Editorial.

And it's not for the sake of a ribboned coat,
Or the selfish hope of a season's fame,
But his Captain's hand on his shoulder smote,
"Play up! play up! and play the game!"

Aye! Those are the words that every schoolboy should have instilled into his mind until, finally, he adopts them as his motto. Then, indeed, will he be worthy to follow in the footsteps of those who, in this great war, are serving their King and Country. That the School is lacking in the number of men sent forth by her can never be said with truth, for already, as is shown on our "Roll of Honour," there has been a response to the "Call" of over 545 Old Boys, a number that will compare favourably with that of any other Australian school. In this number we are inserting the photographs of several of the Old Boys who have nobly given their lives for the cause of freedom.

Nor is the younger generation forgetting its duty during the war, for, although drill was suspended during the last quarter of 1915, there were many who attended the parades voluntarily; those who were not patriotic are sorry now, as they have to make up all drills missed then. At the end of 1915 there was a sufficiency of officers and N.C.O.'s; now, however, there are several vacancies, both for commissioned and non-commissioned rank, due to the usual Christmas exodus.

As regards our scholastic successes of last year, who can say that we ought not to be proud of them. The honour of first place in both the Senior and Junior was gained for the School by L. I. A. Micheli and V. Grenning, while we also obtained six out of the twenty University Scholarships. We heartily congratulate the above-mentioned two, together with F. W. Paterson E. Foster, O. Tiegs, O. Hirschfeld, and O. Blakey, winners of University Scholarships, S. Ross, who won the Thallon Medal and all those who passed the Senior and Junior.

Our annual Swimming Sports were held in the Spring Hill Baths on March 10th, and some excellent swimming and exciting finishes were witnessed. A. Linton, who has the makings of a champion, secured the School Championship, after a strenuous tussle with C. H. McCowan, and further enhanced his record by winning the School Handicap from scratch.

The School upheld its reputation at the Secondary Schools' Swimming Sports on March 16th, by carrying off eight out of ten events, and securing second place in each of the other two.

Last month the School Rowing Club's fleet was augmented by the arrival of an excellent new practice four from Melbourne. Rowing is booming at present, and the newly-formed Grammar School Rowing Club is now of respectable dimensions, and before many years we may expect to see it an independent club, possessing a shed of its own. The members of the First Crew have now been together for about a month, and seem determined to retrieve their defeat of last year. May they do so! Mr. Pennycuik, ably assisted by Mr. Potts and Mr. Fischer, is lending invaluable aid to the Rowing Club by initiating new members into the art of rowing, and by correcting the faults of the more experienced members.

Last November, we finished up a very successful sporting year by defeating Ipswich at Cricket, thus retaining the Chelmsford Cup for another year. During the year we also defeated Toowoomba at both cricket and football, and drew with Ipswich at football. Unfortunately, we cannot do likewise this year, for Toowoomba has already beaten us at cricket; nevertheless we hope to retrieve our misfortunes in the remaining matches. Although certain members made "good round scores," we can assure our readers they avenged themselves at dinner time! In the Old Boys match, however, the Old Boys were defeated by seven wickets, thus consoling us for the Toowoomba defeat.

We lost our cricket captain, K. B. Fraser, and our football captain, A. J. Hammond (who is now in camp), at the end of last year. Should the latter's charges on the battle field resemble any of his memorable charges on the football field, it will go hard with the foe! T. Lawton was elected to the dual position of cricket and football captain—the first to hold both positions for the same year since R. J. Willcocks in 1911. We offer him our heartiest congratulations, and wish him every success in his responsible post. Freeman and Robinson, both now serving their country, will be greatly missed in the cricket field, as also will the former and Fraser in the First XV.

Mr. Snow left us last Christmas to take up the position of second master at Clayfield College, and he will, undoubtedly, be greatly missed by all those whom he taught. Owing to the large increase in the number of scholars, the teaching staff has been augmented by the arrival of Messrs. Palmer, Jacobs and Thompson.

Mr. Lea left us at the end of last year, to obey the "Call of Empire," and before departing was presented with a wristlet watch from the masters, and a number of useful presents from the boys. The small surplus, £2 14s. 6d., was handed over to the Queensland Patriotic Fund.

The School again made its little sacrifice by giving up the whole of the entrance and prize money of the recent Swimming Sports, and this, together with a collection made among the non-swimmers, was donated to the Club Hut Fund. Certificates, suitably inscribed, were presented in lieu of prizes, and these will assuredly be prized more in after years than some safety razor or portmanteau.

The whole of the scholars can now be comfortably accommodated, as the new buildings, which consist of two stories, with four extensive and well-lighted rooms on each, were opened at the beginning of the year. The "cow-shed," play-shed, hospital, and other temporary buildings, were regretfully (?) abandoned. As the numbers in the Sixth Form were found too large to occupy the old Sixth Form room, Mr. Stephenson generously allowed the Lower Sixth to use his room in the new building, whilst the Upper Sixth still remain in the old building.

As the Senior draws nearer, time becomes more valuable, therefore, our late editor, T. Hein, has been forced to resign his position. He carried out his duties very capably and enthusiastically, and chiefly to his efforts was the success of last year's Magazines, due. He has been succeeded by H. Harris and V. Grenning.

“ Dignis Detur Honos ”

“Our business is like men to fight,
And like to heroes die.”

