Editorial

"Here's to the man, in the backs or in the van,
Who'll play up when the luck is running low, boys;
Who'll slog in with a will, when the score's a score to nil,
And give the strongest team on earth a go, boys."

We are now in the midst of our football season, and on surveying the results of matches (such as have not been interrupted by interstate and international matches), we can say that we have been fairly successful, especially in the School Grade. We congratulate the IVths on their victories, and only hope that they will come out on top in the finals. The 1st XV., greatly improved by the able coaching of Dr. Nicholson, made a Sydney tour during Exhibition week, defeating Toowoomba in the Chelmsford Cup match on the way. Although defeated in Sydney on all three occasions, considering the adverse circumstances, they did not disgrace the School in any way.

Shortly after our return from the Easter vacation, Mr. Bousfield called an assembly to present the medals won in the Trial Fours. He remarked that it was the first time in the history of the School that three crews had entered for this race. At first it was thought that only two crews were available, but on making inquiries it was found that a third crew could be got together. It turned out that Simmond's crew, the winners, contained two members who would very likely have been left out had only two crews been chosen.

Our School still keeps its end up, judging by the competition results this year. F. Company Cadet Team won the Championship of Australia, and we congratulate them and their able commander, Lieut. West, on their fine display. On June 25th, Hon. J. Blair, Mr. Storey (Under Secretary), the District Commandant, the Chairman of Trustees and party visited the School, to congratulate the team on their success. The Minister of Education, the District Commandant, J. L. Woolcock, Chairman of Trustees, and Mr. Bousfield, eulogised the team in congratulatory speeches. The team was indebted to Lieut. Moran, our Area Officer, who had trained them until they had reached that pitch of alertness and efficiency which had won them the competition.

A new company, namely "M" Company, has been instituted this year. Since the company consists chiefly of recruits, a few words on discipline would not be amiss here. Discipline is the stimulus which is essential to make sure that a man will suppress his natural aversion to death, and face the risks of war, no matter how grave these may be. Discipline makes the man in the street automatically brave; it compels him instinctively to do what otherwise he would not dream of doing. It is only attained by instilling obedience to the officer, by the subordination of the will to the word of command.

Our staff has been augmented this quarter, Mr. Brown having left, and Mr. Holtham, Mr. Snow, Mr. Pennycuick, and Mr. Foggan have increased the list.

We regret to announce the illness of Mr. Cowan, and all sincerely wish for his speedy recovery.

Once again it has fallen to our lot to win the Empire Essay Prize, G. Cooling being our successful competitor. He thus becomes entitled to the Earl of Meath's Cup for which we sincerely congratulate him.

Although defeated by Southport again in rowing, the fact that our champion cadet team won the championship of Australia a few months ago, totally eclipses this defeat.

KENNEDY—THE EXPLORER.

"Thurtein."

Exploration is an avenue to glory. Few have found their way to it and achieved success. There are the many who have failed or fallen in their perilous walk through life, and lost their one chance of realising their ambition for all time. There are the few who, in their attempt to struggle through, have almost snapped the thin line between them and the outer world, and have left only a slender thread as a link on the trail—in some cases vanishing altogether, leaving a solitary figure in a barren land, to disappear and perish.

But whether all material connection between them and the world is severed, yet always there exists some tangible understanding that links us with the past, and lays before us the works of men who lived and died for others. Though they lose fame in life, they gain it in death.

Kennedy was one of those great men whose fame does not precede them. He failed at the last within a few steps of success, when he might have stretched out his hand and grasped it. But how can we lay failure at his door, when it was through no fault of his own that he did not attain his ambition? Did he not hew his way through a dense bush and immortalize his name in the memory of the world? Is this failure? But fate was unkind, and snatched both life and glory from him even at the end.

It was in 1848 that Kennedy was instructed to penetrate from Rockingham Bay to Albany Island—to traverse the great Cape York Peninsula. He started out with a party of twelve, amongst whom was "Jacky Jacky," whose name will ever live in the history of Australia—a black remnant of that expedition. There were besides, a half-witted fellow, and a thieving rogue.

At the head of this miserable band, Kennedy faced the perils of an unknown country, and endured the privations and hardships that belonged to explorers of those days, who hacked a name for themselves in Australian bush, and whose bones now lie whitened and crumpled amid the sandhills.

The possibilities of achievement must have seemed remote with such a party, and surrounded by so much destitution. The undertaking was certainly an enormous one; but he did not reflect upon impossibilities when he set out on his arduous attempt. There was fame and success at the end, and toward it he strove with no thought of failure or death.

The country from the first was overgrown with a dangerous tropical jungle; and for over five hundred miles the little party pushed on through the heart of it. It was a hard and unequal fight against the deadly armour of the vines—a nerve-racking experience—with not a thing before them, save a seemingly impenetrable network, rising up forbodingly, and offering stubborn resistance to their feeble efforts. They must often have dropped their axes in despair, fighting towards an unseen goal, shut out from civilisation in a forest-prison.

Their sufferings were disheartening in the extreme. The horses fell with the sting of the nettle-tree; and they were compelled by the treacherous nature of the ground to abandon part of their stores, as well as the drays.

Fate was indeed hard on these men, who but scrambled out of one pit-fall to tumble headlong into the next. The blacks were hostile, and harassed the little expedition with a persistency and cruelty that sorely troubled them, and plunged them into the blackest despair. Torture on all sides! It overwhelmed them, and made life a nightmare. The fierce tropical rain swept down and held them back in its intensity. And oh!—the bitter disappointment, the keen pang, they must have experienced, when all too late they arrived at Princess Charlotte Bay to find their expected ship gone—vanished with their last hope. A curse lay upon them, and they groaned in their agony and bitterness of despair.

