

After-School Activities

Expand the bilingual experience outside the classroom

After-school activities give our students more opportunities to use the target language doing something they really enjoy. That emotional dimension to language acquisition is sometimes key to getting them on board and helping them see the relevance of the educational goals that we, as parents, have for them. Yes, model-making in French or the cool science club in English can make a difference!

Educating students who flourish intellectually, emotionally, and ethically

FASNY focuses on learning and the well-being of our students in an academically rigorous, international, bilingual setting. We develop creative, open-minded, critical thinkers to become lifelong learners who are motivated to thrive, lead and give in an ever-changing world.

An International Community

Yes, we code!

At FASNY, students are exposed to coding starting in Kindergarten, with a view to develop their problem-solving and computational thinking skills.

Who Should Consider the International Track?

- Families who want their children to benefit from a competitive international learning experience.
- Families who want to belong to a diverse learning community with an international outlook.
- Families who want more exposure to English for their children.
- Students who are or want to become fluent in French while studying math, science and social studies in English.
- Families whose children have no prior knowledge of French.
