

KINDERGARTEN, INFANTS & JUNIOR SCHOOLS

FRIDAY 4 OCTOBER 2019

Dear Parents,

The school environment is a fantastic place to be. Of course, it is not only the children who are inspired and learn new things, it is the adults too. It was lovely to hear a Reception boy explain the importance of understanding how to be ECO friendly after enjoying the picture book, 'Where's the elephant?' and feel confident that these crucial messages are embedded at such an early age.

From Reception to Sixth Form: I was equally as delighted to listen to one of our young men perform at the Junior Boys assembly. The boys were in awe as he sang and played the piano, it was clear the boys were inspired by his amazing talent and thoroughly entertained. It is affirming to see our pupils grow into confident and well-rounded young adults.

Kind regards,

Mrs C Howard

Head of Kindergarten, Infants and Junior Girls, Acting Head of Junior Boys

YEAR 5 WRITE NARRATIVE POETRY

This week, Year 5 girls have been busy writing narrative poetry.

They started by looking at some poetry by Michael Rosen and his own style of performance.

Having written their own account of a significant event, (which ranged from the 'Chickens of Doom' to a head being stuck in a cat flap), the children then considered how to arrange the story into a narrative poem.

By looking at where they wished to place emphasis, the children were able to prepare some excellent pieces, ready for performance.
