Duke Summer Academy Various Subjects

Durham, NC

Duke Summer Academy for High School Students provides a stimulating and thought-provoking learning experience that will help you understand what it means to be a global citizen. You will choose one course from five options (below), with each option providing a unique and global perspective of citizenship. Rather than sitting at a desk and simply listening to a lecture while taking notes, you will engage in a variety of interactive assignments designed to build critical skills essential to preparing for the world beyond high school. You will participate in role playing, discussions, interviews, debates, and other dynamic educational activities while learning alongside peers from around the world. Summer Academy meets Monday through Friday for approximately six hours a day for classroom activities. Additional optional enrichment activities are planned for evenings and weekends. <http://summersession.duke.edu/high-school-students/duke-summer-academy>

Duke University – Talent Identification Program Various Subjects

Durham, NC

The Duke University Talent Identification Program (Duke TIP) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to serving academically gifted and talented youth. As a world leader in gifted and talented education, Duke TIP works with students, their families, and educators to identify, recognize, challenge, engage, and help students reach their highest potential. Children with advanced intellectual and academic abilities continually perplex and challenge educators and parents, and schools may not have the resources and staff to adequately provide for the academic challenges, and social and emotional support that gifted children require. Duke TIP is committed to serving this unique group of students by providing services and programs beyond what is offered in the classroom to meet the individual needs of gifted children. For a variety of reasons, many gifted children simply do not reach their full potential. Exceptionally bright students often go unrecognized because they hide their talents, underachieve, or exhibit behavioral problems. In addition, a disproportionately large number of minority students, youngsters from families where English is not the primary spoken language in the home and children from less affluent families are at risk for not being identified as gifted. We also offer summer programs for gifted students in grades 4th – 12th.

Abbey Road Language

Various Locations

Learning/ Cultural Immersion

Language and cultural instruction is not just our profession. Our teaching method is founded on active, experiential learning in a non-traditional educational environment. Our French, Spanish and Italian courses, among other academic subjects, are designed to be both educational and fun, emphasizing student motivation and interaction, as well as a diversity of teaching methods and educational media. The Abbey Road Experiential Learning Method incorporates aspects of the communicative approach into its methodology while promoting language learning, use and interaction in real, non-simulated situations. We believe in hands-on language learning and therefore spend most of the time outside of the classroom where students converse with locals and participate in authentic, activity-based situations that not only enhance their Spanish, French, Italian and other language skills, but also encourage cultural immersion within the host community. ACLU Summer Advocacy Institute

Washington, D.C.

Law

From free speech to privacy and from mass incarceration to voting rights, students will become experts on the issues currently being confronted in the United States' courts and political arena. The ACLU's Summer Advocacy Institute will bring together a diverse group of students entering their junior and senior years of high school from across the United States to participate in an advanced, firsthand learning experience for the next generation of social justice advocates. Through an intensive 8-day program in Washington D.C., students will learn directly from lawyers, lobbyists, community activists, and other experts working to defend the civil rights and liberties critical to a free and open society. <https://www.aclu.org/issues/aclu-summer-institute?redirect=institute>

Action Quest

Adventure Programs

The AQ experience is centered on small, co-ed, age appropriate groups of 8 to 20 teenagers. This encourages close friendships to form while fostering a unique, hands-on experience. Programs are non-competitive, adventure-based and most are run full-time aboard sailing vessels. This is a core component of any AQ experience. Beyond the fun, living and learning aboard a yacht offers a perfect environment to develop leadership and communication skills, as there is nothing contrived about teamwork when working together as part of a tight-knit crew. Our programs have always been grounded in experiential education. Students have a greater feeling of accomplishment from having completed things themselves. In addition, their self-reliance and confidence soar from achieving new skills and certifications. For those students who really want to get away, global programs are offered in the tropical South Seas, Tahiti and Polynesia, and the Galapagos Islands, sailing off to coastal towns and islands in the Mediterranean, and in Australia, sailing and diving the Great Barrier Reef. Berklee College of Music