When the Magazine published its first “Roll of Honour,” a year ago, the number of our Old Boys in the field was a little less than one hundred : now the number of those who have offered their services has risen to 545. Whether our Empire, in conflict with nations where a training to bear arms is part of the routine of every citizen’s life, can win through, relying only upon the volunteers, “that have honour and courage and resolution in them,” may be a question. But all honour to those who have helped her to do it so far : who early saw the way to go—and went.

And let us not forget the no less courageous band of those, who have accepted uncomplainingly, and almost cheerfully, the burden of daily-renewed anxiety and suspense—often receiving at the end, for all reward, the tidings they have dreaded from the first.

F.S.N.B.

The Roll of Honour

“Contre nous de la tyrannie
L’étendard sanglant est levé.
Aux armes, citoyens ! formez vos bataillons.”
“The Marseillaise.”

The following is a list of Old Boys who are taking, or have taken part in the Great European War. The names of those who have lost their lives are marked in heavier type. Mistakes and omissions are almost inevitable in such a list, and anyone who can help to perfect it is requested to communicate with the Manager of the Magazine. The number, including one Trustee, and 3 Masters, now reaches a total of 547.

The "Roll of Honour" now numbers 545 Old Boys, including one Brigadier-General, seven Lieutenant-Colonels, and thirteen Majors.

Some of our Old Boys have received commissions in the British Forces—

Messrs. N. A. Lloyd, W. T. Reinhold, J. N. Radcliffe, and A. W. L. Row have received commissions in the Artillery; and Mr. H. G. Faulkner has received a commission in the Lincolnshire Regiment.

Lieut. H. V. Taylor, of the Oxley Regiment, enlisted as a Private in the 3rd. Field Artillery, First Australian Expeditionary Force; was wounded on September 25th, 1915, at Gaba Tepe, and is now in Brisbane.

Captain A. F. Bell is Adjutant at the training camp at Enoggera. t

Mr. S. G. Kibble, who was residing in the Argentine Republic when the war broke out, has enlisted in King Edward's Horse. Mr. Kibble fought in the Boer war.

Dr. Eleanor Bourne, an old B.G.S. pupil, has gone on active service.

Mr. T. McLeod, the well-known barrister, and Mr. V. Rendle, have gone to England to join the Aviation Service.

Dr. S. F. McDonald is "somewhere in France." He has been doing excellent work in the hospitals, and has been mentioned in despatches.

Sergeant J. Atkinson has been mentioned in despatches. Bayonet charges are trivial incidents to him—he fairly revels in fighting, and considers bomb-throwing an agreeable recreation.

Captain A. F. Bell is performing the duties of D.A.A. and Q.M.G. at the A.I.F. Camp.

Captain W. O. Hodgkinson, who fought in the South African war as a Captain, is now Captain in the 11th. Light Horse. Captain Hodgkinson was a contemporary of Colonel Sellheim at school.

Mr. F. McConnel, the son of Mr. McConnel (formerly of the Technical College), is now a Flight Sub-lieutenant in the British Forces.

The first Australian Mining Corps to be formed, includes among its officers, Lieutenant W. P. Avery. Mr. Avery is a qualified mining engineer, and should make a valuable officer.

Privates Frank W. Murphy and Claude A. Murphy, of the 15th. Battalion, 4th. Infantry Brigade, were at Ismailia, Egypt, not long ago.

Captain (Dr.) Marshall Allan, R.A.M.C., was heard of in the neighbourhood of Basra, with the Indian troops, recently.

Mr. H. J. Armstrong, who has enlisted, was a member of the team which won the Empire Shooting Match in 1907.

Major Wassell and Captain E. Plant were also members of this team, which owed its success to the careful coaching of the late Major G. Gross, V.D.

We have received many letters from the front since our last number was published. The contents of these communications are very varied, but they all indicate a cheerful and hopeful disposition on the part of the writers, and an undying affection for the old B.G.S. One writer tells us of the dainty dishes which he concocted out of bully beef and other rations in this dug-out at Gallipoli. Another wants to know whether Mr. Cowan still writes that marvellous left-hand looking-glass writing which amazes so many new boys. Another sends us his kind remembrances from a London Hospital, where he is lying ill, and tells us that he still remembers how to prove that 1 equals 2. We are beginning to think that this statement must be true after all, for such a man as the writer of the letter, who writes in so cheerful a strain from a sick bed, is equal to two ordinary men!. Another, who was at School a dozen years ago, wants to know why we were beaten by Nudgee at football last year, and in his indignation he invokes the "shades of Stan. and W. Roe, D. Corrie, Ien. Brown, and Bob Willcocks," who were among the "giants" of his school days. Yet another tells us in the most cheerful manner how he narrowly escaped being blown to fragments by a Turkish shell, but is proud to be doing his "bit." Another tells us that war is a queer game, and adds that he must plead guilty to doing a "sprint" sometimes when he discovered he was being "sniped at." Someone else relates his experiences in a dangerous corner, where "it was sudden death to poke one's head up too high." The writer was unfortunate in receiving a severe wound, and we offer him our deepest sympathy. Besides letters, we have received many field service post cards.

THE LATE CAPTAIN BRUNDRIT.

From the "Courier" of March 10th, 1916, we make the following extract from a letter headed, "A Game Captain," written by Piper MacDonald, 5th. Light Horse, from Gallipoli, on November 6th, 1915. "On several occasions Captain Brundrit and I have been out on little jobs. . . . He was the gamest little fellow I've known, but I am sorry to say he was killed in taking a Turkish trench at Anzac."

