College Board Opportunity Scholarships

A Clearer Path to College for All Students

The College Board is investing $5 million per year in the College Board Opportunity Scholarships, with half of the scholarships designated for students whose families earn less than $60,000 per year. Applying to college is a complicated process, so we've created a program that guides students through it and rewards their efforts. Your students are eligible to earn scholarships by taking the following actions during certain windows in their junior and senior years:

The Scholarships	The Actions	Action Window
1. Build Your College List: $500	Build a college list with at least six schools on BigFuture™.	Junior Year: December–July
2. Practice for the SAT: $1,000	Use Official SAT® Practice on Khan Academy®, and practice for 6+ hours to get ready for test day.	Junior Year Through Fall Senior Year: December–October
3. Improve Your Score: $2,000	Improve your score on the SAT by 100 points or more either from PSAT/NMSQT® to SAT or SAT to SAT, after practicing on Official SAT Practice on Khan Academy for 12 hours.	Spring Junior Year Through Winter Senior Year: April–January
4. Strengthen Your College List: $500	Strengthen your college list on BigFuture with a minimum of one safety, two match, and three reach schools.	Summer and Fall Senior Year: August–October
5. Complete the FAFSA: $1,000	Fill out the FAFSA form to apply for financial aid.	Fall and Winter Senior Year: October–February
6. Apply to Colleges: $1,000	Apply to at least two colleges you want to attend.	Fall and Winter Senior Year: October–February
Complete Your Journey: $40,000	Complete all six scholarship steps within the action windows.	Final Drawing: March of Senior Year

The more steps students take toward college, the more opportunities they have to earn a scholarship. Learn more about scholarship details and student eligibility at cb.org/opportunity.

Steps to help students prepare. Scholarships to help them pay.

The College Board Opportunity Scholarships guide juniors and seniors through the college planning process and offers them a chance to earn money for college for each action they complete. Scholarships ranging from $500 to $40,000 are awarded through monthly drawings during certain action windows. Program eligibility begins in December of a student's junior year and runs through February of their senior year. The more steps students take toward college, the more opportunities they have to earn.

The College Board National Recognition Programs

Starting in fall 2019, if you take the PSAT/NMSQT and you're African American, Hispanic American or Latinx, Indigenous, attend school in a rural area, or are from a small town, you may be invited to apply for academic recognition as part of the College Board National Recognition Programs*.

Benefits

The College Board National Recognition Programs are academic honors that can be included on college applications. They're not scholarships, but colleges use them to identify academically exceptional students.

We are working with four of our College Board strategic partners to distribute the honors. These partners are:

- African American Recognition—Jackie Robinson Foundation
- Hispanic Recognition—Hispanic Scholarship Fund
- Indigenous Recognition—Indigenous Education, Inc.
- Rural and Small Town Recognition—Jack Kent Cooke Foundation

Learn more about our partners and the scholarships they offer.

Who is Invited to Apply

The College Board reaches out to students who:

- Take the PSAT/NMSQT in October of their junior year.
- Identify as African American, Hispanic or Latinx, or Indigenous.
- Attend school in a rural area or are from a small town. Location is based on information from the National Center for Education Statistics.
- Achieve the minimum requested PSAT/NMSQT scores (qualifying level may vary by state each year).
- Earn a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher by the middle of their junior year.

Good to Know

- You need to identify as African American, Hispanic American or Latinx, or Native American, Alaska Native, or Native Hawaiian on the PSAT/NMSQT answer sheet where it asks for race and ethnicity.
- Official high school transcripts will confirm student's eligibility for the recognition programs.
- The African American Recognition Program considers students who identify as Black or African American (including African and Afro-Caribbean origin) and are from the United States, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, the Mariana Islands, the Marshall Islands, or attend school abroad.
- The Hispanic Recognition Program considers students who identify as Hispanic or Latinx and are from the United States, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, the Mariana Islands, the Marshall Islands, and/or attend school abroad.
- For the Indigenous Recognition Program, students who identify as Alaska Native, Native American, or Native Hawaiian must provide their federal or state tribal affiliation. See recognition program verification for more details.
- For the Rural and Small Town Recognition Program, students will be determined based on information from the National Center for Education Statistics and will receive an invitation to apply.
- Only junior-year PSAT/NMSQT scores count. SAT and PSAT 10 scores cannot be used.
- Opting in to Student Search allows prospective colleges and scholarships to find you.

Self-Nomination Instructions

If you took the PSAT/NMSQT but didn't let us know that you identified as African American, Hispanic American or Latinx, or Indigenous, or if you moved and now live in a rural area or small town, you can still be considered. Email the College Board National Recognition Programs for self-nomination instructions.

