

A GOOD PATH TO INDIGENIZING LEARNING: PLANTING SEEDS OF POSSIBILITY

This conference invites participants to experience and explore approaches, pedagogical practices and inspiring examples for the Indigenization of student learning and educational spaces.

- Open and close the day grounded in traditional Anishinaabe protocols with Traditional Knowledge Keeper Kim Wheatley (Turtle Clan, Shawanaga First Nation)
- Explore ways to respectfully Indigenize classrooms and schools with Facing History and Ourselves and Lorrie Gallant (Cayuga Nation, Six Nations of the Grand River)
- Take part in a private Decolonizing and Indigenizing learning tour of the McLean Centre for Indigenous and Canadian Art
- Be inspired by whole school and subject specific ideas for weaving Indigenous learning into professional development, curricular and co-curricular learning
