Dear 3M Superstar,

I'm very happy to be writing this letter because it means you are in my class! We have an exciting adventure ahead of us! A few topics third graders learn about are metric and customary measurements, water, geography, the rights and responsibilities of citizenship, the adaptations of living things, and the importance of having a positive attitude. Math will be simultaneously challenging and fun. By the end of third grade you'll be adding, subtracting, multiplying, and dividing. You will learn about fractions, money, time, geometry, algebra, and probability; as well as delve into in-depth investigations of mathematic concepts. You'll journey through many genres of literature, and learn to be a fluent, independent text detective; as well as a focused reader and writer.

My job is to try to make your learning challenging, interesting, and fun. Your job is to be responsible, cooperative, engaged and enthusiastic! With a combination like that, we can only succeed! I am looking forward to learning, growing, and exploring with you. A 3M "Supply Wish List" is enclosed in the email with this letter. Please try to collect the supplies and bring them with you on the first day of school. In addition, while in class you may enjoy a daily healthful snack. Please do not bring cookies, candy, cake, or soda for a snack. Snacks like pretzels, crackers, fruits, cheese, yoghurt, proteins and vegetables have proven to be much better for thinking and learning; which you'll be doing a lot of in the third grade!

Third grade in 3M, at Merion School, will be a wonderfully awesome experience in which we will learn, grow, investigate, discover, and explore together. You have an assignment for the first days of school! Please draw, print, or collect small pictures of things that remind you of you-favorite foods, hobbies, pets, family photos, or interests are all good examples. You will be using them for a project the first days of the school year.

I'm looking forward to learning and growing with you.
See you soon,
Mrs. Miller