How to recognize and avoid college scholarship scams

Average college costs have doubled in the last two decades, and this financial pressure along with new technologies makes today's students particularly vulnerable to financial aid and scholarship scams.

"Scammers know to take advantage of those who are stressed," says Robert C. Ballard, president and CEO of Scholarship America, the nation's largest nonprofit scholarship and education support organization.

"Fortunately, there are some ways you can avoid getting duped."

To help you spot scams, Scholarship America offers the following insights.

Fees and Other Red Flags

Scholarship programs charging a fee to apply often look legitimate. But look at the bigger picture: if the provider is awarding $500 in scholarships and collecting fees from thousands of applicants, it's not funding education so much as making money. Your chances of earning a scholarship are slight if not impossible — sham providers often collect fees and disappear.

Some providers claim to have a no-strings-attached grant or an incredibly low-interest loan to offer, as long as you pay a tax or "redemption" fee in advance. Others offer to match you with guaranteed scholarships — if you pay for a premium search service. Keep in mind, there's no such thing as a "guaranteed scholarship."

Free, comprehensive scholarship searching and matching services like Fastweb and Cappex will connect you to legitimate, competitive scholarships that don't charge application fees.

Too Good to Be True

Be wary of the "too-good-to-be-true" scam model: an official-sounding organization tells you about an incredible opportunity, offers you a coveted spot at a scholarship seminar, or just sends you a check with a note of congratulations, using messaging designed to get your adrenaline pumping and make you act fast.

Remember, scholarship providers aren't in the practice of sending funds out randomly; it's likely the check will bounce, or you'll be asked to send money back for "processing" or an "accidental" overpayment. Your safest bet? Tearing up the check and, if you have time, filing a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission.

Often unexpected "opportunities" are attempts to get you to divulge personal information. Even clicking on links can expose your data to scammers.

Be cautious: Google the name of the scholarship or organization. Scams have often been flagged by the FTC or Better Business Bureau.

Social Scammers

A new scam making the rounds starts with a random friend request on Facebook, Instagram or Snapchat. Accept, and your new friend will start messaging you about a foolproof way to make money for college: they work for a scholarship provider and have found a loophole. They just need to enter you as a winner and you can split the money.

If this was real, it'd be incredibly unethical. However, in the midst of stress, you may be tempted — and that could cost more than money. While you may be asked to send cash as an advance, most such scammers are phishing. Give them enough info, and you'll be worrying about getting your identity back.

For more scholarship tools, resources and opportunities, including the annual Scholarship America Dream Award, please visit scholarshipamerica.org.

"Scholarship scams seem to work just enough for people to keep trying it," says Ballard. "However, two main rules will help you avoid them: never pay to apply and if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is."

BRINGING THE PHRASE “BUSINESS IS GLOBAL” TO LIFE FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ACROSS THE NATION

The Business is Global (BIG) program, presented by the Indiana University CIBER, is a two-week program for rising high school sophomores, juniors, and seniors interested in exploring the intersection of business, language, and culture.

The program seeks to broaden student horizons and increase their familiarity and interest in critical languages while helping them explore career options. BIG introduces students to concepts of cultural proficiency, as well as the importance of cultural awareness in business. The BIG program also aims to help students develop public speaking and networking skills and to expose them to international opportunities that will help them become thoughtful citizens of the world.

Students gain a basic understanding of how business operates through an accelerated curriculum based on the Kelley School of Business’s top-ranked undergraduate program.

Student teams apply their new business and cross-cultural skills in a hands-on, practical team competition where they are challenged to create a small business set in one of the countries studied. The teams formally present their business ideas to an external panel of judges.

The deadline for Summer 2020 applications is April 8, 2020. Visit <http://go.iu.edu/6bw> to learn more.

SERVICES

Psychiatric Evaluations and Counseling Intakes
A patient's clinical relationship with Rise begins with a psychiatric evaluation or counseling intake, depending on presenting needs. Both are hour-long evaluations which include a thorough clinical assessment designed to build a plan of care.

Medication Management
Along with behavioral interventions, and lifestyle modifications, the use of psychotropic medication may be recommended. If medication is prescribed, patients will be continually assessed and monitored with regular medication reviews.

Counseling
The role counseling plays in achieving balanced mental health is critically important to many of our patients. We welcome partnerships with therapists our patients may already have in order to provide the best integrated care possible. We also offer individualized counseling from our own experienced and highly skilled therapists.

Faith-Based Integration
With advanced training in ministry, counseling and inner healing, we are excited to offer Christian and Catholic Christian approaches for patients who would prefer this integration.
