Shelton Launches Leaders for Life

I am excited to announce that we have launched a formal leadership training program for our high school students. We've always mentored leaders at Shelton – each and every day – but we've never formalized our training in such a manner.

Our new program is called Leaders for Life, and it is designed to equip and empower our students with lifelong leadership skills. It complements our social skills program, our high school ethics curriculum, and our annual ethics symposium.

We are honored that Alliance Data is the corporate sponsor for our program. "Education is the backbone of a vibrant economy. Schools like Shelton and programs like Leaders for Life give all students a chance to not only learn valuable leadership skills, but give them the foundation to become successful contributing members of their communities," says our friend Ed Heffernan, President and Chief Executive Officer of Alliance Data.

David Ash was featured speaker at our inaugural program in September. Ash, who graduated from The University of Texas at Austin with a Master's of Science in Finance, played quarterback for the Longhorns during his undergraduate years and was a two-time member of the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll. He talked with students about leading from the heart. He recounted how, when he no longer played quarterback, he saw his football jersey for sale in the student coop for 50 percent off. "Whether or not they were selling my jersey at a discount, I was still 100 percent a leader, and I never changed the way I felt about that though my football status had changed."

Second in our lineup for Leaders for Life was an October presentation by Mary C. Kelly, PhD, CSP, Commander, US Navy (ret). Her topic, Students Building Bridges, was based on her best-selling book, Master Your World: 10 Dog-Inspired Leadership Lessons. Kelly's points included:

- Build bridges, not fences (help others)
- Reward positive behavior
- Don't reward poor behavior
- Help others succeed (share tools, resources)
- Take the appropriate action at the appropriate time

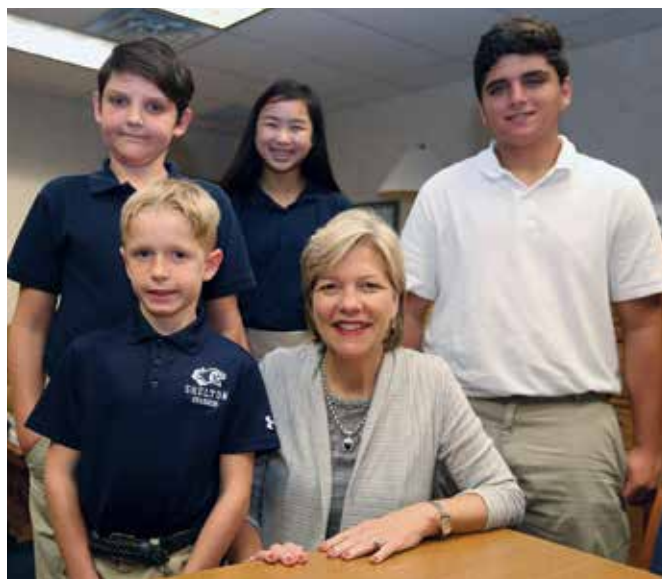

Dr. Kelly returned in November, when her topic was Leading with Gratitude: How to Appreciate, Cooperate and Graduate. Using a Thanksgiving theme, key points included:

- Keep a positive attitude when events don't go well
- Be appreciative of both big and little gifts
- Create a positive vision
- Maintain an overall perspective and don't succumb to negativity

Dr. Kelly returns to Shelton this spring with her program, Money Smart: How Not to Buy Cat Food When You Don't Have a Cat.

I'm particularly pleased with this new program. Many times schools implement a leadership program that primarily benefits the already known school student leaders, e.g. student council officers or class presidents. Leaders for Life will be an ongoing long term offering for all of our high school students. Everyone carries leadership potential, and it's our goal to teach and hone these skills at Shelton.

DEVELOPMENT DOINGS

Spirit of Giving—Celebrating Philanthropy Together

It's a great time to be at Shelton. We recently celebrated our 40th anniversary and look with pride to one Shelton with many resources. Our community is vibrant and our students continue to be enriched, engaged and empowered by their Shelton experience. Our outstanding and dedicated faculty and staff continue to shape and change the lives of our students each and every day. We are grateful to our founder, Dr. June Shelton, for her vision, philosophy and commitment to excellence.

