Welcome from President Patty Ragio

Dear Alumnae, Parents, Grandparents and Friends,

We hope you enjoy this issue of our newly named alumnae magazine, The Clover. This name is a nod to our Irish heritage, as our foundress, Catherine McAuley, established the first House of Mercy in Dublin, Ireland in 1827. The hallmarks of Mercy education began at this first House of Mercy. And today, Mercy education is alive and thriving at Mercy McAuley and 53 other Mercy schools throughout the world, all of which are part of the Mercy Education System of the Americas (MESA). These 54 schools span six countries (Argentina, Belize, Honduras, Jamaica, Philippines, United States) and one territory. Mercy McAuley and all of the MESA schools are rooted in the Gospel through the Mercy charism and the Catholic faith and seek to carry out Catherine's mission for generations to come.

Mercy McAuley is honored and proud to be part of the Mercy Education System of Americas. Being part of this large network of Mercy schools affords us the many opportunities for collaboration among our faculty, staff and students, all of whom are living Catherine's mission every day. As proud members of our community, you, too, are helping us to carry on our mission of educating young women in the spirit of Mercy and the Catholic faith. You represent what a Mercy education means through your everyday acts of faith, mercy and compassion. Thank you for being an integral part of our community and for your ongoing support of Mercy McAuley High School.

Blessings for a wonderful 2020!

Patty Lusheck Ragio

The Clover | Volume 1, Issue 1, Winter

Introducing The Clover. Originally coined by St. Patrick, the clover symbolizes the number three and the Holy Trinity based on its famous three green leaves. The Irish considered it lucky, especially when found with an additional leaf.

Our alumnae magazine will share its name with this plant for numerous reasons. Mercy McAuley is a school created from its legacy of Mother of Mercy and McAuley High Schools. Together, our three schools are symbolized within the iconic three leaves of the plant. Additionally, our Irish heritage, beginning with Catherine McAuley and the house she opened in Dublin, is reflected in the importance of the clover to Irish culture. With this name, we hope to make all readers of this magazine feel as though their high school experiences can be remembered and reflected in the experiences of those currently attending Mercy McAuley, and that we, as a Mercy community, feel lucky in our connectedness in one another.

Women Who Inspire

On October 3, 2019, over 300 people gathered in the Auditorium of Mercy McAuley to hear six incredible women impart their wisdom based on their life stories. Dr. Robin Thompson Arthur (Mercy '82), Nikki Hudepohl (McAuley '92), Joyce A. Kasee-Mills (Mercy '03), Pam McLaughlin (McAuley '87), Tyra Patterson, and Dr. Jane K. Sojka were nominated by our alumnae and hand-picked by a committee based on their stories of overcoming adversity and becoming successful and well-respected in their fields.

Attendees were inspired by the tenacity, strength, and bravery of these women.

Whether it was stepping into major leadership roles, starting a business, or overcoming an incredible obstacle, these six women encouraged the audience to take chances, speak up for oneself, and never give up. It was an event that those in attendance will not soon forget.

Our next Women Who Inspire event will take place in early October 2020. We hope you can join us! If you would like to nominate a woman who inspires, please fill out the form at mercymcauley.org/support-us/women-who-inspire/nominate.

The Story of Mercy Day

Story by Sr. Nancy Merkle, RSM, and Kelsey Niehauser, Mercy '12

On September 24, 1827, the feast day of Our Lady of Mercy, Catherine McAuley opened a house on Baggot Street in Dublin, Ireland, to shelter and educate impoverished women and girls. Three years later, she and two friends of hers became the first Sisters of Mercy. From then on, all Mercy institutions around the world, including all Mercy schools, hospitals, social service entities, and all Associates, volunteers, staff, students and sisters celebrate “Mercy Day” on September 24 to commemorate that historic day, and to pay homage to Catherine McAuley.

“I believe it is reminder to us all that every single one of us is called to be people of mercy to our world so much in need of love, peace, forgiveness, as well as the practical needs of food and shelter,” writes Sr. Nancy Merkle, RSM, of the commemorative day. Both Mother of Mercy and McAuley High Schools have long observed Mercy Day, but with time, the celebrations grew from a simple Mass to an all-out festival. Mercy McAuley joined in on that celebration this past September (next page), similarly to how both McAuley and Mother of Mercy High Schools celebrated in recent years.

