VISITOR'S GUIDE

WELCOME TO HEBRON, WELCOME TO MAINE!

Home to some of the most stunning landscapes and diverse wildlife on the Eastern Seaboard, Maine is open to explore year-round. Whether you're interested in visiting Acadia National Park for fall foliage, Portland's waterfront or Hebron's summer hikes, Maine is the perfect outdoor playground. During your visit you will also find a vibrant community of small business owners whose stores, galleries and restaurants represent the true heart of what it means to be a Mainer: hard work, fine craftsmanship and pride in representing our unique state.

RESTAURANTS

Yes there's lobster. But there's also artisanal bread, handcrafted beer, amazing shellfish, and a ridiculous number of excellent restaurants.

Portland, Maine won the Bon Appétit 2018 Restaurant City of the Year.

HOTELS

Around Hebron Academy, lodging fits every style and budget. As you may expect, there are dozens of cute B&B's and historic boutique hotels scattered around town, in addition to a few seaside resorts, chic downtown business hotels, and hip hostels available.

The only problem? You'll never want to leave.

ATTRACTIONS

Maine has so many fun attractions, it's no wonder Maine is nicknamed "Vacationland." Whether you like big adventure, or just beautiful sightseeing, boating, golfing, biking, skiing, or just visiting lighthouses, antique shops, playhouses, museums and galleries.

Where to eat?

Cafe Nomad

Café Nomad is committed to buying food from local farms whenever available. They pride themselves in purchasing meat that is free of antibiotics and in purchasing fresh high quality produce. They have home made, from scratch, baked goods that are baked daily on-site. Breakfast, lunch and dinner specials are featured daily.

Norway Brewing Co.

Norway Brewing Company is a family-owned microbrewery right off route 26 in Norway, Maine. They have a welcoming and family-friendly taproom open year-round, as well as a spacious beer garden during the warmer months. They brew our own beer and our food is hand-made and tailored to suit the season. Their goal is to use as many locally sourced ingredients as possible; they have reached out to fruit and vegetable growers, livestock and dairy farmers, as well as local grain and hop growers to create a network of producers who supply their chefs and brewers with raw ingredients grown right here in Maine.

Eventide Oyster Co.

Eventide marks the transition between day and night, a time that calls for refreshment and rejuvenation. Eventide Oyster Co. offers a variety of restaurants—they welcome you to join them at any time of day for satisfying food, spirits and good cheer. A revival of the great American oyster bar, Eventide Oyster Co. offers pristine shellfish and a fresh take on classic New England fare—such proximity to the Gulf of Maine provides the sharpest seafood money can buy. A wine list chosen to complement shellfish, craft cocktails, and a warm sense of hospitality bring laid-back extravagance to Portland's Old Port.

Portland Empire

Once the site of Portland's first deluxe Chinese Restaurant, The Empire (1916-1953), their doors are open once again to serve authentic Chinese food of the finest quality. Their kitchen specializes in Dim Sum, a style of Chinese brunch comprised of delectable dumplings and savory small dishes meant to be leisurely eaten family-style. The menu also features traditional and modern Chinese soul food, sourced locally, taking advantage of Maine's amazing natural offerings. We invite you to join them in the true spirit of Dim Sum, to have a nourishing meal in the company of friends and family.

Fore Street Rest.

Fore Street, located one block from the waterfront in Portland's Old Port District, opened in June, 1996. Fore Street's interior surrounds a unique brick, and soapstone hearth consisting of a wood-burning oven, grill, and turnspit, visible from most tables. Hardwood and apple wood fires cook and flavor the seafood, meats, game, and vegetables that have made Fore Street a New England destination. In 2011, he won the Chef's Collaborative "Sustainer of the Year" award for his work in sustainability and local food issues. Fore Street has also been a semi-finalist for "Outstanding Restaurant" a national category from the James Beard Foundation consecutive years since 2011.

What to do?

Downtown Portland (Old Port)

The Old Port is a quaint historic district with cobblestone streets and brick buildings housing clothing boutiques, gourmet food stores, and souvenir shops. It's also a nightlife hot spot where pubs, breweries, and cocktail bars draw young crowds, and a lively dining scene includes stylish New England restaurants and traditional seafood spots by the waterfront. Ferries depart to Casco Bay Islands from the pier.

Freeport, Maine

Experience New England's favorite shopping destination. Located on the shores of Casco Bay, Freeport is world-famous for our hundreds of brand-name outlets and local boutiques housed in charming brick buildings, some dating back as far as the 18th century. In addition to world-class shopping, Freeport offers delectable local cuisine, four-star lodging and a diverse assortment of enjoyable activities for all ages and interests. Rich in history, nature and the arts, you'll come to shop and stay to play.

The White Mountains

The White Mountains region offers visitors one memorable experience after another. It has popular and legendary attractions, easy walks to strenuous hikes, Donald-Ross designed golf courses, crystal clear mountain lakes and streams for swimming and boating, and sandy lakeside beaches just perfect for lying in the sun. The scenery is gorgeous, and you can see it everywhere from the seat of your car, to a bicycle seat or the back of a horse.

Acadia National Park

Whether you're interested in visiting Acadia National Park for fall foliage, winter skiing, spring fishing or summer hikes, it's the perfect outdoor playground. The park is about 160 miles from Portland, Maine, and about 50 miles from Bangor, Maine. The town of Bar Harbor, located on Mount Desert Island, shares borders with the park and is a popular home base for those visiting the park.

Portland Head Light House

For over two centuries, Maine lighthouses have stood as beacons in the night along Maine's rocky coast. They have also stood the test of time. Not only are these glowing citadels still providing protection for seafarers and their vessels; they offer safe harbor to visitors searching for an unforgettable experience. Among Maine's 65 lighthouses, Portland Head Light, is a historic lighthouse in Cape Elizabeth, Maine. The light station sits on a head of land at the entrance of the primary shipping channel into Portland Harbor, which is within Casco Bay in the Gulf of Maine. Completed in 1791, it is the oldest lighthouse in the state of Maine.

Winter Sports

Looking out across the snowy pines and down the wintry slopes of the mountain is a rush. This is Maine's best-kept secret: the adventures and activities of winter. If you live for the chilly thrill of winter sports, you'll love Maine in the winter. Resorts like the Sunday River and Sugarloaf are the heart of Maine's winter activity. There are mid-size mountains throughout the state. One of the world's best toboggan runs is at the Camden Snow Bowl.