Think of them standing on a barren coast, amid all the solitude and emptiness of an Australian desert, their tired eyes gazing seaward; a curse on their lips and anguish in their hearts—a dozen heart-broken men.

Overcome by hunger, thirst and sickness, Kennedy struggled on to Weymouth Bay, and there formed a lonely camp. Seeing his men so dispirited and fatigued, he left behind at the camp eight of the number to rest until he should return with the schooner. But he himself, with a remnant of hope within him, with the thought of success ever uppermost in his mind, determined to push on with the three men and his black servant.

And so, it was here that the party divided, with only the faintest hope of seeing one another again—Kennedy to struggle on to where death was awaiting him, the others to abide their time until life and all suffering should be ended.

They hoped for death, expecting no relief. And it was the extremity of their sufferings that gratified their wish. Within a week three of them, and then three more, were swiftly overshadowed by death, and lay stretched out on the naked shore, their anxieties for ever departed. Death had taken pity on them in their misery, leaving their two unfortunate companions, trembling with horror at the gruesomeness of their position, to sit with the dead and eke out a weary existence.

Further on Kennedy and his men advanced heroically. They travelled for three long weeks, weary in body and in mind, and to add to the misfortunes of the journey, one of them accidentally shot himself, receiving a mortal wound. Perhaps it was better for him to end his life in peace, away from barbarity of the blacks, and the dangers of the way.

Leaving his two men with their dying comrade, Kennedy once more turned his face to the North.

And so very near to his destination, he went doggedly on with the faithful black trudgingly patiently at his side; eighty miles to his goal. They journeyed thus for seven days, until at last Albany Bay, the end of his long journey hove in sight.

How his eye must have shone with joyous anticipation, and his heart leapt with mingled feelings of delight and thankfulness! Fortune was smiling on him at last.

With the troubled waters receding, and sure success surging ahead, Kennedy sank to the ground exhausted. Already his cares and anxieties seemed to have flown from view. Danger was a thing of the past, to be encountered no more. This was a time for rest and peace.

Alas! L'homme propose, et Dieu dispose.

When darkness descended upon them, he slept with his mind at ease—the sleep of peace. But in the gloom overhead his evil genius seemed to leer at him with hideous malice.

O! the irony of fate! What strange tricks it plays with humanity! Here was another unfortunate victim. In the solitude of the desert, he little thought what grim faces were looming out of the darkness around him.

It was the blacks again. They were ubiquitous, dogging his footsteps wherever he went, and mocking at him like evil spirits.

In the dead of night, when all life seemed slumbering, a crowd of these black devils came upon the scene and aroused the sleepers. Hastily taking in the situation, Kennedy deemed it wise to move on at once; and seizing the horses they made off. But the enemy was wary, and before the fugitives had gone far, they were surrounded by a mass of natives.

There, hemmed in on all sides, they determined to put up a last fight, knowing it to be hopeless from the first. Not a loophole of escape was offered.

A shower of spears was thrown, and Kennedy was hit in the back. Tenderly supporting his master, "Jacky" fired. A black fell, and the others vanished—only to return presently in greater numbers.

Then out of the gloom a heavy hail of spears descended upon them. It was impossible to escape injury. The blacks towered above and around them like giants of ebony in the night—a mass of hideous faces and gleaming spears. The horses were struck down, and Kennedy fell with a spear in his leg. Nor did the faithful "Jacky" escape injury.

With a terrible wound on his forehead, he dragged his beloved master out of the deadly hail into the neighbouring scrub, and cut

G. COOLING.

G. Cooling, son of Mrs. S. K. Cooling, was born in Brisbane in 1896. He was educated at the Central State (Normal) School, where he remained four years; and under the tuition of Mr. E. Dunlop, gained a Scholarship to the B.G.S. There he won, in the first year, a General Merit Prize, and in the following years, the Form and Chemistry Prizes, and a Merit Prize. In 1912, he gained fourth place in the Extension Scholarships, and passed the Q. Junior with 2 D's and 8 P's. In 1913, he won the Essay Prize presented by the B.G.S.O.B.A. Has now won the Earl of Meath's Essay Prize in competition with the whole of the British Empire.

out the spears. One can feel there was humanity and affection in his heart ; that although black, he was a white man.

Within the scrub they were safe from the blacks, who had already vanished into the wood as silently as they had appeared.

In the awful silence, with the faint moonlight filtering softly through the leaves, the black bent over his dying master, and watched his life-blood ebbing from his side.

They were in the hands of their Maker ; as stone figures in the moonlight they seemed—two shady forms amongst the trees, one on his hands and knees beside his master, as if to guard him from all danger in his last moments ; the other on his elbow with pencil and paper, attempting to scrawl a message to the world he was leaving.

But not so ! He expired in the arms of his devoted attendant.

The shadowy form of Death hovering near, reached out its relentless hands, and snatched the soul of another explorer, departing in peace to a greater world.

He is dead now. We, amidst comfort and civilisation read of him : a passing image is conjured up before us, and is gone again. He sacrificed so much for the world ! He lived and died for it !

"Jacky" bent over his dead and wept bitterly. With his tomahawk he dug a rude grave amongst the trees, and wrapping the body in his shirt and trousers—what better shroud could Kennedy have desired ?—he laid it in its last resting place. Then a heap of earth and logs fell over the body and shut it for ever from sight.

Kennedy had come to his own.

In the distance a curlew uttered its last farewell in a rancorous shriek, and a dingo howled mournfully.

Silence !

And it seemed as if the soul of Kennedy was being wafted gently into a higher sphere.

