

ALUMNI NOTES

 Aubrey Bryan ('13), a recent grad from St. Stephen's Episcopal School, participated in the Summer Scholars Program at the University of Miami last summer, where she took two classes and received six college credits. Her classes focused on criminology, and her time at the University of Miami allowed her to get a sneak peek into college life. Next year, Aubrey is headed to the University of Alabama.

 Wade Burton ('10) is finishing his junior year at SMU where he is studying Advertising. Even as a student, Wade is already completing creative design, advertising, and branding work for four clients. This summer worked in NYC as an art direction intern at McCann New York (clients include Coca Cola, Master Card, GM, L'Oreal, Nestle, among others). He's very excited, and we are very proud of him!

 John Clarke ('10) is spending his summer in Washington DC. He is working for Congressman Steve Scalise. John currently attends Princeton University.

 Monica Dayao ('11) is attending the University of Cambridge in the UK, and has completed her sophomore year. She was recently awarded the Robin Sports Award for playing golf and volleyball.

Natalie Stimson, the Administrative Assistant to the Tutorial and Admissions Office shared the following, "Monica Dayao is a second year engineer at Girton [College of the University of Cambridge]. She has played golf at a high level since childhood and has continued to play regularly while at Girton. She has been a member of the successful Varsity team on two occasions so far, gaining a full Blue, and is the incoming captain of the University Women's Golf Club. In addition she has played volleyball for the University second team this year as well as continuing her golf. The time commitment required for regular golf competition is enormous and she manages this with exemplary skill and good humour."

Blake Heatherington, '14, in Florence, Italy; Sam Shapiro, '14, completed his Eagle Scout project this spring; Jane Hayes, '08, is attending medical school