From another soldier's letter, we learn that, "At Chatham's Post there was some lively work, and one night Captain Brundrit and fifteen men were hit, the Captain fatally."

THE LATE CAPTAIN F. MORAN.

Affectionate tributes to the memory of a gallant officer, an affable and loveable man, and an indefatigable worker on behalf of the cadet movement, were paid on Saturday, December 4th, 1915, at Kelvin Grove Drill Shed Reserve, in the unveiling of a photograph of the late Captain Frank Moran, presented by his mother to the 6B Area, of which he was a popular and enthusiastic officer. The interesting function attracted a large number of the public, while there was a full muster of cadets. A touching action was the presence of two of the deceased Captain's fellow officers — Major Carter and Lieutenant Juxmore; and of Corporal Castling, and Privates J. H. Mill and J. Bennett of Captain Moran's company.

On a dais in the centre of the reserve, covered by the Union Jack, was the photograph, which bore the simple inscription, "Captain Frank Moran, 15th. Battalion, A.I.F., late Area Officer 6B, died of wounds August 20th, 1915, Dardanelles; he served his country."

Captain F. S. N. Bousfield, Officer-Commanding the 6th Battalion, performed the unveiling ceremony (the Battalion coming momentarily to "attention" as a sign of respect to the deceased officer), and said that they would prize the photograph because it was a memorial of a brave man who had met a noble death fighting valiantly for his country. If ever a man carried out the precept, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might," it was Captain Moran. The work he was obliged to do for 6B Area was only a tithe of the work he actually did and contemplated. While in charge of a scattered and difficult area, he found time to train a team that could beat any team in Australia. He (the speaker) was privileged to read two letters from the front, and in both the same expression occurred: "His men loved him, and would follow him anywhere." He was sure they would be better men and better officers with a higher conception of duty through having been associated with Captain Moran.

Major Carter said that on active service a man's real character was revealed in times of hardship and peril. The dominant note in Captain Moran's character was loveableness. On August 9th, he remembered, Captain Moran was in command of the advance guard of the 15th Battalion. He (Major Carter) saw him coming back with his arm hanging limp, shattered by a bullet. Notwithstanding that, Captain Moran told him with a smile that he was going to get his arm dressed. If the cadets took Captain Moran as an example, and succeeded as well as he had done, they would do remarkably well.

Mr. W. F. Finlayson, M.H.R., referred to the enthusiasm of Captain Moran, and hoped his memory would be perpetuated by the erection of such an institute in the Area as Captain Moran had desired to found.

Lieutenant Luxmore said that when Captain Moran was wounded, he did not mind his own hurt—his sole concern was to know how his men were getting on. He was absolutely one of their gamest men, and also one of the ablest and kindest.

Hon. A. G. C. Hawthorn said the words "a gallant gentleman" aptly described Captain Moran. His whole aim was to do the very best he could for the boys of 6B. Area. He devoted much time and trouble to get money to erect an institute, so as to give the boys a place where they could spend their evenings, and there was now £300 to be used for this purpose.

LIEUT.-COLONEL L. C. WILSON AND THE LATE CAPTAIN BRUNDRIT.

General Godley's Army Corps Order, December 8th, 1915, reads:—"The Army Corps Commander wishes to express his appreciation of the 2nd Light Horse Brigade in successfully advancing the position to Wilson's Look Out on Harris Ridge between 3rd and 8th November. The operation was skilfully planned and carried out with vigour and determination. General Godley congratulates the 5th Light Horse, to whom the operation was entrusted, and to whose resource and gallantry the excellent result achieved is largely due. The following officers and N.C.O.'s have been particularly brought to the Army Corps Commander's notice—Lieut.-Colonel L. C. Wilson . . . ; Lieut. Brundrit."

It is interesting to notice that two positions on Gallipoli Peninsula have been called after two of our Old Boys, namely Harris Ridge, after the late Lieut.-Colonel Harris, and Wilson's Look Out, after Lieut.-Colonel L. C. Wilson.

THE LATE LIEUT. W. J. RIGBY.

Corporal O. Ulcoq, in a letter to Mrs. Rigby, tells her that Lieut. Rigby was killed while his platoon was trying to hold a most dangerous flank position, against a rush of Turks at the landing at Gallipoli. Corporal Ulcoq saved the colours on Lieut. Rigby's coat, and sent them—the only relic of a brave soldier—to his relatives.

THE DEATH OF THE LATE MR. H. DURAND, M.A. Formerly a Master in the School. (Killed at Gallipoli.)

The following copy of a letter from Captain Brache to Mr. Durand's mother, will be of interest to all past and present members of the School who came in contact with the late Mr. Durand while he was a Master in the School:—

July 17th, 1915.

Mrs. Durand.

It is with deepest sympathy that I take this opportunity of writing and telling you how your dear son Havilland met his death at Gaba Tepe, Gallipoli Peninsula, on April 26th, 1915.

You will pardon my not writing before, but, unfortunately, I had been unable to write and give you the account, as it was given me by Lt.-Col. ———.

