addressed.

Studies are showing positive relationships between physical exercise and many aspects of ADHD behavior related to school performance. Ethier (1997) in a review of 134 studies, found a positive association between physical education (PE) and cognitive performance. Colcombe (2003) in a review of 18 studies found aerobic exercise and strength training in combination to improve performance more than either one alone. They concluded that 30 minutes of exercise appeared to produce the best results and this was also reported by Coe (2006). A different review of 44 studies showed significant positive relationship between physical activity and cognitive function in children (Sibley, 2003). Different studies of the impact of PE on academic performance are also positive (Field, 2001; Oh, 2003). The California Department of Education in a 2001 study of nearly one million students (grades 5, 7, 9) showed a positive correlation between levels of fitness and standardized test scores in math and reading. HOPE Study Continued from page 20 third- and fifth-graders, found similar positive correlation. All these studies suggest a positive effect of aerobic exercise on academic performance.

We are conducting a randomized control trial (RCT) using aerobic exercise as a non-medication intervention for children with ADHD and/or LD. This study will attempt to improve key symptoms of ADHD and LD related to attention, inhibition, and memory, all components of executive function known to be impaired in children with ADHD and LD, yet essential for school performance and successful psychosocial functioning. Offering an intervention targeting executive functioning is critical for the young school age group that may benefit most from early intervention. Using an intervention that optimizes the immediate benefit of exercise and exertion combined with challenging academic mental activity while engaged in the classroom is an innovative approach not previously tested. It is important to show that intervention is as effective for females as males.

We have completed a semester pilot study with anecdotal evidence of positive results. Some 40 students are in the active participant and wait list groups. Data should be available in January 2014.

Spotlight on Sports

“Good to Occupy” New Sports Enhancement Center

We are excited about Shelton’s new Sports Enhancement Center. We expect a certificate of occupancy in December for a brand new facility that will house state-of-the-art weights, cardio equipment, and training rooms. We are thrilled that our athletes will soon be able to begin training in the new 4100 square foot facility located at 300 N. Coit Road, just under two miles from Shelton’s campus. We have also added a certified athletic trainer as part of our athletic program expansion.

Faculty and staff will also be able to enjoy the facility, adding to our Shelton wellness endeavors. Our thanks go to 27 Shelton families and community sponsors (see listing on page 49) who made the center come true. Their belief in our athletic mission and purpose will enable us to continue building the Shelton tradition of producing competitive teams.

Golf Tournament Goes Green for Shelton

Some 130 golfers teed off for Shelton on September 13 at Cowboy Golf Club in Grapevine. All enjoyed a beautiful fall day with golfing, goody bags, and camaraderie. The tournament title sponsor was Art House Dallas. Shelton parents Glenn Mitchell and Ron Pleasant co-chaired the fundraiser; other committee members included Patti Bongiorno, Ed Copeland, Steve DeWolf, David Goldstein, Clifford Hahne, Jeff Hughes, John Madden and Gilbert Nettleton. Over $53,000 was raised, with proceeds benefiting Shelton athletics and tuition assistance. Planning for the 2014 tournament is underway.

Chargers On Field at AT&T Stadium

Shelton students, parents and fans were treated to a night like no other on October 18. They gathered at AT&T Stadium, home of the Dallas Cowboys, for the once-in-a-lifetime experience of watching the Shelton Chargers play football in the stadium at an exclusive event open to the Shelton community (and a few worthy football opponents from Parish Episcopal).

Colors were trooped; band and choir inspired and entertained; drummers drummed; cheer groups leapt from pyramids and danced; Chargers passed and tackled. The Jumbotron lit up with shots of fans and all the festivities in a memorable evening not to be forgotten.

Shelton cheer at halftime

In addition to the football game, Shelton dads hosted a pre-game tailgate party, setting the stage for the evening’s fun.

In a special halftime presentation, Shelton staff thanked Gene and Jerry Jones and Charlotte and Shy Anderson for hosting the event in their home away from home.

Friday Night Lights will not be forgotten by the Shelton fans who came and left with Shelton Pride.

Shelton Athletes Continue Sports Involvement in College

Shelton has seen an increase in the number of graduates who are competing in collegiate sports. We are supportive of the continued growth and competitiveness of all our sports teams. We have added an extra class period for athletics, fulfilling our desire to keep our teams in training for the entire year. Thanks to unified dedication of families, students, and coaches, many athletes are now focusing on the goal to become collegiate athletes. The following graduates are currently competing at colleges and universities:

Alyn Jackson ('11)	Avila University (Football)
Dylan Maxwell ('11)	East Texas Baptist University (Football)
Hank Aldous ('12)	Hendrix College (Basketball)
Phillip Bouillion ('12)	Texas Tech University (Track & Field)
Meredith Cook ('12)	Millsaps College (Track & Field)

Shelton Serves with NDCC Education Committee

Shelton is the only local private school to send representatives to the North Dallas Chamber of Education's (NDCC) Education Committee. Shelton has been a member of NDCC since 2002 and greatly benefits from interaction with many other local business and educational participants. Anne Thomas and Maggie Adams represent Shelton at NDCC.

Students assist N. TX Food Bank with loading of 7,400 cans

Shelton students, staff and parents serve the community in a wide array of community service activities. In 2012-2013, Upper School students alone completed 9,800 hours of community service during the year. From filling shoeboxes for the homeless, to playing Bingo with nursing home residents — teaching Shelton students to become contributing citizens of the world is a tenet in a Shelton education.

Delphi Society

DELPHI
SOCIETY

Delphi is a small town in the mountains of Greece where the famous oracle of Apollo supposedly took place, announcing the future. It is a symbol for seeking to know and shape the future.

To honor those individuals who seek to shape the future of Shelton School, the Delphi Society was established in 2003. The Society recognizes and thanks alumni and friends of Shelton who have created provisions in their wills or estate plans to benefit Shelton School.

New Faces On Board

We welcome four new trustees this year and are grateful for the new ideas and contributions they bring to the entire Shelton organization:

Charles G. Dannis – parent to Dutch Dannis, senior. Founder of Crosson Dannis, Inc., Mr. Dannis has a wealth of experience as a real estate appraiser and consultant. He is the author of many articles and the former host of a weekly talk radio show, "The Real Estate Hour."

Christopher K. Dreiling, M.D. – parent to Dashiell, second-grader, and Greer Dreiling, Early Childhood. Dr. Dreiling is a pediatrician with Pediatric Associates of Dallas. His community interests include Dallas International Film Festival and the Dallas Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Dreiling is the official doctor of "The Hardline" with 91.7 KXT, 1310 The Ticket.

David T. Helffrich, Jr. – parent to Colby Helffrich, Shelton graduate, and two other grown children. Mr. Helffrich is senior vice president of engineering with McAfee, Inc. He has 29 years' experience in enterprise software development for the security and application development markets.

Patricia A. Pace – parent to Jonathan Pace, Shelton graduate, and a grown daughter. Mrs. Pace divides her time between Frisco and Florida. She is a property manager with a series of investment properties. She co-founded Jonathan's Stage, a 501 (c) (3) that supports children with leukemia and provides scholarships for learning-different youth interested in theater arts careers.