A soft wind sprang up, and played about the grave a triumphant funeral march ; and seemed to whisper over the corpse a solemn requiem, that was a song of the angels.

Football Notes

FIRST FIFTEEN.

We started the season this year with nine of last year's players, consisting of four backs and five forwards. The new members have shown great promise, and are playing well. The forwards are a fairly heavy lot, the average weight being about eleven stone. The backs, however, are rather on the light side. So far, we have not lost a match in our College Grade Competition, and have great hopes of defeating Nudgee College for the premiership. At present, however, it looks as though the war will put a stop to our football, as most of the team have been "called out."

In the Combined Public Schools' Team this year, six of our players obtained places, viz., Wrench, West, Fraser, K., Forbes, L., Bowman, and Brown, A. H., while Fraser, S., and Cocking were emergencies. They fully justified their inclusion.

No colours have been awarded so far this year.

The following is a result of the matches played in College Grade Competition:

B.G.S. v. Y.M.C.A.—Won by B.G.S. by 58 to nil. All but four of the winning team scored.

B.G.S. v. UNIVERSITY.—Drawn game—5 all.

B.G.S. v. PAST GRAMMARS.—Won by B.G.S. by 26 to 6. An account is given below of the team's trip to Sydney.

SYDNEY TRIP

On Friday, August 7th, the School football team, minus Forbes and Bowman, left for Sydney. Our captain and vice-captain had been called out to proceed to Lytton, and at the last moment were thus prevented from going to Sydney. The forwards were thus disorganised, and the team very much weakened, but all the members left with a feeling of "do or die."

On Saturday morning, August 8th, we played Toowoomba Grammar School. The team was:—Full-back: T. Lawton; Three-quarters: K. Fraser, A. S. West, W. Simmonds, T. G. Gaydon; Five-eighths: C. M. Wrench; Half: J. Kilroe; Forwards: S. Fraser, A. J. Hammond, A. H. Brown, G. Boyce, G. Summer, E. Freeman, Walton, R. S. McNab. Hopkins was unable to play, owing to his sore arms.

From the kick-off play was fast. The ball travelled backwards and forwards with great rapidity. At first the forwards, owing to the disorganised scrum, did not get the ball out as well as the Toowoomba forwards, but our backs smothered the opposing backs, and were well backed up by the forwards in the loose. Towards the end of the first half, we were in their 25, for about ten minutes, but could not score. Half-time came with no score on either side. On resuming, the forwards livened up considerably, and secured the ball nearly every time from the line outs, while they beat the heavier pack of Toowoomba in the scrums. The passing of the backs, it was noticed, was considerably improved, a fact which was no doubt due to the fine coaching of Dr. Nicholson. Time after time the ball was sent out by Kilroe, and passed along the three-quarter line, but the Toowoomba backs were defending splendidly. At last, however, Brown gathered in mid-field, and passed to Wrench, to Simmonds, to West, to Gaydon, who scored right in the left-hand corner. Brown converted beautifully from a most difficult angle. For the last ten minutes of play we were attacking hard in their 25, but full-time came with the score unaltered—5 to nil in our favour.

We were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Barbour, and were then rushed off in a drag to catch the Sydney Mail at 12.30 p.m. Owing to the kindness of the Traffic Superintendent we had a reserved carriage from Toowoomba to Wallangarra.

We were met on Sunday morning at Sydney by Mr. Buchanan (second master of Newington College) and about a dozen Newington boys. We have to thank the Newingtonians for their kind hospitality. Three of our team were boarded at the School, while the others were taken in by individual day boys of Newington. They did their utmost to make our stay enjoyable, and every member of the team looks back with very pleasant memories on his stay in their midst. Not one of the team will listen to a disparaging word about anything Newingtonian.

B.G.S. v. SYDNEY GRAMMAR SCHOOL. On Monday afternoon we played Sydney Grammar School on their ground at Rushcutter's Bay. The team was the same as the one that played Toowoomba, except that Cocking played full-back (he was not well enough to play against Toowoomba), and Hopkins replaced Boyce. West won the toss from Cohen, the Sydney skipper, and decided to defend the South end. Sydney kicked off, and the ball was returned by Wrench to their full-back, who kicked out. For the first 20 minutes we were attacking mostly in their 25, and Sydney were forced to save several times. Brown and Hammond had several attempts at penalty goals, but were unsuccessful. From a line out, Brown secured, by a trick known as a "run in," and passed to Fraser, who passed back to Brown, who scored in the right-hand corner. After some even and uninteresting play, the Sydney forwards broke away and scored in the left-hand corner. Cohen converted with a fine kick. More even play followed, and then our forwards dribbled the ball down into Sydney 25, where Summer secured and scored. Hammond failed to convert. Just before half-time, Walker scored, and Cohen converted. The scores at half-time were 10–6 in favour of Sydney.

On resuming, Sydney pressed, and we were kept on the defensive for some time. At length, one of the opposing forwards broke through, and passed to Walker, who crossed the line near the posts. Cohen converted—15 to 6. Sydney were wearing us down by their continual and accurate line-kicks, and gaining much ground each time. Our backs hardly ever found the line, and the forwards thus had no rest.

Brown kicked a fine goal from half-way, making the score 15 to 9 in favour of Sydney. Shortly before full-time, Walker again broke away, and racing along the wing, beat two or three men, and touched down behind the posts. Cohen easily converted, making the score 20 to 9 in their favour, which remained unaltered when the whistle blew "no side."

We were unfortunate in losing Hopkins, who had to retire about five minutes after the game started, owing to his sore arms. He was unable to play for the rest of the trip. W. Gibson took his place.