Being both Guernsey men, we often had a chat over our island home while in Egypt. He told me about his brother who lost his life while gallantly leading the Munsters in a bayonet charge in France, and hoped that if he was called upon to give his life for his country that it would be under somewhat similar circumstances. It will be consoling to you to know that Havilland met his death whilst engaged in bringing up ammunition to the firing line. His comrades having expended nearly all their ammunition, volunteers were called for to go to the beach for more. It was necessary to proceed down a fire-swept gully, then on to a shell-swept beach, and return. Havilland volunteered to do this. He got to the beach and returned by way of the gully again, but I am extremely sorry to say, fell into the trench dead. He had done his duty and had saved our line. I am sure that he could not have desired a more glorious death than this, a most arduous and nerve-racking task. I should like to mention that he was loved by officers and men alike. He was selected and specially trained as a Battalion scout—work that always requires a lot of intelligence and tact. His name will go down in the history of the 13th. Battalion A.I.F., when it is written, as one of the heroes who gave his life for his comrades as the Colonel assured me that if Durand had not arrived with the ammunition, that his comrades would have been annihilated, and our line would have been broken.

I felt very proud after hearing my Colonel speak in that way, and he asked me to write a letter of condolence to you, stating the circumstances of his death.

On behalf of the Commanding Officer, the officers and men of the 13th. A.I.F., I offer our deepest sympathy, and hope that you will find some consolation in knowing the brave and gallant way in which your dear son met his death.

His comrades informed me that they had buried him on the cliffs at Gaba Tepe, and had placed a small rough wooded cross on his grave. The spot was pointed out to me from a distance, and resembled the south coast of Guernsey with its cliffs and low scrub.

With deepest sympathy,

W. O. BRACHE, Captain.

13th Battalion, Australian Imperial Forces.

THE SYDNEY "REFEREE."

To the Sydney "Referee" we tender our thanks for the kindly reference, on January 12th, to our Old Boys who are at the war.

The Chelmsford Cup.

As so many have been continually enquiring what is meant by the "Chelmsford Cup," we think if we state here the conditions upon which this Cup was presented, we may clear up any possible doubts. The Cup that we are interested in, is one of three, presented by Lord Chelmsford, a former Governor of Queensland, for perpetual competition among Queensland Grammar Schools. The original intention was to have one cup for all the six schools, but considerations of distance made it necessary to arrange three groups:—

Brisbane, Ipswich, Maryborough;

Ipswich and Toowoomba;

Maryborough and Rockhampton;

Townsville being reluctantly omitted on account of its isolated position. These cups are to be held each year by the schools which have scored the greatest aggregate of points in the previous year, the points being allotted on the following scale.

Major events (cricket and football), 2 for playing the match, 2 for winning.

Minor events (athletics, rowing, cadet shooting, and tennis), 1 for the contest, 1 for winning.

The competition for these cups commenced in 1907 ; and we are proud to say that Brisbane has been the only school to have its name inscribed on the cup for our group, as we have defeated both Ipswich and Maryborough every year since its inauguration.

Cricket Notes

FIRST ELEVEN.

With ten of last year's players, including Mr. Connal, who has bowled well throughout the season, we commenced practice under the coaching of Mr. D. Miller, who has brought on some promising batsmen and bowlers.

We have had a fairly successful season so far, having won seven out of the twelve matches played.

We were successful in defeating the "Old Boys," owing, doubtless, to the fact that they played only nine men, and batted on a wet wicket.

Toowoomba, however, defeated us badly. We were unfortunate in losing the toss, thus having to face Browne and Seaton on a sticky wicket,—bowlers who would have been deadly enough on a perfect batting wicket. Both teams greatly appreciated the kindness of Mrs. Bousfield in entertaining us at dinner at Johnson's Café, and at afternoon tea, and we take this opportunity of thanking her for the interest she has taken in the team throughout the season.

The bat presented by Mr. Crouch last year for the best batting average was won by K. B. Fraser ; and Mr. Powell's bat for the best bowling was won by E. B. Freeman ; while the bat presented by Mr. Haymen for the best fielder, fell to T. Lawton.

The following are details of matches played since Christmas :—

B.G.S. v. VALLEY.—A one-day match. B.G.S., 121 (Hein 38, Mr. Connal 21). Valley, 202 (Harvey 66). Bowling : Mr. Connal, 2 for 63 ; Mr. Neilson, 1 for 33 ; R. H. Brown, 4 for 24 ; Grenning, 3 for 21. Valley thus won by 81 runs.

B.G.S. "FIRSTS" v. "SECONDS."—This match was finished on a "sports half," and each side batted twice. "Seconds," 92 and 55 (Anderson 26 and 13). "Firsts," 220 and 134 (Atthow 64, Lawton 55, Hein 23, Toms 23). Bowling for "Firsts," R. S. H. Brown, 3 for 29 ; R. H. Brown, 6 for 25 ; Grenning, 1 for 30. The "Firsts" thus won by 207 runs.

B.G.S. v. "OLD BOYS."

The annual match against the "Old Boys" was played on the Turf, on Foundation Day, 28th February. The "Old Boys" batted first on a wicket that had been thoroughly soaked by rain during the week-end. They succeeded in getting 42, to which the School replied with 187. In their second innings, the "Old Boys" made 184. The following are the detailed scores:—

B.G.S., 170 (Atthow 26, Lawton 44). Toowong, second innings, 158. K. B. Fraser, last year's captain, played in this match with us, batting well and fielding excellently.

B.G.S. v. TOOWOOMBA.

Browne, winning the toss from Lawton, sent Brisbane in to bat on a very soft wicket. Browne and Seaton opened the bowling for Toowoomba, and dismissed the School for the small total of 30, of which Atthow made 14. The wicket improved in the course of play, and Toowoomba went in, getting 126. Browne batted brilliantly for 75, hitting twelve fours and two sixes. In our second attempt we reached 104, Boyce batting soundly for 54, hitting with great vigour. The rest of the team, however, collapsed for 22. Toowoomba required nine to win, but lost two wickets in obtaining these. The following are details of the scores:—

B.G.S. v. I.G.S.

