Dear Sixth Grade Reader:

As you eagerly anticipate summer vacation, it is important to allocate time to read and build on academic curiosities. To support academic growth over the summer, please be sure to read. Take advantage of thoughtful selections that are enjoyable to read. This is a list of some recommended authors that provides a variety of fiction for young adult readers. Challenge yourself and choose a novel that embraces cultures from all over the world global/international setting.

When choosing a book, we recommend that you read the back cover or jacket of the book to see if the story line interests you. You might also read the summaries available online. We also suggest that you read a page anywhere in the book to make sure that the vocabulary level and author's style are suitable, a "just right" book.

After reading your book, answer the questions on the Summer Reading Response Form attached to this letter. Even though only one book is required, we hope that you have the opportunity to read many books this summer. Your ELA teacher will collect and review your sheet the first week of sixth grade.

Happy reading!

Sincerely,
Sixth Grade Language Arts Teachers
