Community Council Minutes

Nikki shared that the Jr. High did a study about school attendance and found that the absences jump hugely in February. Sickness, and vacations?

Chad from Bell Photography

Bell donates to the foundation. They are all locally produced, and family owned. They have uniforms, and really work on being visible for security sake.

Bell pays the sales tax on their photos. Standard packages for all of staff and students. Complimentary packages, they retouch the faculty portraits. Very comprehensive photography and printing. We are interested in the visitor badges.

Jan Hobbs from Inter-State Studio

The photographers are certified. They go to extensive training twice a year. A couple of pictures for each student. The students can “take a peek” at their picture to see if they like their picture. They pride themselves on being good with SpED and FSkills. Grow up program. They photograph on a green screen. Highest quality paper. Customer service is a point of pride. They aren’t in Davis yet. They have quite a few schools in Logan and northward. Safe school cards are available for not extra charge.

Eastman Adams

They are our current photographers. Our prices are the lowest because we don’t do a lot of extras. They have real photographers. Everyone that works for them really care. They can do visitor tags. No background check, but they know their people personally. They’ve never hired anyone they don’t know. They focus on elementary schools. They work further south, Canyons etc.

Brian – Life Touch

No extra charge for backgrounds. They like parents to go online so that they can customize their packets. Each sheet can be a different item. They have merged with Shutterfly. Everyone that purchases this fall, you get a $30.00 book from Shutterfly. My family rewards account. You log in with your email address they give you coupons towards your next order.

I had to leave to teach Mrs. Palmer’s Class