B.G.S. v. NEWINGTON COLLEGE.—This match was played on Wednesday, August 12th, on the College grounds at Stanmore. "Johnnie" Taylor, the Newington captain of great renown, and idolised by all, won the toss, and we kicked off with the sun in our faces. Petit, Newington's finest forward, marked from the kick-off, and Taylor immediately found the line in our 25. Newington pressed hard from the line-out, and were on our line for some time. The defence of our backs, however, was splendid, and at last, securing from the scrum right on the line, Kilroe passed to Wrench, who found the line with a fine long left-foot kick. Our forwards then dribbled the ball into the Newington 25, and we were attacking for some considerable time. Even play followed in neutral territory, and then after working the ball right down on to our line Norman secured from a scramble, and fell over the line. Taylor failed to convert. Half-time came with the score 3 nil in favour of Newington. On resuming, the forwards seemed to throw the whole of their energy into the game, and it was surprising to see how they held and pushed the Newington forwards, who were much heavier and bigger.

Taylor, the "star" back of Newington, was unable to do much, owing to his being marked too closely. However, he invariably found the line.

From a line out in our 25, Petit secured, and breaking through, passed to Gregg, to Shearston, who crossed our line in the right-hand corner. Taylor converted with a fine kick. Newington 8. Brisbane nil. Brown had cracked his leg in the Sydney Grammar match, so all the goal-kicking was taken by Hammond, who from a penalty kicked a fine goal from half-way. In a few minutes

Taylor retaliated, and from a mark sent the ball between the bars.

The score at full-time was Newington 11, B.G.S. 3.

The most outstanding features of the game were the fine line kicking of Taylor, and the splendid way in which our forwards packed and held the much heavier Newington forwards.

We were entertained at dinner by the Newingtonians, and afterwards at a picture show. We take this opportunity of expressing our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Prescott, and all those who did their utmost to entertain us.

B.G.S. v. NORTH SHORE C.E.G.S.—When we took the field at the North Shore Oval on Friday afternoon, August 15th, to meet the Church of England Grammar School, who are running second in the Great Public Schools' Competition in Sydney, we were feeling rather tired and sore, and as it turned out we were "done" at half-time. It was really too much for young school-boys, for we played four matches in seven days. But as in the Sydney Grammar match, we surprised North Shore by putting them on the defensive right from the kick-off, and several times nearly crossed their line.

However, towards half-time, Goodwin secured from a line-out, and scored a "breakaway try" between the posts. Meares converted. North Shore 5, B.G.S. nil. The play of the first half been too fast for us, and in the second half North Shore simply routed us. Their backs played very deep and far apart, and their forwards invariably sent the ball back to them. Consequently, they were able to run a considerable distance before they had a chance of being tackled. North Shore were much heavier than us all round, and our backs got knocked about considerably. Tries were scored for North Shore in the second half by Hassell, Campbell (2), Goodwin. Meares kicked a penalty goal, and converted three tries. The final scores was North Shore 26, B.G.S. nil. In this match Gaydon played a fine defensive game on the wing, saving the situation time and again with good line kicks, and invariably "grassed" his man. Wrench was very useful with his line kicks, and played a good game.

We were entertained at tea by North Shore, and shown over the school. We found them a most sociable and obliging lot of fellows, and we were sorry to leave them.

We left Sydney on Saturday night, August 16th, feeling rather knocked about, but nevertheless happy. A number of Newington and North Shore fellows, also Mr. and Mrs. Prescott, came to see us off, and cheered us as the train steamed out of the station.

The criticism of the team, also the photo., have unavoidably been held over till the next issue of the Magazine.

SECOND XV.

The Seconds have not been very successful this season, owing to bad attendance and slackness at practice. They have won only one match so far. The following being the results:—

- v. Nudgee.—Lost 30 to nil.
- v. Gregory Terrace.—Won 17 to 3.
- v. Ipswich.—Lost 18 to 11.
- v. Nudgee.—Lost 19 to 3.

THIRD XV.

Up to the present date the Thirds have been fairly successful, and have had some good games. They stand second on the premiership list. The following are the results of the matches:—

- v. Ipswich.—Won 6—nil. Clarkson and Anderson scored.
- v. Nudgee A.—Lost 39 to nil.

v. Gregory Terrace.—Won 11 to 10. Bourne, Edwards and Stevens scored, and Clarkson converted one.

v. Nudgee B.—Lost 6 to 5. Smith scored and Stewart converted.

FOURTH XV.

So far the Fourths have been very successful. They are now leading for the School Union Premiership, the total of their scores being 228 points. On the other hand, no points have been scored against them, and it may be remarked to their credit that they have only had to save once. There are several good players prominent in this team especially Connell, Cox, and Noble in the back division, and Park in the forward pack. Those who intend to remain at School for some time must remember that their turn will come to be called upon to represent the School, and if these younger members stay on, we may hope for the reputation of the First XV. being kept up in the future. The following are the results of matches:—

- v. Normal.—Won 22—nil.
- v. Valley.—Won 79—nil.
- v. B.G.S. V.—Won 39—nil.
- v. Enoggera.—Won on a forfeit.
- v. B.G.S. VI.—Won 82—nil.
- v. St. James.—Won 6—nil.

FIFTH XV.

Results of matches:—

- v. Valley.—Won 6 to 3.
- v. Normal.—Lost 22—nil.

- v. St. James.—Lost 30—nil.
- v. Enoggera.—Won 23—nil.
- v. B.G.S. VI.—Lost 24 to 3.

SIXTH XV.

The Sixths have had a fairly successful season, having won three matches out of six, and they now stand fourth on the premiership list.

