Article: Helping Your Child Make Friends

Every parent wants their child to have friends. If this is an area your child needs help with, there are many things you can do to help, including:

- Give your child many chances for socialization, including joining an after school or extra-curricular activity.
- Schedule play dates with friends from school
- Role play meeting a new friend, greeting each other in a friendly way and having conversation
- Model for your child how to be a good friend and positive social skills