This match was played on the North Ipswich Sports Ground, and after a most exciting game, we won by 56 runs on the first innings. Harding won the toss from Fraser, and elected to bat on a fast scoring wicket. The first few men gave us some trouble, the fourth wicket falling at 114. The tail, however, made little resistance, the innings yielding 146.

Hein and Boyce opened our innings, facing the attack of Stafford and Dalton. Hein batted well, and hitting out vigorously, collected 61 before he was caught. He gave an excellent display, and practically won the match for us. Atthow and Robinson carried the score to 125 by good play, when the former was caught;

Robinson being bowled soon afterwards. Lawton and Wilson were dismissed cheaply. Wickets were now falling quickly, and with 3 wickets to fall and 12 runs to win, the excitement was intense. However, Freeman considerably relieved our feelings by opening his shoulders and hitting two, four, and six off consecutive balls. The last wicket put on 52 runs. Freeman's score of 43 not out was made in fine style, and included a six and five fours.

Following are the scores:—

CRITICISMS OF FIRST ELEVEN.

- C. R. BOYCE.—Sound bat, with powerful drives to the off and on, but is inclined to hit out before he has played himself in ; slow leg-break bowler, keeps a good length, and turns considerably. Has greatly improved since last year.
- J. E. BIGGS.—Steady bat with good defence and strokes on leg and off ; good catch, but slow off the mark, and often fails to get there in time.
- W. ATTHOW.—Perhaps the best bat in the team, with clean powerful strokes all round the wicket ; bowls well when needed ; good field and sure catch. Colours 1915-16.
- T. HEIN, Vice-Captain (wicket-keeper).—Has done great service for the team ; very smart behind the stumps ; one of our best bats, with clean strokes to the on and leg. Colours 1915-16.
- R. S. H. BROWS.—Medium fast right-hand bowler ; has bowled consistently throughout the season ; batting fair, with clean cuts, and good off drive.
- N. E. TOMS.—Very good left-hand bat, cuts cleanly, and drives strongly to the off ; runs splendidly between the wickets ; very good hard-working field, and good catch.

- R. H. BROWN.—Left-hand medium pace bowler; keeps a good length; fair bat, poor defence, improved field. Colours, 1915-16
- W. E. GOERTZ.—Fair bat, with good strokes on the leg, defence could be improved; good catch, but should be quicker off the mark, and get in front of the ball when fielding.
- V. GRENNING.—Medium pace leg-break bowler, who can nip in a fast one now and again; fair forcing bat, but defence poor; should learn to play steady to a good ball, and not "drop his bundle;" fair field.
- H. W. ANDERSON.—Fair bat, with sound off drive; fields well, and is a good catch.
- T. LAWTON (by a member of the team).—Our popular captain. Has greatly improved as a bat, with a good defence and plenty of patience; cuts well and off drives powerfully; splendid field in any position, and is very energetic. Colours, 1915-16.

THE HILL WICKET.

A beginning has been made of the Hill wicket. Some three hundred loads of ashes have already been deposited on the ground, to raise the level at the lower end. Already they have made an appreciable difference and some excavating and filling in will be commenced as soon as the season permits. We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of another donation of £1 from Dr. Campbell, of Singapore. We hope that when the new ground is completed, there will be many old boys who will be proud of having contributed to its formation.

Rowing Notes.

(By W.W.W.)

At the beginning of the year the Brisbane Grammar School Rowing Club came into existence, with every prospect of success. At a meeting held early in the year, the following officers were elected:—

Patron and President: Mr. F. S. N. Bousfield.

Vice-Presidents: Messrs. R. H. Roe, Waugh, Colclough, Stephenson, Thwaites, Potts and Fischer.

Captain: W. W. Wilson.

Vice-Captain: A. A. Baynes.

Secretary and Treasurer: Mr. S. W. Pennycuick.

Committee: A. E. Axon, F. R. Cory, T. Lawton.

The club has been launched with a membership of forty, and until our fleet can be augmented, it is deemed advisable to limit the membership to that number.

On 16th March, our new practice four arrived in Brisbane. She was built by James Edwards and Sons, Melbourne, and is, undoubtedly, a fine piece of workmanship. One marked improvement in her construction is the substitution of very light wood for canvas fore and aft. She is a very fine boat to row in, and I think that at present the B.G.S. Rowing Club can congratulate itself in having the best practice four in Brisbane.

We hope, in the course of a few weeks, to order a new tub pair, which will greatly facilitate the coaching of new members. We were very fortunate in being allotted the School's "two blues" as our registered colours by the Rowing Association, so that in future the School will row in light blue singlets with dark blue facings.

At present we have three fours practising together, and hope before the end of next week, to be able to form another four.

New members should remember that, the oftener they come down to practice in the afternoons, the sooner they will be promoted to seats in fours. They must not expect to be put into fours before they have had a good grounding in the chief points of rowing in the tub.

Mr. Potts and Mr. Fischer are assisting Mr. Pennycuick with the coaching of fours and tubs, and we heartily thank them for their able assistance.

CRITICISMS OF CREW.

(BY MR. PENNYCUICK)

W. W. WILSON (stroke, 9st. 10lbs.)—Needs to sit up well to meet his oar at the finish of the stroke, and to keep his shoulders square; sets a good steady swing with plenty of reach; is cool, and shows good judgment.