- v. Enoggera. Won 35—nil.
 v. Normal. Lost 12 to 9.

Tennis Notes

(By H.W.H.)

Another successful season has almost come to an end, as far as the 1st IV. is concerned. From the first we continued to win our matches, and until Saturday, August 8th, we remained unbeaten. But on meeting "Carlton" we were defeated by a small margin—4 games.

On Thursday, August 20th, we played the Ipswich Grammar School, and defeated them by 5 rubbers to 3. The following are the scores:—

- Paton and Lukin v. Knowles and McCulloch, 5—6, 1—6;
 v. Stafford and Williams, 6—4, 3—6, 6—3.
 Horn and Thurlow v. Knowles and McCulloch, 6—4, 6—3;
 v. Stafford and Williams, 6—5, 6—2.
 Paton v. Knowles, 6—3, 6—4.
 Horn v. McCulloch, 4—6, 6—5, 6—4.
 Thurlow v. Stafford, 6—0, 4—6, 5—6.
 Lukin v. Williams, 4—6, 2—6.
 Totals.—B.G.S.: 5 rubbers, 11 sets, 94 games; I.G.S.: 3 rubbers, 8 sets, 85 games.

The Seconds have not been quite so successful, having won but 2 matches, those against Toowong and Holyrood. Their ranks have been somewhat broken by cadet drill.

Some of the present players, outside the teams, ought to form good teams next year, if they will practise; but some seem too indifferent. Let us urge them to do what the 1st IV. has done in the Q.L.T.A. fixtures. In a short time the Annual Tennis Tournament will be held, and it is expected that, owing to the increased numbers in the School, a very large entry will be recorded.

Cadet Notes.

Year after year, fresh laurels continue to fall to the lot of our great School, this year's achievement consisting of the success of our Cadet Team. Well known as the result is, a few words of explanation will not be out of place here. Trained by Lieuts.

Moran (Area-Officer) and West, who were assisted by Captains Lalor and Martin, and by Lieut. Murray, the team took the field at Enoggera under Lieut. West, being both competent and confident. We achieved glorious success, both in the Brigade and District competitions, but it seemed too good to be true that we should win the great "Final." Yet we did, and became the Champion Team of Australia, and our success has been most loyally recognised by every member of our School, and by many others too. Proud we are indeed with our Colours and our Shield.

Many members of this team have now left us, having joined the Citizen Forces, and are at present at Lytton, preparing to defend their country; and good luck to them.

The transfer of the older boys to the Citizen Forces by no means signifies that our numbers are diminished; for it was found necessary to establish a third company, owing to the great influx of lads into the School this year. A reorganisation of the companies has taken place, and young as some of our members are, we know that before long they will not be far short of the mark.

The suspension of Senior Cadet drills, owing to the war, naturally prevent progress, but we look already to starting again, while re-echoing the cry now raised to the skies in all British lands: "Long live England."

Commonwealth Cadet Military Competition

The competitors this year consisted of a team of one officer and 28 men, and were as follows: 1st Military District (Queensland), Brisbane Grammar School, 2nd Lieutenant West in command; 2nd Military District (New South Wales), Newington College, Lieutenant Robertson in command; 3rd Military District (Victoria), Ballarat Agricultural High School, Lieutenant J. L. Ross in command; 4th Military District (South Australia), Prince Alfred College, Adelaide, Captain J. W. Blackett in command; 5th Military District (Western Australia), B. Company, 88th Senior Cadets, Perth, Lieutenant Hatfield in command; 6th Military District (Tasmania), 93rd Senior Cadets, Hobart, Lieutenant Turner in command.

The competition comprised shooting (fire control, etc.), inspection of arms, equipment, etc., physical training, close order drill, skirmishing and march past, and the judges were comprised of the following officers: Colonel R. Wallace, Colonel H. G. Chanvel, C.M.G., Majors F. B. Heritage, C. B. B. White, F. J. Alderson, and Captain H. D. Wynter and J. L. Withan.

The shooting and skirmishing having been completed at the Enoggera Rifle Range on Friday, June 5th, Saturday afternoon was devoted to the remaining events. This took place at the Exhibition Grounds, the public being invited. Special invitations were issued by the State Commandant, Colonel Lee, and the grandstand accommodated many prominent officers with their friends. His Excellency the Governor (Sir William M'Gregor) and Sir Arthur Morgan arrived about 3 o'clock, and were interested spectators.

The manner in which the competitors carried out their work was splendid, and was applauded very many times. The result was as follows :—

Queensland .. .. .. ..	1
Victoria .. .. .. ..	2
New South Wales .. .. .. ..	3
Tasmania .. .. .. ..	4
West Australia .. .. .. ..	5
South Australia .. .. .. ..	6

The following are the points obtained :—

Commonwealth Champions

GRAMMAR SCHOOL CADET TEAM.

INSPECTED BY HON. J. W. BLAIR.

At the Brisbane Grammar School the Minister for Public Instruction (Hon. J. W. Blair) inspected the Commonwealth champion cadet team, the members of which are students of the Grammar School. The Minister was accompanied by Mr. J. D. Story (Under Secretary), and included among the visitors were Colonel G. Lee (district military commandant), and M. J. L. Woolcock (Chairman of the Trustees), the Masters, and others.

Owing to the rain the display had necessarily to be postponed, but the cadets, together with the students of the School, were assembled in the big hall, and there addressed by several of the visitors.

Mr. Woolcock said it was a source of great gratification to the School that the Minister for Education had visited the institution to congratulate its members on having won the Australian Champion Cadet Shield. That splendid success, however, was only one of a great line of achievements. Their School was a great school, and one of its greatest hopes was that its great and distinguished record would be carried on.

