English Department

Sarah Fager

- Discussed possible ways to reallocate No Red Ink funding
 - Whole-grade level collaboration day in November and in the Spring
 - Increase the number of high-interest book titles available for each classroom (about $1000)
 - Donate or sell old books that aren't used anymore – can be sold back to the vendor or given to nearby elementaries.
 - Books can be funded with different funds.
 - Send the whole English department to a Literacy Conference on Nov. 8
 - $1460 to send everyone and pay for subs.
- Vote on reallocation of partial No Red Ink funding to pay for the Literacy Conference for all English teachers.
 - Motioned by John, seconded by Kathleen, unanimously approved with a required report from the teachers on what they learned and their action plan for the rest of the year.
- Vote on reallocation of the rest of the No Red Ink funding into the collaboration fund for all departments
 - Motioned by Melanie, seconded by Kathleen, unanimously approved.
