- Letter re: Words and Music Performance
- MyBookBlog update and printable booklist

On behalf of Mr Judd and all colleagues in the Prep School, we would like to thank all boys who took part in Mr Judd's Half Term Challenge, the annual Sponsored Read including the 'get caught reading' posters, and the NSPCC Art exhibition! It really has been well received, and a tremendous effort has been put in by all the boys.

We will announce soon the total amount the boys have raised from the Sponsored Read during half term. The money will be sent to the Koro Abili Primary School in Uganda, and we look forward to sharing with you further information on our links with the school.

Request from Miss Gozzard - Music department

Miss Gozzard, your son's class music teacher, is requesting to be sent a photo or even a video of your son captured in a moment when you felt very proud of him, which then may be used in a PowerPoint presentation during a whole school song in our Christmas concert on Wednesday 29th November. The image could be of when he was doing something skilful or reaching a milestone, showing an act of kindness, stepping outside his comfort zone or receiving an award. It doesn't matter what the image/video captures, only that it provokes a sense of pride in you when you see it. The PowerPoint will consist mainly of images but videos will also feature. All images and videos to please be sent to gozzard\_r@habsboys.org.uk by Friday 10th November.

MyBookBlog

The boys are now in the process of gaining access to MyBookBlog. When using it at home, the boys must use the following link:

<https://mybookblog.org/plogin/haberdashers/>

Please do not try to access MyBookBlog through a Google search. We have a dedicated login page that enables the boys to easily access the service using their designated password

NB: I have also attached a list of books that are on MyBookBlog for your reference.

I also wanted to thank you all for the wonderful posters and 'get caught reading' photographs in response to the half term book challenge. They have brightened the library considerably and have been a great talking point for the boys.