A. BAYNES (No. 3, 11st.)—Must make more use of his length, and at the same time keep his slide hard up on the catch.

F. R. CORY (2, 10st. 4lbs.)—Inclined to run deep, especially when harder work is being done; good finish, and sits up well.

A. E. AXON (bow, 9st. 8lbs.)—Must pick up No. 2's body swing, and get his catch; is late far too often.

The whole crew must pay more attention to body swinging and time, as both are still poor. The catch (when made together) is smart, and has good effect. The blade work in the water is good, but bow side are inclined to finish short. Length is good with the exception of bow. Slide work and body work are fair with No. 3 the weak spot.

Cadet Notes.

(By A.E.M.)

Early this year, we received a notice from the Defence Department to the effect that all drills, which should have been attended during the period when the training was suspended, have to be made up before 30th June. So this quarter we shall have 32 hours' drill to do, much to the disappointment of those cadets who thought they would escape drill for one quarter. As the drill was carried on under the voluntary system during the suspension of training, many boys have the satisfaction of knowing that any voluntary drills which they attended during that period will be counted as compulsory drills. Several of the N.C.O.'s zealously attended these voluntary parades, and helped to carry on the drill, particularly C.S.M. R. K. Knight, C.S.M. T. Hein, C.Q.M.S. E. G. Wagner, Platoon-Sergeants F. Nommensen, R. A. Maxwell, Sergeant A. J. Sutch, Corporals H. Harris and H. Park. We hope that the example set by them will encourage cadets to attend voluntary parades in future. This year we have been unfortunate enough to lose three of our officers, viz., Second Lieutenants K. J. G. Wilson, E. B. Freeman, and E. C. Gee, who have left the School.

The following promotions have been made since the beginning of the year:—C.Q.M.S. T. Hein to be Company Sergeant-Major; Sergeant E. G. Wagner to be Company Quarter Master Sergeant; Sergeants H. Gasteen, J. Williams and J. R. H. Morgan to be Platoon-Sergeants; Corporal A. E. Axon to be Sergeant; Lance-Corporal W. C. Day to be Corporal.

This year we were more fortunate than last year, in that we were able to go to the range for our Musketry course. We went to the Redbank range on March 3rd and 24th. Those who went on the 3rd had rather hard luck, as it was a wet day. But on the 24th the weather was most favourable, and some good shooting resulted, Muller and McCowan securing highest score with 109 each. Everybody turned up, although many had to leave home at 6 a.m. to get the 7 a.m. train at the Central Station.

At the range, sometimes when a cadet fired, and was not marked for the shot, he at once jumped to the conclusion that the marker had gone to sleep, but as the S.S.M. always managed to get marked for a shot, we concluded that the cadet's bullet had not gone straight, but had thoughtlessly buried itself in the mound!

Very soon we expect to have an N.C.O.'s class in full swing, and hope that all boys who have sonorous voices will join, and help to break in the large batch of recruits expected to arrive after mid-winter. As we will require the new N.C.O.'s immediately after the Mid-winter holidays, we expect the exam. will be held before then. A new Area Officer has been appointed, so we hope that in future, exams. will not be so few and far between as they have been in the past.

Tennis Tournament 1915.

The following were the winners of the Tournament at the close of last year:—

Singles Championship: H. N. Wilson, 1; D'Arcy Cameron, 2.

Singles Handicap: Dudley Cameron, 1; H. N. Wilson, 2.

Doubles Handicap: T. Hein-C. Longbottom, 1; R. Colledge
F. S. Marshall, 2.

Gymnasium Notes.

(By A.E.A.)

The attendance at the gymnasium during the dinner hour is steadily increasing, and on the whole the School seems to be taking more interest in gymnastics this year than in past years. Nevertheless, the members of the Sixth Form either consider it below their dignity to display their talent before the members of the Lower School, or are unwilling to expend energy in such trivial exercises as "Giant Swings," or "Front Phlanges," etc. At the close of last year, the Open and the Under Sixteen Championships were decided under the supervision of our able instructor, Mr. Betts, N.S.P.E.

Mr. Eatough, of the Brisbane Gymnasium, kindly consented to act as judge, and awarded the prizes as follows:—Open Championship: Axon, 1; Pitter, 2. Under Sixteen: Elmes, 1; Astill and Bell, 2.

Gymnastics in the School have been useful, not only for physical, but also for patriotic purposes inasmuch as a squad trained by our instructor has taken part in two Patriotic carnivals. This squad will again appear at the Ambulance Sports on April 15th.

Members of the School are reminded that the apparatus in the gymnasium has been renovated, and is now in good condition.

THE ANNUAL GYMNASTIC COMPETITION, 1915.

The annual competitions in gymnastics brought forward some fine gymnasts, especially in the junior event. The work displayed was of a very high standard, quite surprising the judge, Mr. R. Eatough, who said he had never before seen such high-class work done by boys under 16 years. When you think of it, one arm side-levers, back levers, grand circles, etc., by boys of that age.

are simply staggering! The work of the first four was very close, and resulted in favour of Elmes, 110 marks; Bell and Astill, 108; and Moore, 104.

The Seniors did some good work, but were rather nervous when performing, and, consequently, did not show to the best advantage. The winner (Axon) has the makings of a fine gymnast, but he must not over-do it.

J. J. BETTS, N.S.P.E., Instructor.

Library Notes.

(By N.B.)

