The Digital Humanities & Pedagogy Working Group at Misericordia University announces a two-day symposium on digital tools and programs.

Combining technological workshops and pedagogical sessions, the symposium will introduce participants to the ways in which digital tools can be integrated into a classroom environment.

Attendees are encouraged to bring laptops or tablets to all workshops.

All sessions are free, however space is limited and RSVPs are required for the Friday/Saturday Workshops.

Featured Speakers:

Michelle Moravec, Ph.D., Associate Professor of History, Rosemont College

Charlotte Nunes, Ph.D., Director, Digital Scholarship Services, Lafayette College

Alicia Peaker, Ph.D., Digital Scholarship Specialist, Bryn Mawr College

Sponsored by the members of the Digital Humanities and Pedagogy Working Group.
