Why choose Northern Ireland?

Northern Ireland is a country worth discovering and its capital city, Belfast, was recently named the 'best place to visit' by Lonely Planet. Sitting within the United Kingdom, Northern Ireland boasts an education system which is considered one of the best in Europe, consistently outperforming every other region in the UK at GCSE and A Level.

Combine this quality education with a friendly, family orientated community and a stunning landscape and you have a very attractive proposition for boarding.

Add to the mix the fact that boarding in Northern Ireland is considerably less expensive than the rest of the UK and you can see why Campbell has been described as a 'hidden gem'.

A multitude of airlines fly in to Belfast and Dublin from all over the world, either directly or via hubs such as London, Amsterdam, Dubai and more.