So far, the Library has been well patronised by all forms in the School, with the exception of the Lower School. Perhaps the members of this part of the School are not yet aware of the existence of the School Library. For the information of all such, we wish to state that the Library is free, open on Monday and Tuesday afternoons, and contains all kinds of literature. It is situated in Mr. Cribb's room. At the beginning of the year, James Allan, Esq., M.L.A., presented two copies of "Letters from a Young Queenslander" to the Library. This book contains extracts of letters from Dr. Marshall Allan, an old boy of the School, who is serving in the British Medical Corps "somewhere in France." This book is well worth reading. Any other donations of books will be gratefully received and acknowledged by the librarians.

Junior Cadet Notes.

(By B.B.)

This year the Junior Cadets are drilled and supervised by Mr. Dovey, while Mr. Betts carries on physical instruction every Monday and Thursday morning as before.

There are now eight sections, each under the charge of a section-commander, and an assistant section-commander, selected from the old squad of last year.

On Wednesday mornings, from 9 to 10 o'clock, the Cadets indulge in swimming at the Spring Hill Baths, under the supervision of Mr. Dovey and Mr. Connal.

At the annual School Swimming Sports, held at the Spring Hill Baths, a Junior Cadet Relay Race was one of the events. Each squad was represented by four boys, and the race resulted in a win for No. 2 Section, No. 1 Section coming second, with No. 3 third.

On the 24th of March, the Senior Cadets had to attend a four-hour parade. During this period, organised games were arranged for and participated in by the Junior Cadets. Cricket was played by some, both on the Turf and on the Hill wicket, while tennis was played by others. Others, still, preferred a swim, and visited the Metropolitan Baths, under the care of Mr. Connal; thus a very pleasant afternoon was spent by everybody.

It has been found necessary to purchase two new side drums, owing to the increased number of cadets this year.

On some mornings, certain squads have marching exercises instead of physical drill, each section being controlled by non-commissioned officers of the Senior Cadets.

With regard to the inspection of the Junior Cadets, to be held shortly, it is hoped that they will acquit themselves worthily.

This quarter has been made a very interesting and pleasant one by the efforts of the master in charge, and we are hopeful that the next will be even more so.

Many of us are looking forward with joyful anticipation to joining the Senior Cadets in July.

House Notes.

(By H.W.A.)

Many familiar faces have disappeared from the House since the last issue of the Magazine. Among them are Fraser, K. B., Fraser, S., Paterson, F., Ledlie, Freeman, and Hammond. Fraser, K., and Paterson, after securing very creditable passes in the Senior (Paterson gaining third place in the scholarships), are now working hard at the Queensland University. We hope they will continue to have as successful scholastic and sporting careers as they enjoyed at the B.G.S. Fraser, K., won the Lilley Gold Medal for 1915, the previous boarder to gain possession of it being A. W. L. Row, the Rhodes Scholar.

S. Fraser also matriculated, and has entered the Melbourne University. We wish him every success there.

Other passes from the House in the Senior were Freeman and Ledlie, whom we desire to congratulate.

We were very glad to receive Lawton as a boarder again, and congratulate him on being elected both football and cricket captain.

Brown, Cory and Lord are now House Prefects; and the first two have been elected School Prefects.

In the Swimming Sports McCowan lost the Championship by a touch to Linton, but redeemed himself by defeating him in the V. and VI. Form Handicap. Other successful competitors from the House were Lawton, Dunne, Jameson, Jodrell and Oelrichs. Lawton winning the Wilson and Chapman Memorial Medal for the Breast and Back Championship.

A batch of new boys has almost filled the places of those who have left.

The Sixth Form room has at present a great leaning towards music, and many and varied are the strains which proceed therefrom.

Of late, a cinematograph has taken the place of the gramophone, with which we were wont to while away Saturday nights.

Wrench, Thallon, Richardson, Freeman and Hammond have gone into camp since Christmas. Our best wishes go with them, and to all other old boarders who are "doing their bit." We see them frequently in the week-ends, when they avail themselves of Mrs. Bousfield's kind invitations.

Old Boys' Association.

Hon. Secretary and Treasurer: Mr. J. G. Nowlan, "Ky-vam," Bismarck Street, Clayfield, or the Grammar School.

Since the annual meeting, which was recorded in last issue, no functions have been held prior to the Foundation Day gathering, which was specially excluded from the resolution of the council alluded to at the annual meeting.

The Foundation Day celebration itself, which took place on Monday, 28th February, as being more convenient than the 29th, the real date, was, in spite of the large number of absentees entailed by the war, a very brilliant success. Naturally, it was not altogether an easy matter to enlist the services of a sufficient number of members to form teams for the cricket and tennis matches, and, in the end, the latter had to be abandoned.

The cricket match, however, passed off with quite the usual enthusiasm and success, even though the Old Boys' team had to be supplemented at the last moment. The results of the match are shown elsewhere, so we shall content ourselves with stating that the Old Boys did not have it all their own way. The number of visitors present at the match was no considerable, but, no doubt, this was on account of the absence at the Front, or in camp, of many whose friends would otherwise have been in evidence. Needless to say, thanks to the kindness of O.C.'s, there was a large number of our khaki-clad Old Boys, and we noticed some of our returned wounded amongst them. Lieutenant H. Taylor, Sapper A. Morrison, Corporal Castelly, and Private L. Taylor, drove over from Kangaroo Point Hospital in a motor car.

The cricket teams were, as usual, very hospitably entertained at lunch by the Head Master, and afternoon tea was provided on the Turf by the Association.

