

Financial Assistance Program For Kindergarten through Eighth Grade Families

Ann & Nate Levine Academy's Financial Assistance program offers access to a Jewish education for families who cannot meet the financial obligation of the full tuition. It provides the school the opportunity to maintain socio-economic diversity in the student body. Financial assistance is for families with students in Kindergarten through Eighth Grade and is based on demonstrated financial need.

Frequently Asked Questions

How much can I expect to pay in tuition if I apply for Financial Assistance?

Each family situation is unique and tuition reductions are personalized to match each family's situation to pay its fair share based on its financial picture.

How is Financial Assistance determined?

Upon completion of the FACTS Application, it is submitted to a confidential committee for review. The committee takes several factors into consideration as it reviews the application. These include, but are not limited to; income, assets, family size, cost of living, unusual expenses and number of independent school or college tuitions. Then, using all this information, the committee determines what a family's fair share of tuition should be in relation to the funds available.

Who can apply?

Only families with students in Kindergarten through Eighth Grade can apply for the Financial Assistance program. The tuition affordability program (TAP) is open to all students from Early Childhood through Eighth Grade.

Can you receive both Financial Assistance and TAP?

No. Qualifying families receive one or the other.

Do I have to re-apply every year?

Yes. The applicant's financial picture may change year to year and its needs may increase or decrease accordingly. In addition, our budget for Financial Assistance changes from year to year and that impacts the amount of funds available for families.

If I received Financial Assistance this year, can I count on it to be the same next year?

No. In addition to an applicant's financial picture changing each year, so does the applicant pool. New students enter, some leave or graduate and a family's needs may increase. The committee takes these and many other factors into consideration each year before determining what each applicant's tuition will be.

When can I expect to hear about whether we qualify for Financial Assistance?

All Financial Assistance applications submitted by January 20, 2020 deadline along with required supporting documents can expect decisions by February 13, 2020. New Applicant families are notified with their admission decisions.