However, Mercy Day is not the only way Mercy McAuley celebrates and honors our Irish roots and Catherine’s legacy. Two times a week, our students attend “Den,” a bell similar to homeroom or “families” at the legacy schools, consisting of 4-5 students from each grade. In Den, the students can meet new people, grow in the sisterhood of Mercy McAuley, participate in service activities and collections for local charities, and reflect on the five Mercy Values that Catherine McAuley exemplified: Faith, Compassion, Service, Leadership, and Excellence. To further connect Den to our history, each group is named after a street or place in Dublin. Listed here are the names of the Dens with a map of each location in Dublin:

- Joy Street
- Chancery Street
- Morning Star Road
- Trinity Street
- Kelly’s Court
- Belview Place
- Hanover Lane
- Cottage Place
- Adelaide Road
- Ryder’s Row
- Copper Alley
- Abbey Street
- Sycamore Street
- Dawson Street
- Hawkin’s Street
- Merrion Square
- Castle Street
- Westland Row
- Charlotte Street
- Fleet Street
- Wexford Street
- Cecelia Street
- St. Stephen’s Green
- Annesley Bridge
- Bloomfield Place
- Kildare Street
- Harmony Row
- Berkeley Street

Between the Mercy Day celebrations each year and our weekly Den sessions, Mercy McAuley continues to honor and celebrate the legacy of Catherine McAuley, much like our legacy schools did in the past. The students, faculty, staff, and guests that day are reminded that even from the humblest of situations, we as women and men of Mercy are called to help serve others each and every day to the best of our abilities.

The Den names highlighted on a map of the streets of Dublin, Ireland.

Students pose with teapots given to them by the Sisters of Mercy before Mass. The teapots are a reminder of Catherine McAuley’s famous quote, “A comfortable cup of tea.”

Alumnae Celebrate Mercy Day

The school community celebrated Mass and invited the Mother of Mercy and McAuley classes of 1969 to join as special guests. During the opening procession, one representative from each legacy school carried in teapots—symbolic of Catherine McAuley’s famous quote on hospitality, “A comfortable cup of tea,” before sitting with their classmates at the front of the Auditorium. During Mass, the Mercy McAuley Vocal Ensemble led the songs, The Circle of Mercy, The Our Father, and the Suscipe, before leading all students in the Mercy McAuley Alma Mater and Fight Song to close Mass.

After Mass, the classes of 1969 toured the building and gathered at a reception while the students participated in lots of fun games and activities to get to know one another better and to celebrate Mercy Day. With chalk drawings, flag football, watching a movie, and learning more about Catherine McAuley’s life, the students had a busy and educational afternoon.

The day closed with a pep rally in the gym in which the faculty and staff surprised the students with a flash mob, consisting of songs like, Girls Just Wanna Have Fun and Can’t Stop the Feeling before finishing with a choreographed dance to Old Town Road. It was a big hit with the students.

FAQs about the Annual Fund at Mercy McAuley

What is the Annual Fund?

It is our annual giving program that provides Mercy McAuley with essential income because tuition alone cannot pay for all the school’s expenses. The Annual Fund helps to make up the gap between tuition and what it actually costs to educate each student.

Who gives to the Annual Fund?

We have alumnae, parents of alumnae, current parents, and special friends of Mercy McAuley who give each year to the Annual Fund.

Where does the money go?

The Annual Fund supports many things including tuition assistance (both academic scholarships and financial aid) as well as technology, salaries, and general operating costs that you might not think about such as electric bills and building maintenance.

Do small gifts really make a difference?

Of course! Not everyone can give $500 or $1000 each year. All contributions have a tremendous impact, and no one should feel that their gift is too small. For those who think they cannot afford to contribute, a $20 gift equals four cups of coffee at Starbucks or two lunches at Chipotle!

PLAN YOUR REUNION

We are looking for volunteers to plan their 2020 Reunions, especially the McAuley class of 1970, the Mercy class of 1960, and the classes of 1980, 1990, 2000, and 2010 from both legacy schools. If you are interested in helping to plan your reunion, contact Kelsey Niehauser at niehauserk@mercymcauley.org or 513-681-1800 ext. 1147.

If you are interested in helping to plan your reunion, we have lots of resources to help you get started!

Here are some steps to facilitate the planning process.