We celebrate philanthropy together each and every day at Shelton. Many aspects of our students' experiences are made possible because of support from our community. We are all in this together—faculty, alumni, students and families. Shelton families exemplify the spirit of giving by sharing time, knowledge and expertise for the benefit of the Shelton community.

At Shelton, a culture of philanthropy requires all members to model, encourage and celebrate giving. Philanthropy is a school-wide commitment. Our students volunteer their time for community service hours, participate in food drives, and raise funds for outside charitable organizations. Many of our families and faculty volunteer their time and serve on various committees through our Shelton Parents' Association and other organizations. Shelton is definitely an organization known for its spirit of generosity!

In the spirit of giving, we honor our donors who have joined us in giving back through meaningful philanthropy and financial support. We are grateful for all our supporters, volunteers and members of our extended Shelton community. We encourage you to continue to experience the power of giving and celebrate the difference you make.

Shelton Annual Fund Drive Annual Fund First—2016-2017

Christine and Doug Horstman, Annual Fund Co-Chairs

We are thrilled to once again serve as this year's Annual Fund Drive Co-Chairs. We are so impressed with the Shelton community's generous support of our amazing school. It's an honor and a pleasure to work with the Annual Fund Ambassadors and with other volunteers. We truly believe that a contribution to Shelton's Annual Fund Drive is one of the most important ways to support Shelton's mission to serve and empower the lives of students who learn differently.

We are asking the Shelton community to Think Annual Fund First. It's that critical. Gifts to the Annual Fund cover the gap between tuition and operating expenses to benefit the programs and academics that directly affect all students. Your gift makes a difference. From curriculum and technology needs to fine arts and athletics, the Annual Fund creates opportunities that continue to make Shelton a school of choice. It touches each of our students and the impact is immediate.

This year our goal is $750,000 and we need everyone's support to achieve our goal. That's why our other important goal is 100% participation. Every gift makes a difference. Together we can ensure that the gap in covering the total cost of a Shelton education is met.

We know there is no other school with the same level of expertise and commitment to our children. That's why we chose Shelton. When we Think Annual Fund First we are directly supporting the Shelton Way and our many Shelton success stories. When we Think Annual Fund First we ensure that Shelton remains the school of choice now and in the future.

Please make a gift today either by check or go online at www.shelton.org and click "Make a Gift."

OUTREACH / TRAINING OFFERINGS

Nancy M. Coffman, MS, LDT, CALT, QI, Director Shelton Outreach/Training

Intangible Blessings

I have written articles in the past where I cited data to support a Structured Literacy program or Multisensory Structured Language Education (MSLE). I have repeatedly seen growth in teacher knowledge scores after the International Dyslexia Association (IDA) and International MSLE Council (IMSLEC) accredited training that we provide. Students, identified as having reading disabilities, show great growth in oral reading fluency after receiving instruction from those teachers. Thus, I have written articles showing that some things that count, can be counted!

Here I want to share the non-quantifiable aspects of the improvement that I witness—the things that count, but cannot be counted. I am blessed to hear from public school teachers in our training program on a regular basis. These teachers, from all across the socio-economic spectrum, share stories that humble and inspire me. Here are but a few:

I have worked with this 4th grade student since the first grade using various interventions. Now in his second year of Take Flight, he reads and works with a confidence that I have never seen before! His DIBELS scores are climbing, and his teachers are commenting on how well he is doing in the classroom!

D. Johnson, Interventionist, Cross Country Schools, AR

A student in second grade improved his overall academics to the point that he was deemed the 'Most Improved Student' in his class at year-end. He was smiling and so proud of himself!

Davis, A., 2nd Grade Interventionist, AL

Beaming reader and teacher

AB began her 3rd grade year reading on a 1st grade, 9th month reading level. She ended the year reading on a 4th grade, 2nd month reading level. What an amazing year she had, going from reading below grade level to reading on grade level and ready to start the 4th grade. She also attained 140 Accelerated Reader points in one year. AB is now a confident 4th grader who loves to read!

