

Dear Parent/Guardian:

As you begin to examine all of our outstanding elementary schools, there are still some basic, timeless principles of education which you should consider when selecting a school for your child. Do the people who will work with my son or daughter really care about them and will my child achieve his or her full potential in this school? We feel that the answer to those two questions is a resounding yes. Every staff member at the Raymond School, from our teachers to our custodial staff, works hard each day to provide an exceptional learning environment where the needs of your child are a top priority.

The Raymond School is fortunate to have a School Uniform Policy. Students are expected to come to school each day dressed for success in our school uniforms.

Our staff have high expectations for students and challenge them to become active learners who use good values when interacting with their peers. The key to the success of the Raymond School is a climate that fosters cooperation and respect among our Raymond "family".

Unique to our school is the Michelle A. Logan Parent Center where parents are always welcome to come together either during the day or evening, talk with one another and gain insights into parenting and education.

We truly believe that a strong partnership between home and school is critical to making sure your child is successful.

Please visit our school to see our staff and students in action. You will have the opportunity to observe first hand the learning process in an exciting atmosphere that encourages success and a love of learning.