- Contact Kelsey Niehauser, Alumnae Engagement Coordinator, at (513) 681-1800 x1147 or niehauserk@mercymcauley.org at the very beginning of the process. Mercy McAuley wants to know of any reunion planning that is happening.
- Gather a committee—Include classmates who may have run around in different circles.
- Choose a date. Choose a location. We encourage you to have your reunion here at Mercy McAuley, in the cafeteria. There is no rental fee. There are a limited number of Saturday nights available in the fall so please contact Kelsey Niehauser, Alumnae Engagement Coordinator, to see which dates are available.

- Decide whether or not to include spouses and guests—Indicate this on the invitation. You might also consider having more than one event (i.e. girls’ night, picnic for family members, etc.).
- When deciding on a price, make sure it covers all expenses: postage, invitations, fees, food, drinks, DJ, memory books, and/or decorations. You are encouraged to donate extra money to the Annual Fund or alumnae legacy scholarships as a class gift.
- Send invitations and/or promote the reunion through social media. Mercy McAuley provides the list of graduates in an Excel document upon meeting with Kelsey, Alumnae Engagement Coordinator, in-person. We can also provide mailing labels. Mercy McAuley will promote reunions through the alumnae Facebook page and/or e-newsletters. Although Facebook is a great way to spread the word, recently some classes have not sent invitations and relied solely on social media. We want to make sure that no alumna feels left out of a reunion. Not everyone is on social media, and reunion planners should be sensitive to that.
- Let Mercy McAuley know if you want to invite Sisters of Mercy and/or former teachers.
- Allow enough time for a Mercy McAuley representative to proof the invitation (an extra set of eyes always helps).

For more information and a list of our suggested vendors, visit mercymcauley.org/alumnae/reunions.

Introducing the Mercy McAuley Alumnae Advisory Council

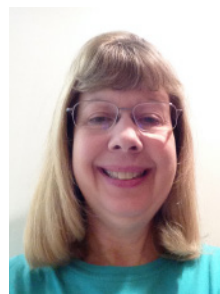

Representing our two legacy schools throughout the years, along with our newest alumnae from Mercy McAuley, our Alumnae Advisory Council will plan, promote and host various events throughout the year for all alumnae to attend. Each woman has a passion for their Alma Mater and wants to carry on the legacy of a Mercy education in Cincinnati. Their goal is to make all alumnae of Mother of Mercy, McAuley, and Mercy McAuley feel connected and included in the Circle of Mercy. Learn more about each woman below!

Jackie Hart Feist
Mother of Mercy 2009

Jackie comes from a long and proud line of Mercy alumnae. She previously served on the Legacy Transition

Team and strives to bring the best parts of Mercy and McAuley together at Mercy McAuley. She currently works at The Fairfield Freshman School teaching 9th grade English where she also moderates the Class Council, Yearbook, and Theater. She and her husband live in Harrison with their 10-month-old Wolf Pup, Annie. Some of Jackie's Mercy claims-to-fame include winning a Cappie for her role as Nana in Peter Pan, winning the Senior Lip Sync Battle, and getting engaged on Mercy's stage.

Laurie Miller Winkler
McAuley 1978

After graduating from McAuley in 1978, Laurie attended Thomas More College. She received her BA and went on to earn an MBA from Xavier University. She retired from Cincinnati Bell. She lives in Miami Township, Clermont County, with her husband, Jim. She looks forward to working with the team on alumnae activities and engagement.

Leslie Wernicke Odioso
McAuley 1983

Leslie graduated from McAuley High School in 1983, then the University of Cincinnati with a BS in Medical Technology. She first worked at a local hospital before joining Procter & Gamble. After 11 years at P&G, Leslie left to care for her daughter, Audrey, who had autism and two other children. Meanwhile, Leslie raised funds for their school's enrichment activities. This volunteer activity led her to pursue a career in nonprofit fundraising. In 2014, Leslie joined the Archdiocese of Cincinnati as they prepared to launch a capital campaign to raise $130 million. Fifty percent of those funds are committed to Catholic education. Since Audrey's passing in 2015, Leslie has continued to "pay it forward" in assisting others with developmental disabilities. She serves on the board for Safe Haven Farms in fundraising and special events. In November 2019, she joined the Ken Anderson Alliance as the Development Coordinator. Leslie lives in Monfort Heights with her husband, Michael, daughter Lauren, and son Lucas.

Amy Franz Camins
McAuley 1968

Amy is a McAuley graduate from 1968. She grew up in College Hill and currently lives in Springfield Township. She feels very lucky to have two wonderful children who have great spouses. Amy also has two wonderful grandsons. She retired from many years of working in the financial field. Family is her first passion, but her other passion isn't far behind—horses.