The Minister for Education, who was accorded an enthusiastic reception, remarked that it gave both him and Mr. Story a peculiar pleasure to be present on such an occasion. It was only fitting that the achievement of a number of their fellows should be celebrated by some function which could be handed down in the annals of the Schools. As an old Ipswich Grammar School boy, he was personally and keenly interested in the grammar schools of the State, their aims, and aspirations. He had read down the list of names on the honour board, and he had found many distinguished names, men who had honourably and brilliantly made their mark. That honour board was a splendid inspiration. The scholars of the day and those of the future could see what their School had produced, and there was the incentive. He was looking at those whom the State and the Commonwealth would look to in the future. It was when that fact was considered, that one was encouraged to do everything possible for the education of their young citizens. He had noted, particularly in the case of the cadets, that physically the students had not been neglected. It was a memorable event in the history of the Brisbane Grammar School, that their cadets should have achieved such signal success against so large a field of competitors. It spoke volumes for the application and enthusiasm of the cadets, and the whole-hearted interest and energy of Lieutenants West and Moran. He trusted that next year's competition would see the Grammar School squad in the premier place again. In conclusion, he impressed upon the boys the necessity of doing their level best while at work, at drill, and at play. Now was the time and opportunity, for they would be faced with many strenuous times in after life. He hoped that in consideration of the occasion, the school authorities could safely be asked to grant a holiday. (Applause.)

Colonel Lee considered that nothing but hard work had brought the cadets to such a highly efficient state. Queensland was represented by an excellent body of cadets in the Brisbane Grammar School detachment, and it came as no surprise to him when the final figures of the competition were announced. When the Queenslanders were left behind in the shooting many considered that their chances were lost, but the manliness and resolution of the boys prevailed, and they won well and honourably. The team which could beat the Grammar School boys would be a very excellent one indeed. One point particularly which appealed to him and the other officers was the splendid manner in which the team was commanded. In conclusion, he impressed upon the young soldiers the necessity of keeping in view next year's competitions, which would no doubt be a great deal more difficult to win. The cadets, however, were quite equal to the task. (Applause.)

Mr. Woolcock (Chairman of Trustees) announced that a public holiday would be given in honour of the occasion, and of the visit of the Minister of Public Instruction. (Applause.) He also added that in recognition of Lieutenant West's services in connection with the cadet team, the trustees had decided to present him with a momento as a token of appreciation. (Applause.)

Rowing Notes

(G.F.B. and E.B.F.)

As far as rowing is concerned, the year was begun remarkably well, no less than three crews being selected out of the few in the School who are interested in the sport to row in the Trial Fours. The three crews trained eagerly, and the race was well contested as far as the first and second crews were concerned, Gaydon's crew having been somewhat handicapped from the beginning of training. After an uneven start, Simmonds' crew won by half a length from Boyce's crew. The crew to represent the School in the All Schools' Race was chosen immediately after the Trials by a selection committee composed of prominent members of the Brisbane Rowing Club. The crew selected was:—G. F. Boyce (stroke), M. W. R. Bowman (3), W. Simmonds (2), and E. B. Freeman (bow). The crew began training immediately after the Easter vacation, in the new School racing four, and from the first showed great promise, but it has been the misfortune of this year's crew that, although perhaps the best crew that has represented the School for some time, they were destined to meet a crew still further above the average. Three weeks before the race Mrs. Bousfield kindly looked after us at the House and we then entered into strict training. We must thank Mrs. Bousfield for her kindness, and our thanks are also due to Mr. Rudd, who turned out on cold mornings to supervise our morning runs. Both he and Mrs. Bousfield took a keen interest in the crew, and we are sure that they were greatly disappointed when Southport eventually defeated us. Southport, the only other competitor, had the same crew as last year, and naturally showed more combination than us, as we were only in the light boat for less than three months. The race was rowed in rough water, and resulted in a win for the visitors after a hard and exciting struggle.

After the race, Mrs. Bousfield kindly entertained Mr. Rudd and the members of the crew at the Pantomime, and on the following Saturday evening she gave a farewell dinner to Allan Row, in combination with the crew, followed by a ping-pong tournament and supper.

We welcome into our circles three new masters who have each had some rowing experience. Mr. Snow has had a wide experience at Southport and Sydney; Mr. Holtham has Melbourne experience; while Mr. Pennycuick coached the Rockhampton crew in 1913.

House Notes.

Since the edition of the last Magazine our number has increased somewhat, both in staff and rank, four new boarders, viz., Ballinger, Gant, Crozier and Holding, having come at midwinter, while only one left, Bloomfield; whilst the number of resident House masters has been increased from 2 to 3. The former House masters, Mr. McGill and Mr. Henry both left at mid-winter, and they were replaced by Mr. Smith, Mr. Foggan, and Mr. Holtham, of whom the latter two teach at School as well. Mr. Snow and Mr. Pennycuick also relieve one night a week at preparation.

The sporting reputation of the House has by no means decreased since the departure of the cricket season, since we still have representatives in both rowing and football, but chiefly the latter, for we can boast of the inclusion of 10 members in the First Fifteen. In the School Crew this year, Freeman (bow), and Carr (cox) were our representatives. Whilst speaking of rowing, we here take the opportunity of pointing out to the day boys what a marked difference a few weeks' stay at the House is capable of doing (the

Old Boys' Association.