N. Nix, Special Education Teacher, Jasper, AL

Ninth grade student: "Now I'm the best reader in my reading intervention class and I know some spelling rules that the other students don't know."

T. Newton, Literacy Specialist, Clarksville, AR

My teacher bragged on me because I moved up to a higher reading group. It made me feel so smart.

T. Newton, Literacy Specialist, Clarksville, AR

*Not everything that can be counted counts.
Not everything that counts can be counted.*

Albert Einstein

Precious 2nd grade student began to withdraw from reading and dreaded going to school. Humiliatingly, she always sat at the teacher table for Friday reading tests to receive much support and assistance. After one year of Take Flight instruction, she NOW smiles about reading, takes her tests at her own desk and scores at least average in comparison to grade level peers and enjoys reading Junie B Jones books at night. BLESSINGS!

I was delayed in the office one morning and when I got to my room, this is what I saw. Talk about a precious moment. I couldn't resist taking this photo. My favorite one yet!

The Matthew Effect

Keith Stanovich* gave us the term "The Matthew Effect," describing the negative impact of reading difficulties in students. To paraphrase, "In reading, the rich get richer and the poor get poorer." When we give students the tools needed for reading with an intensity and duration that is appropriate for their skill profile, we change lives. These are results that matter but cannot be measured. We change poor readers to rich readers!

Shelton serves some 900 students per year on our campus. We change lives every day. Through the training that is offered through our Outreach / Training division, we estimate that we serve over 14,000 students across the country in both public and private schools. As one of our tagline says, Shelton is truly more than a school!

Training takes place year-round at Shelton, including during the summer for the MACAR class

It is amazing to see the teachers who come to our Multisensory Structured Language Education (MSLE) training courses. Some have master's degrees in education, some are reading specialists and yet, two days into our courses they are saying, "Why did no one teach me these skills before?" Many are angry that they have spent time and money in college and university courses and have not actually been taught to teach reading. Few have even heard of reading disorders or how to address the needs of students with Dyslexia and Related Disorders. Having worked in the field of language and learning disorders for 55 years, I have seen some improvement in the recognition of these learning differences. However, colleges and university reading courses in most places still include little on how to help the 15-20% of the population who process written language inaccurately and more slowly. Our Montessori Applied to Children at Risk (MACAR) program helps teachers and schools learn how to provide early intervention, so that students do not experience early confusion and frustration.

These students are intelligent and have the ability to contribute much to society. They work hard to achieve in school despite their struggling with processing words as they read, or with spelling and writing their thoughts in written expression assignments. They have strengths in math, processing in three-dimensional space, computer science, and business. Many become architects, contractors, computer scientists, sculptors, artists, and company CEO's based on their talents and intelligence. Yet they struggle in school with a very specific challenge, processing words, allowing them to read, spell and write at the level of their intellect. There is no group of students with learning challenges that can be so thoroughly remediated and become as highly productive. Sadly, in most private and public schools many of these students are not recognized or instructed appropriately. Why? Because teachers are uninformed, and many of the students have found ways to compensate as best they can in school, frequently not qualifying for educational intervention services. This is a huge loss to society. Some achieve in spite of their differences. Others become anxious and depressed. Many cannot achieve their potential, because they don't get the help they need. This lack of service, according to Reid Lyon, former director of the National Center for Health for Child Development, is educational malpractice.

For 41 years Shelton has provided learning different students the help that offers life-changing opportunity, enabling them to achieve and contribute in many fields.

Through Shelton's Outreach Program, teachers in the U.S. and around the world have been trained to teach those with Learning Differences. Students attending the Shelton Scholars program here on campus have been helped in the skills they need to achieve.