Boston, MA

Performing Arts

The Five-Week Program is a pre-college course ideally suited to high school students but open to all eligible applicants. You must be at least 15 years old by the start of the program and have at least six months of playing (or singing) experience. Most students are of high school and college age. During Five-Week, you will be immersed in all aspects of performance. Your classes, workshops, and ensembles will focus on this important side of your musician-ship. You will play in a band, develop improvisational and reading skills, improve your instrumental craft in weekly private lessons, and participate in classes and demonstrations by well-known faculty and visiting artists. Five-Week emphasizes the mastery of playing or singing performance skills in your chosen style of contemporary music: jazz, pop, rock, funk, fusion, R&B, country, musical theater, bluegrass, etc. Learn and develop your skills through your individual studies and work with other musicians of similar training and ability. Whether you are an experienced performer or someone who has never been in front of an audience, you can improve your performance skills by attending Five-Week. The focus is on you and what you want to say and do through your music, in an environment that is all about performance. There are other summer workshops available as well. Cultural Heritage Alliance (CHA) Cultural Immersion

ENRICHMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Various Locations

CHA stands for "Cultural Heritage Alliance." We were founded by two dedicated foreign language teachers in 1969. Over the past 45 years, CHA has grown to become one of the largest and most successful companies of its kind in the U.S. and is the oldest American-owned educational tour operator in existence today. Over one million teachers and students from across the U.S. and Canada have toured the world with CHA. A CHA educational tour is a "living" classroom. Ideal for foreign language, history or literature students, CHA tours are designed for maximum educational and cultural exposure. Teachers accompany students overseas, assuring a constant connection between the sites

Outward Bound Wilderness Programs Various Locations Wilderness

Outward Bound is more than just an outdoor camp. It is more than a wilderness adventure. Outward Bound has been changing lives through challenge and discovery for more than 50 years by using the wilderness as a classroom to provide unparalleled opportunities for discovery, personal growth, self-reliance, teamwork and compassion. Wilderness expeditions require participants to dig deep and discover hidden strengths they didn't know they had, while gaining the confidence they need to succeed. Courses are available year-round at locations across the country and range from one week to three months. The average program lasts for 15 days, with challenging activities include backpacking, canyoneering, canoeing, dog sledding, mountaineering, whitewater rafting, rock climbing, sailing, sea kayaking, skiing and snowboarding. Each student also participates in a "solo" portion of their course where they can be alone to reflect on their journey. Many students find the "solo" to be the highlight of their experience and after course students report higher levels of confidence, self-esteem and teamwork skills; three times higher than they report before they embark on this life changing educational journey. Overland Adventure Various Locations

Summer camps for 4th – 12th graders. Hike a mountain, bike down a coast, serve a community, learn another language, improve your writing skills, discover your strengths, and achieve your dreams. At its heart, this is the Overland experience: a small group of students with inspiring leadership, engaged in a carefully crafted challenge that captures their imagination, stretches their abilities and strengthens their bonds with each other. We place a premium on selflessness, consideration for others and teamwork. In so doing, we catalyze in our students an understanding of the world beyond themselves, beyond their own needs and wants – and we do this while showing them how beautiful and exciting, how full of promise the world is. Overland is not simply a summer experience – it's a life experience with value and resonance that extends far beyond the boundaries of a single summer. Reynolds Young Writers Workshop Writing Granville, OH

Every summer for more than two decades, talented high school students (current sophomores and juniors) have been welcomed to Denison University in Granville, Ohio, for the acclaimed Reynolds Young Writers Workshop. The workshop is an eight-day residential program that incorporates small creative writing workshops, group sessions with Denison creative writing faculty and notable visiting writers, and much more.

Only 48 students get the chance to come to the Hill to participate each June. That means students experience small, intimate writing workshops and one-on-one interactions with people who have made writing their career. It's a great way to connect with a close-knit community of writing teachers, mentors, and peers from around the world. This is your students' chance to work with award-winning authors whose work has appeared in publications like The New Yorker, The Atlantic, and SB Nation; who have published books; who care deeply about storytelling; and who love to teach. <https://reynolds.denison.edu/>

We teach students practical life skills: teamwork, communication, and decision-making resulting in increased independence and self-confidence. Each program has a distinct focus including sailing, scuba, water sports, leadership, marine science, cultural immersion and service learning. Community service is built in to every program. Students can earn from 5 to 30 community service hours, by doing some of the following activities: working with local after-school program in Tortola, teaching young students how to swim, snorkel and sail, and working with Wildlife Conservation Society's sea turtle project. School of Visual Arts Arts New York, NY

