

AMI Primary Guide

Posted 11/4/2019

Aidan Montessori School, an independent, AMI-recognized school located in Woodley Park, Washington DC, seeks a dynamic, creative, and caring teacher to lead one of our Primary classrooms for the 2020-2021 school year.

Founded in 1961, Aidan Montessori School serves a diverse community of 190 children. Our mission is to create and sustain an optimum Montessori environment where expert educators can guide their students through hands-on experience, independent research, and personally-tailored lessons, and where each child can realize his or her richest potential for learning and become an enthusiastic, confident, self-motivated, and contributing member of society.

Our candidates must have AMI Primary Montessori diploma with teaching experience at the Primary level and a combination of demonstrated abilities and interests in the following areas:

- Creating a peaceful, respectful, and loving classroom and school culture
- Managing cycles of lessons, projects, observations, assessments, and reports for each child
- Differentiating Montessori lessons for a variety of student interests and abilities
- Communicating thoughtfully throughout our community
- Collaborating with parents and colleagues to meet goals for our children, classroom, and school

If you are an energetic and committed professional, please send your resume and letter of interest to employment@aidanschool.org.