Shelton School, Outreach / Training Program, Evaluation Center and Speech Language Therapy Program have helped thousands of teachers and students since 1976. Shelton is a demonstration center for those who wish to emulate our unique Shelton program. People from all over the U.S., Europe, Asia, and South America have visited to learn how they can empower more students for success.

SPEECH, LANGUAGE, HEARING THERAPY PROGRAM

Krista Norwood, M.S. CCC/SLP, Director

The mission of the Speech, Language, Hearing Therapy Program has long been to serve students and families, at Shelton and in the community alike, by providing thorough and informative screenings, comprehensive speech and language evaluations, and, of course, speech therapy services of the highest quality. We could never begin to fulfill this mission without our team of experienced and caring clinicians. We have a combined total of 130 years of experience. Our greatest goal is to help our clients realize success by giving them the tools for better communication.

Screening Program

Our Speech, Language, Reading, Hearing and Vision screening program is vital to fulfilling our mission. Early intervention is critical not only for closing language learning gaps and providing a stable foundation upon which to build future language, but also for avoiding frustration and allowing a child to maintain self-esteem and confidence in his ability to communicate. Through the screening process, we provide invaluable assistance to parents and educators by identifying young children with speech, language and reading delays. From individual conferences and professionally written results to recommendations for intervention, therapists in our clinic come alongside parents and teachers to support their children in a way that is unique to Shelton. For these reasons, the Shelton Speech Therapy Program is becoming the gold standard in the Dallas area for speech, language, and reading screenings.

Stringfellow School
Pebblecreek Montessori
St. Andrew United Methodist Childcare Program
A Child's Garden Montessori
Meadowbrook School
Guthrie School
Arbor Creek Montessori
The DaVinci School

Screenings begin in August and usually conclude in January. We usually screen approximately 1,200 children annually.

Therapy Services

The Speech Therapy Program therapists complete approximately 150 therapy sessions each week. We provide private speech, language, reading and social communication therapy not only to Shelton students, EC to high school, but to students in private schools across the metroplex including Hockaday, Greenhill, Parish Episcopal, ESD, Spring Creek Daycare, St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic, Lamplighter and Westwood Montessori. In addition, many community clients are seen in the Speech Clinic on Shelton's campus. Therapy is provided for receptive and expressive language, articulation, language and auditory processing, phonological awareness and reading difficulties, reading comprehension, and social language. In addition, several of our therapists are trained in the multisensory reading methods that are used so successfully by Shelton School. Therapy is available year round, Monday through Thursday, 7:30 am to 5:30 pm.

Another expanding therapy service is our Social Communication program for students with social cognition challenges. Using a Social Thinking (Winner, 2000) model of therapy, groups and individuals are not simply taught to memorize social routines, but explicitly taught the thought process behind social interaction.

Students practice using one's language skills to seek information; listening that involves not simply taking in auditory information, but integrating information for a deeper concept, when all messages cannot be taken literally; gaining skills for abstract and inferential language; and interpreting others perspectives, thoughts and feelings across contexts. Our fastest growing group of social clients is the College Prep high school students. We have several therapists with Social Thinking training who offer individual and group social cognition therapy to clients of all ages.

Avie Nikolopoulos and intern (and former Shelton student) Simone Shrell

Summer Programs

We continue to offer speech and language camps and private therapy throughout the summer. Therapists and graduate student interns from UTD and TWU host children of all ages in therapeutic camps that are both impactful and fun. Summer offerings also include Language Adventures, Articulation Adventures and iSocialize. Check our website for details.

Professional Training

The Speech Clinic is a vital resource for teaching undergraduate and graduate students completing their degrees in speech-language pathology. We are a sought after off-site placement for interns each semester. We provide a variety of experiences to graduate students from assessment to therapy for all ages.

In 2013, the Speech Clinic was instrumental in the acceptance of Shelton School as an ASHA approved provider of continuing education for therapists not only at Shelton, but to professionals in surrounding communities and the country.

ASHA Approved CE Providers plan, conduct, evaluate, and continuously improve their continuing education (CE) courses using the standards and requirements established by the ASHA Continuing Education Board.

