

Online Learning - A Little Advice

Rick Bunnell

Mon 2/3/2020 7:22 AM

MS_Students; MS Faculty ∨

Hello again MS students!! I hope you are all well and ready to launch into online learning on Tuesday. A few reminders and things to keep in mind as we get started:

- You don't need to be online at specific times. Wherever you are, you should check your class Teams sites each day to see the assignments, resources and materials your teacher has posted. Although I recommend you do this each morning, you can really do it at any time of day that works for you.
- Create a routine – Try to set aside the same hours each day to get work done, and do work every day, Monday-Friday (and weekends if necessary). Perhaps 9:00-11:00 am, then 4:00-5:00 pm each day would be a good way to break up your work day, for example. You shouldn't be doing more than three hours/day total, and you can set your "work hours" at any times you want. You will avoid the trap of procrastination though, if you set the same hours each day.
- Make a schedule – Look at your assignments and try to map out a few days at a time (perhaps even a full week), listing what you will work on each day. By doing this, you can control how many hours you will work each day to some degree, and prevent work from piling up on you. This list of work will be your "to-do" list for each day.
- Do your best to get through your full to-do list each day. Sometimes you may underestimate how long an assignment will take and you may need to continue it the following day.
- Ask questions! - Your teachers will be checking their email frequently, so send questions either by email or through Teams. They will get back to you as quickly as possible. You can also contact me, Ms. Siemens or Ms. DeMers at any time as well. We'd be happy to hear from you!
- Get lots of sleep, drink lots of water & be sure to have some fun!

If you miss my smiling face or just want to get these tips verbally, click on my short video. Good luck everybody and I hope to see you back at school soon!

A Few Tips from Mr. Bunnell

Mr. Bunnell

Rick Bunnell

Middle School Principal

American International School of Guangzhou

T: +8620 3213 5555 | Ext: 5230

Website | Map | Contact us