The principal event since last issue was the annual general meeting, which took place on Thursday evening, 23rd July, in the rooms of the Liberal Association, Kent's Buildings. The attendance was fairly representative, in spite of certain terpsichorean and other attractions which happened to have been billed for the same evening. We missed some familiar faces, but the roll-up of members was very good for such a purely business function, and one rather pleasant feature of it was the presence of so many of the younger generation. The following members were conspicuous : The President (Mr. J. J. Walsh), the Vice-President (His Honour Mr. Justice Lukin), the Hon. Secretary (Mr. J. G. Nowlan), Messrs. S. Stephenson, W. E. Graham, G. S. Wilson, the Headmaster (Mr. F. S. N. Boustfield), Messrs. C. W. Costin, T. E. Jones, Geo. Waugh, W. R. Parker, Lieut.-Col. H. Harris, H. G. Oxley, P. Newman-Wilson, H. G. S. Smith, R. J. Weightman, A. J. Unwin, A. L. Leslie, R. J. Quinn, and R. N. Mawby. Letters of apology for absence were received from Messrs. R. H. Ree, A. R. Webb, E. G. Oxley, C. R. Gregory, N. H. Young, F. W. Carr. The President took the chair shortly after 8 o'clock, and after the reading by the Hon. Secretary of the minutes of last year's general meeting, and their confirmation by the meeting, the Secretary reported receipt of an invitation from the Ipswich Grammar School Old Boys' Association to attend their Annual Dinner the following week. Mr. C. W. Costin undertook to represent us. Two new members were elected, in the persons of Messrs. W. F. Swynny and S. B. Snow, both masters at the School. The formal business of the meeting was then proceeded with, the President rising to propose the adoption of the annual report and financial statement. Taking the report as read, Mr. Walsh, went on to speak of the satisfactory nature of the year as a whole. The state of the finances was good, in spite of the fact that notices calling up subscriptions had gone out so very late. The Association had done its part in donating prizes to the School. The exceedingly successful celebration of Foundation Day with its dinner and smoke social had again proved the wisdom of holding that function at the School. The combined ball had been quite as successful as was expected. He drew attention to the increasing cost of issuing the Magazine to members, how it absorbed quite a large portion of the year's income from subscriptions. The Council think, he said, that we are not getting a sufficient return for our outlay as an Association, and would suggest some method of reducing the cost of production. The ex-Treasurer had done some good work in this direction, and also in general in connection with his official duties, but Mr. Ellis had found the demands of business too pressing to allow of his bestowing sufficient time on the work. It had, in any case, been found more convenient that the Secretary should have the books always ready to hand. With regard to the School Building Fund proposal, last year's idea had been very much widened in scope. The present scheme, which would be dealt with formally by the meeting at a later stage, would be then gone into in detail. With regard to the School cadet victory, the report voiced the general feeling of members who were proud of the great achievement. He referred to the work done by the Hon. Secretary during the year, and generally thanked the office-bearers for their whole-hearted co-operation.

The Vice-President (Mr. Justice Lukin) seconded the motion, and stated that it had been a great pleasure to him to be able to take a prominent part in working for the welfare of the Association and the School.

Mr. Bousfield then spoke on the motion, congratulating the officials on the marked cheerfulness of the report. He drew the attention of members to the fact that, besides winning the Association's Essay Prize, George Cooling had also won the Empire Essay Cup, presented by the Earl of Meath, and that this was the third occasion on which that cup had come to the School. He hoped that this might be taken by the University authorities as a set-off against the alleged backwardness of Queensland boys in English. Speaking of the active interest taken by the Vice-President in the welfare of the Association, he said that we should be ready to offer such positions to Old Boys who are prominent in the public or professional life of the State, and every effort should be made to induce such as were not members of the Association to become so. The Association would have a very important part to fill in connection with public instruction matters in the near future. We know there are many who would like to see the School under Government control. The existence of independent secondary schools like the Grammar School should be encouraged as much as possible, and if the Association were really representative of Old Boys who are prominent in public life, it would be very difficult for any Government to interfere. Hence distinguished Old Boys should be enlisted as members, for the time may come when the best interests of the School may depend on such backing.

Mr. W. E. Graham mentioned a letter which had come under his notice in a certain leading weekly newspaper. The writer was dealing with the colours of the Great Public Schools of Australia, and had designedly omitted the Brisbane Grammar School from that category, styling it "a glorified State school." Mr. Bousfield, in reply, said that, as the letter in question was merely a contribution to the paper, and not vouched for by the newspaper authorities, it was not worth noticing.

Mr. C. W. Costin, speaking as a very "Old Boy," wished to congratulate the Association on the favourable report. He approved of the principle of having a few functions successfully carried out, and expressed pleasure at the increase of membership, which showed that we, as an association, were very much alive. He thought that the largeness of the number of new members was, to a very great extent, due to the policy of having masters on the Council, and especially as Secretary and Treasurer ; they formed, as it were, the connecting link between past and present. He quite approved of combining the two offices of Secretary and Treasurer in one person. He was very pleased at the success of the combined ball, the more so, as he had advocated the idea of joining forces some two or three years back. He thought it not good to expect every function to pay for itself ; there were some, for instance Foundation Day, on which we were always prepared to lose a little. It was money well spent. He was very glad to see that the Association was thriving without club rooms.

Mr. T. E. Jones was pleased with the report, and said he considered the School Magazine a very valuable instrument for the welfare of the Association, that its efficacy was extremely great, and the suggested improvement and development was a good thing. He spoke of the Annual Dinner as a great success, and of Foundation Day as a "gladdening sight." In reference to the School Building Fund proposal, he thought we should not demand our pound of flesh by insisting on a vote for each £5 subscribed.

The President replied that members would be appealed to formally by circular and such points settled later, if the meeting approved of the scheme ; that £10 was already provided for. Mr. Bousfield said the more votes the Association could get, the better for the School.

