TSI Critical Reading Tutorials, Wave 2

It's your turn! TSI tutorials begin for you on Monday, October 7th. You will be taking the TSI Critical Reading Test again on November 13th. As such, you need to plan to attend at least 5 afternoon tutorials.

Please circle and commit to 5 of the 8 afternoon tutorials offered below (you may attend more if you can/want to). If you do not attend at least 5 tutorials, you will forfeit the privilege of taking the test in November, and you will be unable to test again until next semester. Mrs. Acevedo has contacted your coaches, directors, and sponsors to let them know that this is the expectation as you must pass this test in order to stay on track for your college courses.

If you are unable to attend tutorials in the afternoon, you may attend morning tutorials. Mrs. Cash will be available most morning in room 219. It takes 2 morning tutorials to equal an afternoon tutorial.

We are working on transportation for the afternoons. If you need afternoon transportation and have not already done so, please let Mrs. Cash know as soon as possible.