We are planning to host another professional training seminar for Texas therapists in 2017.

"Going to Shelton Speech Clinic is one of our son's favorite after school activities. He has made incredible improvement over the past six months, and we could not be more pleased."

"Our son's therapist is engaging, warm, supportive, motivating and also truly exceptional. It has only been four months, but we have already noticed an improvement in his reading and language skills and confidence."

"We just met with our daughter's third grade teachers. Reading comprehension, her biggest weakness in the classroom, is now undetectable. Shelton's Speech Clinic has allowed our daughter to remain and thrive at her current school."

"My only wish is that we had more aggressively and deeply pursued this type of social language therapy when my son was much younger."

Shelton School, Speech Clinic & Evaluation Center is approved by the Continuing Education Board of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) to provide continuing education activities in speech-language pathology and audiology. See course information for number of ASHA CEUs, instructional level and content area. ASHA CE Provider approval does not imply endorsement of course content, specific products or clinical procedures.

Laure Ames, Ph.D., Director

The Shelton Evaluation Center has had a busy year and our staff has worked with clients from Malaysia, Canada, Louisiana, Arkansas, and all over Texas. When we evaluate a client through either a psychoeducational, psychological, Autism Spectrum Disorder, and/or ADHD evaluation, our goal is to obtain a comprehensive picture of the client's functioning so that we can make appropriate recommendations. If any student is struggling, we should want to know why. Correct diagnoses help guide how to best help the student be as successful as possible. The remediation and/or accommodations that we recommend are tied to the diagnoses we make.

The most common diagnoses that we make here are Specific Learning Disorder with impairment in reading (Dyslexia), Language Disorder, Dysgraphia, Attention Deficit/ Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), and Autism Spectrum Disorder.

Dyslexia is a specific language-based learning disability that is neurological in origin. It is characterized by difficulties with accurate and/or fluent word recognition and by poor spelling and decoding abilities (IDA 2012). Once dyslexia is identified, we would recommend academic language therapy with a Certified Academic Language Therapist (CALT). The most intensive therapy would be through a special school like Shelton School. Examples of accommodations for dyslexia might include

- extend time for reading assignments
- use books on tape
- waive a foreign language requirement

A spoken language disorder, also known as an oral language disorder, represents a significant impairment in the acquisition and use of language across any of the five language domains (i.e., phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, pragmatics). Work with a speech-language pathologist would be the recommended remediation. Examples of accommodations might include

- give extra time to process and formulate answers
- encourage teachers to ensure understanding of the assignment
- rephrase the information using less complex language
- re-deliver instructions on a one-to-one basis

Dysgraphia can refer to extreme problems with handwriting, spelling, and written composition. It can also refer to handwriting difficulties only. Remediation would be through occupational therapy, and accommodations might include

- use a laptop or word processor during class lectures
- get copies of the instructor's lecture notes
- use a tape recorder during class lectures

ADHD is a persistent pattern of inattention and/or hyperactivity and impulsivity. Treatment is usually through consultation with a psychiatrist or neurologist for medication management. An organizational coach is often beneficial. Accommodations might include

- use preferential seating
- use separate room for tests
- have assistance keeping track of assignments and materials
- allow breaks during class and testing

Finally, Autism Spectrum Disorder is a developmental disorder characterized by persistent deficits in social communication and social interaction across multiple contexts and restricted, repetitive patterns of behavior, interests, or activities. Treatment may include

- Social Thinking curriculum
- speech-language therapy
- social skills training
- Applied Behavior Analysis

The Shelton Evaluation Center is unique in the Dallas area because our staff is experienced in offering multiple kinds of evaluations and integrating the information from these different evaluations in order to make appropriate and targeted recommendations for remediation and accommodations. Please call 972.774.1772, Ext. 2244 with any questions.

