Dear Dr. Wells:

The President of the University of Texas at Austin, Gregory L. Fenves, recently sent a letter to the Commissioner of Education, Mike Morath, regarding automatic admission to the university for the 2020-2021 academic year. The letter indicates that the university will automatically admit freshman applicants from Texas high schools who are in the top 6% of their classes, which is the same rank needed for automatic admission for 2019-2020 applicants.

A copy of the President's letter is enclosed. I would appreciate your assistance in helping to spread the details about automatic admission with educators in your area.

Visit the UT Austin Admission Decisions web page at <http://admissions.utexas.edu/apply/decisions>. Please contact our Office of Admissions if you have any questions about the university's admissions process. The office contact information is uac@austin.utexas.edu and 512-475-7399 phone.

Mr. Mike Morath
Commissioner
Texas Education Agency
William B. Travis Building, Room 2-185
Agency Code: 701

Dear Commissioner Morath:

Senate Bill 175, passed by the 81st Legislature, modified the "Top 10%" automatic admission program at The University of Texas at Austin. Under SB 175, UT Austin is required to offer automatic admission to "75 percent of the university's enrollment capacity designated for first-time resident undergraduate students in an academic year."

Section 51.805 (a-2) of the Texas Education Code (TEC) requires the university, in a manner prescribed by the Texas Education Agency (TEA) and not later than September 15 annually, to:

provide to each school district, for dissemination of the information to high school junior-level students and their parents, notice of which percentile ranks of high school senior-level students who qualify for automatic admission under Subsection (a) are anticipated by the institution to be offered admission under Subsection (a-1) during the next school year.

Using data from recent years, the university has determined that automatically admitting students in the top 6 percent of their high school graduating class to the 2020 entering freshman class will fill 75 percent of available spaces. As a result, The University of Texas at Austin will automatically admit all eligible summer/fall 2020 and spring 2021 freshman applicants who rank in the top 6 percent of their high school graduating classes. This is the same percentage in use for summer/fall 2019 and spring 2020.

SB 175, passed in 2009, took effect with the 2011-12 academic year. With one exception, UT Austin has met the 75 percent threshold each year. As you are undoubtedly aware, growth in the number of Texas high school graduates over the past decade has translated into growth in applications for admission to UT Austin, as well as the number of UT Austin applicants eligible for automatic admission. According to the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE), the number of high school graduates in Texas is projected to continue to increase through 2024-25 (Knocking at the College Door, December 2016).

Year	Percentile	% Auto Admit
2011	Top 8%	77%
2012	Top 9%	78%
2013	Top 8%	80%

2014	Top 7%	73%
2015	Top 7%	75%
2016	Top 8%	76%
2017	Top 7%	75%
2018	Top 7%	75%

This information is provided to you in accordance with provisions of SB 175. If you have any questions, or require additional information, please contact Rachelle Hernandez, senior vice provost for enrollment management. UT Austin will send a copy of this letter to the Regional Education Service Center (ESC) executive directors with a request that they assist in the dissemination of the information to all school districts in Texas.

I appreciate your assistance and that of the TEA in disseminating this information to high school juniors and their parents across the state.

Sincerely,

Gregory L. Ferrves
President