The motion was then put to the vote and carried unanimously.

The President then proposed the amendment of Rule 6, so as to allow of the offices of Secretary and Treasurer being held by one person, and that four be a quorum at Council meetings instead of five ; accordingly that the word "a" after "Secretary" be deleted, and "and" inserted, and further that "five shall form a quorum" be altered to "four shall form a quorum." The President reminded members that he had already given reasons for the proposed alteration, and that he had no doubt it would, as a principle, meet with the approval of the meeting.

The Vice-President seconded the motion, and said that as a matter of fact the combining of the two offices into one had already been successfully tried, and it was only a question of obtaining formal approval. On the matter of the quorum, some discussion arose, Mr. Jones suggesting, by way of amendment, that instead of altering the quorum number, the meeting might elect seven councillors, and thus retain the full total of office-bearers. Colonel Harris also spoke on the motion, expressing his complete approval of amalgamating the two offices. He never had seen the necessity for separate officials. Very much larger (business) concerns did not have this division of work. The motion, as amended, was finally carried, substituting "and" for "a" after Secretary, and altering "committee of six" to "committee of seven;" the quorum number remaining at the original figure.

The election of office-bearers for the ensuing year was then proceeded with, the President proposing His Honour Mr. Justice Lukin as President for 1914-15. Mr. C. W. Costin seconded, and His Honour was elected by acclamation.

Mr. Walsh then vacated the chair in favour of the new President, who, after the applause had subsided, said he thoroughly appreciated the high honour conferred on him by his election to the chief office of the Association, and he intended to put as much enthusiasm into his work as time and circumstances would allow; he would like, however, to have an active and energetic Vice-President, as he would be unable to attend all the meetings. He congratulated Mr. Bousfield on the winning of the Essay Prizes by the School, and said he owed a great debt of gratitude to the late President (Mr. Walsh), and to the past Secretary and future "Secretary and Treasurer" for the assistance rendered by them. He noticed by reference to the Fixture Card that he was the 17th President of the Association, and thoroughly agreed with Mr. Bousfield as to the advisability of enlisting prominent old boys in the interests of the Association and of the School.

Mr. Walsh then proposed Mr. E. R. Crouch as Vice-President. Mr. W. E. Graham seconded and, there being no other nomination, Mr. Crouch was declared duly elected.

Mr. J. G. Nowlan was proposed for the combined offices of Secretary and Treasurer, and was declared elected.

Messrs. A. R. Webb and P. Newman-Wilson, having declared their willingness to continue their esteemed services, were duly re-elected Honorary Auditors.

In accordance with the amended Rule 6, seven Councillors were elected, instead of six, so as to retain the total number of office-bearers originally provided for. They are Messrs. S. Stephenson, J. J. Walsh, T. C. Troedson, W. E. Graham, G. S. Wilson, N. E. Waraker and R. J. Quinn. In the last-mentioned we shall have an active representative among our Old Boy undergraduates, "lest we forget."

The matter of the School Building Fund Proposal was then dealt with. Mr. Jones moving "that it be a recommendation to the incoming Council to consider the question of raising a sufficient sum for the erection of some Honour Board at the School, or for such other purpose as may be decided upon." Mr. Costin spoke, seconding the motion as a recommendation, and Mr. Walsh explained that the suggestion had come from Mr. J. L. Woolcock, Chairman of Trustees. The idea was to donate a Board to record the names of distinguished masters of the School, and it would cost about £40. This would, of course, necessitate a special appeal by circular to members, and the money would be ear-marked by the Treasurer for the purpose mentioned, or some similar one as may be determined. It would carry with it the right of the Association to nominate a subscriber with a vote for every £5 subscribed in the election of Trustees. Some particular individual would have to be nominated for life. In view of possible eventualities, it was very desirable that the Old Boys should have as large a say as possible in the election of Trustees.

Mr. Bousfield, while quite approving of the proposal, said he hoped that members would not forget the coming School Jubilee Celebration in 1919, and that the scheme would be something really worth while, say, a Library.

Mr. Geo. Waugh thought the motion too limited in scope, and moved by way of amendment, "that it be a recommendation to the incoming Council to raise a fund with the object of giving effect to some scheme which would permanently identify the Association with the School." After discussion, Mr. Jones and Mr. Costin withdrew the original motion, and the amendment was carried unanimously.

Mr. W. R. Parker then proposed "that a list of the members of the Association be published in the School Magazine." He said it was often difficult to tell who were members and who were not, and thus many a chance of roping in the stray sheep might be let slip. The Secretary said he heartily seconded the suggestion, and would have great pleasure in preparing the list for publication. The motion was put to the vote and carried on the voices. Mr. Jones finally rose to propose the usual votes of thanks to the retiring officials, and spoke in eulogistic terms of the untiring zeal and interest in the Association displayed by its representatives, making special reference to Messrs. Walsh, Stephenson and the Hon. Secretary.

The meeting then dissolved, and members adjourned for refreshments, where the usual toasts were drunk.

In accordance with resolution passed at last Annual Meeting, we give hereunder the names of all members of the Association now on the roll. As the principal object in publishing this list is to enable those who are already members to enlist those Old Boys with whom they may come in contact, who never have been enrolled, or who, though once members, have either dropped out of the ranks or been lost sight of when the old records were burnt, we shall look forward to a solid addition to our numbers. Now, more than ever, we want all Old Boys to rally to the standard of the old School and its Association.

We trust that any members who are in arrears will be attacked by vigorous qualms of conscience on seeing their names in print, and will forthwith toe the line.