STEAM Curriculum Picks Up Steam in 2016-2017

Science / Technology / Engineering / Arts / Math comprise Shelton's STEAM+ approach. The STEAM approach combines problem- and performance-based activities. New this year is the use of littleBits in STEAM classes, thanks to funds given by Shelton's Parents' Association. littleBits is a system of electronic modules that snap together with magnets. They make it possible for everyone to be an inventor. Students have used littleBits and a motion sensor to make a Halloween design with scary light-up eyes. They have also made harmonicas in class. "The kids love these assignments," says advisor Jill Alessandra.

In Chris Brendel's class, students experimented with augmented reality via a sandbox. This involved creating topography models scanned into a computer in real time and used as background for a variety of graphics effects and simulations.

Students have also been using new technology and 3-D printers to construct models. Using Minecraft Missions Project, students in Hunter Duesing and Steve Spencer's classes researched, designed and built Spanish missions discussed in Texas History. After the students built the missions in the game, Mr. Brendel extracted them as 3-D files and printed them. Students will be able to take home miniature versions, and a winner from each class will be printed for display. Middle School science was fortunate to receive funds from the Shelton Parents' Association for purchase of a 3-D printer.

Homecoming 2016-2017 Was Movie Material

Shelton was in high spirits for Homecoming week in late September. This year's theme was Old Hollywood. Upper School activities included dress-out days (try Country vs. Country Club, or Decades Day), the annual Pep-nic, the razzle-dazzle blacklight pep rally, an all-school pep rally to recognize all fall sports teams, and the Homecoming dance.

A special highlight was the venue of the football game against Grace Prep from Arlington. Thanks to Gene and Jerry Jones and Charlotte and Shy Anderson, the game was held on a beautiful fall evening in the brand new Ford Stadium at The Star in Frisco, TX. Shelton was the first private school to have such a privilege.

The Middle School Choir led fans in the national anthem. The Thundering Herd and Shelton Drumline rocked with rousing rhythm and music. Cheerleaders, mascots and Chargerettes exuded Shelton Pride at every turn. The Chargers played a valiant game against Grace Prep.

Pep-nic includes lively tug of war

Fans painted the stadium blue with their Shelton spirit wear and even sipped blue slurpees throughout the evening.

At halftime, the Homecoming Court was presented, escorted by proud parents.

Queen and King: Jordan Brown and Andrew Redd
Freshman Prince and Princess: William Balthrope and Eve Miller

Sophomore Prince and Princess: Lee Broughton and Madison Mainer

Junior Prince and Princess: Matthew Laza and Alex Anderson

Senior Homecoming Court: Abby Alessio, Logan Cole, Shane Beck, and D'Shawn Webster

Earlier in the day, student representatives from varsity football, Chargerettes, varsity cheer and drumline organizations were featured on NBC 5 Today. Students did a great job sharing their Shelton experience and getting tv viewers pumped for the evening's festivities.

The evening was a magical once-in-a-lifetime event for the entire Shelton community, including an alumni turnout with graduates ranging from 1999 to 2016.

Students wrote and exchanged letters with one another, as well as read letters sent to them by parents. Faculty member Tobin Knox encouraged students to make the most of their senior year before preparing for the next stage in their lives. It was a great day for bonding through special memories.

We Did Take It With Us ...

We took home a great feeling after seeing the Upper School Theatre Arts' production of You Can't Take It With You in late October. The classic comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufman featured a cast and crew of 52 students. Anné Hughes directed the production, and Clay Houston led students in the building of an amazing set.

Band and Drumline Program Expands

Shelton has expanded its program with the addition of a Middle School Drumline. Thanks to a generous gift from the Shelton Parents' Association (SPA), 14 new drums were purchased for the new program. Band directors Jerry Bishop and Ken Utz are pleased to have new Middle School musicians in the pipeline for Upper School.

Drumline performs at Stampede auction

New instruments make great addition to band program

Ken Utz ready to unbox new instruments

Upper School Band and Drumline are beneficiaries of donations from SPA and the Music and Movement Foundation. Together, the funds made possible the purchase of large instruments, including tuba, baritone, baritone saxophone, bass clarinet, and a full range of percussion instruments with marimba, xylophone, chimes, timpani, orchestra bells and more.