The Pre-College Summer Program mimics a fast-paced foundation year experience in the New York art scene. Pre-College students are immersed in their chosen field of study through lectures on art history, theory and the use of media and material. The program is further enhanced with a comprehensive list of supervised activities that takes full advantage of the social and cultural life of New York City. The summer program is scheduled for three weeks in July and classes are taught Monday through Friday from 9 am - 4 pm. Students living in the SVA residence hall during the program must be mature, responsible and ready for the creative and personal freedom this program allows. Participants must have a serious attitude toward making artwork as their primary focus during the program. The summer program is open to all students who will be enrolled in high school fall 2014. The School for Ethics and Global Leadership Washington DC Leadership

Should the U.S. have intervened in the Rwandan genocide? Should the international community lift sanctions on Iran? What is the best way to promote education for girls around the globe? These are the types of questions challenging world leaders today. This summer they will challenge you too. Using international and domestic issues as case studies and our nation's capital as an interactive classroom, SEGL's Summer Ethics and Leadership Institute provides students with the tools necessary to confront these issues and to effect positive change in our world. The program is for a hand-picked group of 24 rising high school juniors and seniors from across the country. The program is intentionally small in order to create the best environment for participants to build a tight-knit community, enhance collaboration skills, and learn from one another and our roster of guest experts. Throughout the five-week program, students visit think tanks, NGOs, and government offices, meet with local leaders and experts, as well as enhance their public speaking, debate, and collaborative skills. The program challenges students to approach ethical dilemmas from multiple perspectives. For more information or apply, please visit: <http://schoolforethics.org/admissions/summer-at-segl/>

Williwaw Adventures Backpacking/Sailing

Every Williwaw expedition offers its students unparalleled opportunities for personal growth, as they accept leadership roles, step up to challenges and serves as the members of a close-knit team. Living and working with a group is an important skill that is naturally developed in the wilderness or at sea. With the group, participants learn the importance of relying on each other and of being a part of a team. Wilderness travel, paddling and sailing are the core components to our expeditions. Our goal is to have students leave with a solid foundation of skills to build future adventures. Full tuition scholarships available and encourage students to apply by February 15 or April 15. For more information please call (800) 585-2523 or visit the website: www.WilliwawAdventures.com

World Living - A Program of World Learning International Travel/Cultural Immersion

The Experiment in International Living provides 3-, 4-, and 5-week summer programs for high school students who want to connect deeply and engage meaningfully with the richness and complexities of another country. Programs equip students not only with essential cultural and, in many cases, language skills, but also with a deeper awareness of and sensitivity to global issues shaping the diverse communities and regions we visit. Students explore the host country through hands-on experiences in local communities and through the lens of a specific theme. Experiment groups are small, typically comprising 10–15 students who represent a range of backgrounds. Experimenters should expect to learn about the diverse cultures and socioeconomic backgrounds that exist within the US and around the world. For more information please call (800) 345-2929 or www.experimentinternational.org

Where there be Dragons Learning Adventures

Various Locations

Various Locations

Dragons programs are authentic, rugged and profound student travel adventures that expose the beautiful and complex realities of the countries in which we travel. Featuring extended itineraries, Dragons programs encourage deep immersion into strikingly different physical and cultural landscapes, combining the best in experiential education, travel, service learning, and physically and intellectually challenging experiences. While Dragons programs vary in their focus—with some trekking and wilderness intensive, others strong on service and development studies, and still others language-oriented—all Dragons journeys are designed above all else to be fun, safe and honest educational experiences. On ancient maps Dragons were drawn to symbolize the unknown, and to travel beyond the familiar world was to go “where there be dragons.” There are people who live their lives for adventure, exploration and knowledge— people who are willing to venture into the unknown for the sake of discovery. For those people, we offer incredible experiences. We hope you are one of them. Where do you want to go? For more information call (800) 982-9203 or www.wheretherebedragons.com

World Leadership School

Various Locations

The World Leadership School is founded on the belief that global problems such as climate change and poverty demand new and powerful forms of leadership. We believe great leaderships can be taught. We also believe that extraordinary experiences can inspire young people to become extraordinary leaders. We work with school and universities to create service learning and leadership programs with communities in Peru, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Belize and the French Caribbean island of Guadeloupe. Our partner communities are making progress against global problems thanks to strong local leadership. Our 10-28 day trips allow students to experience these inspiring communities and learn about global issues by working to solve them. Along the way students will embark on outdoor adventures, immerse themselves in the foreign language and culture, and think about themselves and their world in a whole new way. This program consists of Global Issues, Service Learning, Leadership Training, and Language Immersion. For more information contact (303) 679-3412 or www.worldleadershipschool.com
