

CHALLENGING STUDENT RECORDS

The Governing Board desires to have a fair and equitable system when there is a challenge to school records.

Parents, students, and staff need to work together to resolve student record challenges in the most informal and timely fashion possible. The Governing Board is the final authority on student record challenges unless the parent agrees to a panel per education code.

Whenever it becomes evident to a teacher that a student is in danger of failing a course, the teacher shall arrange a conference with the student's parent/guardian or send the parent/guardian written notice. (Education Code 49067)
