C is for Cactus!
It's covered with spines,
so handle with care.
The state plant of Texas
is the Prickly Pear.

A circular graphic with a rope-like border. The left side is green with a faint cactus pattern. The right side shows a desert landscape with a large green cactus in the foreground and a mountain in the background. A cartoon eagle is perched on the bottom right of the circle.

M is for Mockingbird!
A grey and white bird
about 10 inches long.
It copies other birds
when it sings its song.

MOCKINGBIRD MILE

A is for Armadillo!
With sharp claws for digging and a long, pointed nose, its tough skin protects it wherever it goes!

R is for Rodeo!
The Texas state sport is full of roping and riding, racing and bucking, steer wrestling, and sliding.