Melinda Reid
Mother of Mercy 1997

Melinda Reid attended Mother of Mercy in the 90s. She is married to Chuck Hall, has three sons and a daughter. In true Westside fashion, she remains a Catholic school soccer and scout mom. Once the Bobcat mascot, she now cheers for the Wolves, Panthers, and Bombers.

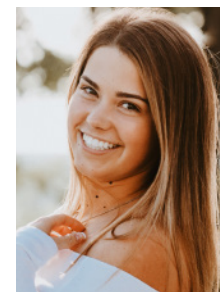

Barb Espelage Horton
Mother of Mercy 1965

Barb graduated from Mother of Mercy in 1965. She worked for the Franciscan Development Office, married Dick Horton, and has three children and nine grandchildren. She is an aide at Pilgrim Preschool in her 32nd year.

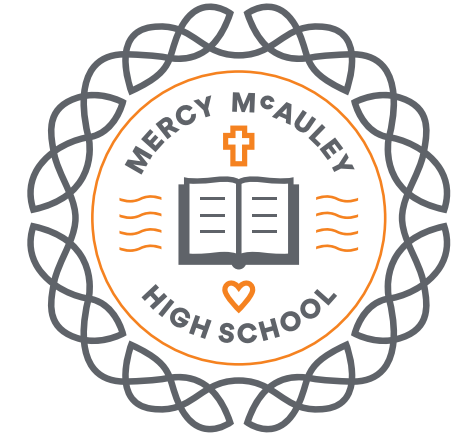

Mary Grace (MG) Greiner
Mercy McAuley 2019

Mary Grace Greiner graduated Mercy McAuley High school in 2019. During her high school years, she was involved in student council, student recruiting committee and lacrosse. She is currently attending the University of Cincinnati where she is studying Marketing and International Business.

Elizabeth Belleman
Mercy McAuley 2019

Elizabeth Belleman is a 2019 graduate of Mercy McAuley. While in high school she was involved in Student Council, Women Lead Law, and Philanthropy Club. She now attends Miami University, pursuing a major in Marketing with a minor in Fashion Business. Mercy McAuley has made such a huge impact on her life and she can't wait to continue her involvement in the school.

Ask a Teacher

Our faculty are certainly brilliant at teaching young women lessons to last a lifetime, but after they graduate, alumnae rarely get to learn from these incredible teachers again. So, when asked for a piece of advice for Alumnae, our beloved teachers replied:

Kathy Isler Dietrich, McAuley '74
Consumer Science Teacher

"I have been growing tomatoes and other vegetables for 40 years. It is so rewarding to walk outside in the summer and pick dinner! My husband and I each have our own vegetable gardens now and we like to see whose tomatoes do best! Besides tomatoes, we grow beans, kale, Swiss chard, butternut squash, basil, cucumbers, peppers, strawberries, raspberries and beets. And, we don't have a ton of space!"

Once tomatoes start ripening, they come in faster than we can eat them or give them to friends and family. So, I wash some of them and put them whole into plastic bags and into the freezer. Then, all winter when I make soup, chili, stews, goulash, etc., I plop four or five of them in the pot. After they cook and add their garden-fresh flavor to the soup, I just fish out the peels with a pair of tongs. They look and feel like billiards balls when they are frozen, but really add a great dimension of taste!"

Pam Vissing, McAuley '74
English Teacher

"Read. Read. Read! One of my 3 million favorite books is The Prince of Tides by Pat Conroy—not so much for the plot, but for the beauty of the language. One line always sticks with me when I'm struggling in the classroom: These are the quicksilver moments of my childhood. Wow! Adolescence is so fleeting, isn't it, and our memories of it are often so colored and perhaps even distorted by the emotions we felt at the time. I have to remind myself of the youth of those faces in front of me and remember that I'm playing a small part in coloring their memories—and that's a little intimidating!"

Sharon Harris
Science Teacher

"Combat 'Fast Fashion' to be eco-friendlier! Consider how that T-shirt you are wearing was made. According to Business Insider in October 2019, "85% of all textiles go to the dump each year." The fashion industry is the world's 2nd largest consumer of water. That cotton T-shirt you're wearing took 700 gallons of water to make! I am trying to wear what I have and not run out and buy something new for every occasion. Repair that tear in the seam of your shirt. Wear a sweater over the T-shirt to hide the stain. Also consider the economic price of your T-shirt. If you bought the shirt at a bargain price, someone didn't make a living wage."
