MISSION/VISION
To cultivate a healing-centered focus connecting families, staff, and community where students meet high expectations in a safe, joyful learning environment.

NUMEROUS AFTER-SCHOOL PROGRAMS
Relate 918, a joint initiative of Tulsa Public Schools and The Opportunity Project, is a grant aimed at building life skills for students through a wide array of after-school programs. As a recipient of the grant, Robertson hosts 14 after-school clubs per week, including a full after school supper through the TPS Child Nutrition initiative. Our students are excited learners, and these clubs hold them accountable to excellent behavior, promote school attendance, improve their self-confidence and provide them with avenues to express their creativity.

SOCIAL/EMOTIONAL LEARNING FOCUS
Robertson Elementary is a trauma-sensitive, trauma-informed school focused on understanding students' current emotional and mental health. Our staff helps these young scholars build relationships of trust and safety inside the school building. Through various social/emotional learning practices, Robertson teachers help students identify their emotions and utilize self-regulation skills. In addition, our school offers a full-time school counselor, a full-time embedded Family & Children Services counselor and a Social/Emotional Integration Specialist to help our students thrive beyond the classroom.