Says Ken Utz, "These instruments step it up for our advanced bands so that students can have a more traditional band experience. This also allows our curriculum to flow from Early Childhood through Lower, Middle and Upper School with Orff percussion instruments and advanced mallet percussion. We're excited with these additions because they enhance the experience for our musicians at every grade level." Band and Drumline dazzled attendees at The Star as part of Homecoming festivities and at Grandparents' Day.

Everyone Loves a Movie

Upper School film students have 27 films in production for the 2017 Annual Shelton Film Festival in May at the Angelika Film Center.

In addition, the students shot a video of Joyce Pickering introducing the new American Montessori Society (AMS) president, to be viewed by all AMS members in March.

They are shooting a series of sport commentary pilots at the request of senior athletes who want to become future sports commentators.

Bryce Henderson's film, More Than Meets the Eye, written by senior Harper McKenzie, began filming in November and will continue through the year. The plot involves a deaf girl struggling in a private school.

These productions are a boon of portfolio opportunities for several filmmaking students.

The Film Club raised money by selling coffee and baked goods during parent conferences (see pg. 13) and from proceeds made a $500 donation to the Chargerettes' trip to Orlando, FL to perform at Disney World (see pg. 21) They also sponsored an October Family Movie Night featuring The Great Pumpkin Charlie Brown and A Charlie Brown Thanksgiving.

COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS BEYOND THE CAMPUS

Shelton Known for Its Culture of Service

Shelton is known for its involvement in a wide array of community service activities. To date, 2,449 hours have been turned in for the 2016-2017 year by Upper School students alone.

Freshmen and sophomores left campus for a community service day on November 2nd. Students visited and performed service for Meals on Wheels, Goodwill, Austin Street Shelter, and The Gardens or The Village retirement residences. All participants earned 4 hours of community service (not included in above total). Says Upper School community service coordinator Charlotte Lee, "The day was a meaningful experience for both students and teachers. A similar community service day will be arranged for juniors and seniors this spring."

Penn Eichorn

Eichorn Exemplary in Service

Senior Penn Eichorn visited Becky Hampson's 7th grade Social Skills class this fall to share his experiences and choices of volunteer activities. In 2015, Penn singlehandedly logged 291 hours of community service. He will return next quarter to speak about his involvement as president of Chargers for Change (see below).

Students Tackle Change

Chargers for Change (C4C), a Shelton student organization comprising 25 high school students whose mission is to positively impact school and community through service and resources, recently completed a book drive benefitting Reading Partners, a division of United Way. They collected 1,700 books through Shelton's high school division. Their most recent project is a campaign to raise awareness about mental health and suicide prevention. Funded by the Dallas Foundation, C4C exists to teach philanthropy to students at an early age. The original seed money came from John and Carol Levy (parents of Shelton graduate Allen Levy). New this year is a C4C mentor program, in which its officers, along with school administration, assist Shelton freshmen with junior or senior mentors. Jennifer Eckert is the faculty sponsor of the group.

They also assembled many other food boxes. The community service project was but one undertaken by Shelton students in the past several weeks. Faculty members Lauren Sanders and Mark Lamoreaux organized the trip.

Student Council spearheaded other food collections, including goods for the food pantry at Dallas Bible Church.

Book Fair Is a Big Deal

Shelton's annual Book Fair is one of the largest in the United States. Students line up at the front door by 7:30 a.m. Dads are straightening their ties as they walk in for early morning books and bagels with their children. Mothers, fathers, and grandparents enjoy Book Fair pizza lunches. It's a week-long celebration of books by teachers, students, families and friends. Proceeds go to Shelton's four libraries to underwrite special events like visiting authors and a springtime Literary Festival. Our Parents' Association coordinates the event with library staff, and it is an exciting time on campus. This year's event, Charge Into Reading, took place October 14 - 21. Sales were brisk, and net proceeds were $8,000.

Clubs Promote Reading and Discourse

In Upper School, students have the option to participate in clubs. Man Cave and Girls Book Club are a popular choice for some. Students enjoy lunch and conversation about current book selections.

Did You Know?

Approximately 2,000 people come through Shelton's libraries every month.

Librarians Are Friends Everyday

Students actively use Shelton's libraries every day. Librarians assist students with their independent work and help teachers with special units and research. While many resources are available online, there's no substitution for a friendly librarian helping a student with a good book selection in-house.

Shelton Beneficiary of Reasoning Mind Program

Shelton is pleased to begin using a program called Reasoning Mind, thanks to the generosity of the Hoglund Foundation. Many of our fifth- and sixth-graders, as well as a few classes in other grades, are supplementing their learning with this computer-based program. The program is self-paced and enhances the critical thinking and problem solving skills of our students. On September 16th our fifth and sixth grade math teachers attended a day of training given by Reasoning Mind Lead Implementation Coordinator, Roneshia Williams. The program is self-paced and enhances the skills the students are being taught in the classroom. This program gives the students the opportunity to problem solve, think critically, access previously learned material, and move into concepts that may be above their current grade level. It is another way that our students can perform beyond paper and pencil.

Shelton Students Attend Hart Global Leaders Forum

Three Upper School students, Annabelle Bragalone (Jr), Zane Buresh (Jr), and Jake DeWolf (Sr) attended the 2016 Hart Global Leaders Forum at Southern Methodist University (SMU) on November 14th, along with Linda Kneese, Head of School. The Forum provides more than 200 Dallas-area high school students who are selected by their school an opportunity to interact with national and international leaders in government, business, science and the media. This year the keynote speaker was former President George W. Bush. President Bush spoke to the students in a private session before speaking to a larger audience, which included the high school students. The format was a question and answer session lead by SMU President R. Gerald Turner. The students were exposed to the qualities of leadership as seen by a former president. Our students thought that President Bush was the highlight of the day.

Children's Medical Center Dallas Continues Rounds at Shelton

We continue to collaborate with Children's Medical Center (CMC) Dallas. Second-year pediatric residents observe at Shelton as part of their Developmental rotation. They visit in different settings at Shelton – Lower School, Upper Elementary, group speech and languages classes, and with our Speech / Language / Hearing program and Evaluation Center.

Pediatricians are often the first point of contact for parents whose children are having difficulties with reading, writing, spelling, speech, or attention. We are honored to partner with our friends at CMC.

It's All Greek to Me . . .

While this is not a quote from Middle School teacher Sarah Helffrich, here is her response to being announced as the winner of the annual Build Your Own Professional Development contest, which awards a $3,000 prize to make a professional dream come true.

"I am thrilled to have the opportunity to visit Greece and explore the origins of Greek mythology for seventh grade English curriculum. During my visit to Greece, I plan to visit Athens, Delphi, and Delos. The tour will include several theaters and temples dedicated to many different gods, the Greek Parliament, Acropolis, and sanctuaries. This professional development trip will allow me to gather current information, materials, and relevant pictures. My goal is to provide the students with more primary sources to help them truly understand the importance of Greek mythology and how it helps us understand history, language, and modern culture."

Sarah Helffrich

The rest of us must be content with seeing the pictures.

Wonder Wellness Woman

We Keep Charging Into Health

Opportunities abound through Shelton's Charge Into Health wellness program to get fit, be fit and stay fit.

Honoring a Friend and Colleague

On October 29th Meghan Miller, Testing Department, and Stephanie Weatherford, Speech Therapy Program, lead a Shelton team of walkers to raise funds and awareness of ALS in memory of their friend and long time Lower School teacher, Cathie Gilmore. Many staff members made donations in memory of Cathie and in support of people living with this disease and to further advancements in research for new treatments.

CTL has developed a Gateway Course to establish leadership self-awareness and styles. The program involves mentor engagements. Upper School faculty member Wil Matthews currently represents Shelton with CTL. Previous Shelton CTL participants have included Amy Kelton and Anne Hendrick-Thomas.