The evening function in the School Hall was—as the newspapers say—"eminently satisfactory." Although the replies were somewhat slow in reaching the Secretary, and, indeed, caused him some anxiety at first for the success of the dinner and smoke social, the transient cloud of worry was eventually cleared away, and the final rally was quite good. Some acknowledgment is owing to the vigorous efforts made by Messrs. Stephenson and Jones to assist in making the attendance a substantial one. As a matter of fact, considerably over 100 sat down to the dinner, and we are therefore, justified in reflecting how really magnificent a gathering we might have recorded had there been no war.

The President, His Honour Mr. Justice Lukin, was unavoidably absent in Rockhampton, and the Vice-President, Mr. E. R. Crouch, regretted his inability to attend. Numerous other apologies were received, including Judge Lukin; Messrs. E. R. Crouch, W. R. Parker, A. M. McNab, C. Mutch, R. G. Quinn, P. N. Wilson, H. Baynes, P. J. O'Shea, A. H. Savage, S. A. Tozer, R. H. Roe, P. P. Fewings, J. J. Walsh, A. H. Jones, W. A. Morrow, T. G. Gaydon, J. G. Earwaker, H. A. Davey, A. L. Macnaughton, C. S. Crouch, F. Connah, W. Kelso, W. L. Nicklin, H. Baynes, K. B. Fraser, etc. Mr. Pring Roberts was voted to the chair, and amongst others present were:—Major J. A. Austin, Mr. W. H. Austin, the Head Master, Mr. F. S. N. Bousfield, Messrs. O. F. Blakey, J. H. Bradbury, H. Cook, W. R. Dovey, G. Down, W. T. Evans, W. Fraser, E. B. Freeman, R. Gailey, E. C. Gee, A. D. Graham, W. E. Graham, C. S. Graham, M. D. Graham, C. R. Gregory, C. R. Harrison, M. Hart, A. S. L. Hay, R. G. Hamilton, F. J. Heussler, Lieutenant P. W. Hopkins, Messrs. F. Holland, A. H. Jones (Toowoomba), T. E. Jones, V. Jessup, A. V. James, R. M. King, R. K. Knight, A. L. Leslie, G. C. Logan, C. H. Marriott, A. J. Mason, J. F. Neilsen, J. G. Nowlan, E. G. Oxley, H. G. Oxley, C. A. Powell, S. L. Robinson, F. Reimers, S. Stephenson, J. R. Stroyan, E. K. Tully, N. E. Waraker, R. E. Thwaites, C. A. Longbottom, G. Waugh, J. L. Gasteen, E. M. Trower, W. W. Brown, I. R. Boyce, R. J. Weightman, P. A. Calow, R. S. McNab, A. R. Webb, N. H. Young, Lieut. H. V. Taylor, Messrs. J. W. Pennycuick, A. H. Thompson, L. I. A. Micheli, A. S. Peterson, J. H. C. Kilroe, R. A. Cowley and others, including the School teams and School orpheans, and of course, "good old George," and W. Walker.

The usual toast of "The King" having been duly honoured, the School Orchestra, under the Hon. Secretary's baton, discoursed sweet strains in the shape of selections from Gounod's "Faust," which evoked considerable applause.

The Chairman then rose to propose "The School," first thanking the Association for the honour conferred on him by placing him in the chair; and then thanking Mr. and Mrs. Bousfield for their usual liberality in providing both teams with an excellent lunch. He went on to compare the numbers of scholars and masters when he attended the School, about 40 years ago, with the present number, showing how it had advanced from about 120 pupils with 5 masters, to about 500, with 22 or 23 masters. Past scholars, he said, had distinguished themselves in all walks of life. One was a Judge of the High Court of Australia, another—our esteemed President—a Judge of our Supreme Court, and others still had, from time to time, adorned our District Courts in Queensland. Others, again, were distinguished in the medical profession, the army and the navy, and all branches of the commercial world. Any and every one of these positions were open to the present and future scholars, if they industriously followed the principles which were instilled into them by the present masters of the School. He also pointed out the advantages the present boys had over those of the old days, as to-day they had only to walk from the School to the other end of the city to receive the benefits and advantages of the teaching of the University and the Technical College. The speaker also referred in kindly terms to the very excellent music supplied by the School Orchestra; and wound up by proposing the health of "The School," coupled with the name of the Head Master, Mr. Bousfield.

Mr. C. A. Powell, having very kindly contributed and ably rendered a song, Mr. Bousfield replied, alluding to the magnificent response the Old Boys had made to the call of their country, and then, as a proof that the School was a living and growing organism, he pointed to the new growths that were covering the ground—new buildings and improvements to the Hill wicket, also mentioning the Boat Club, formed to race under the School colours, which began with an unexpectedly large membership, and would, he hoped, help us to win the coveted championship from our formidable rivals.

As a proof that the School of to-day was the School of past generations, he pointed out that nearly one in five of the new boys enrolled this year was either the son or the younger brother of Old Boys whom he had himself known at the School. He assured the Old Boys that no efforts would be spared by himself or the staff to maintain the high reputation of the School.

After some humorous recitations had been given by Mr. Neilsen, earning rounds of applause, especially from the more youthful and exuberant portion of the audience, the toast, "Our Brave Fallen," was honoured, standing in silence, and then Mr. W. E. Graham, in proposing the toast of "Our Old Boys at the War," said we were proud of the deeds of our Australian heroes, and in paying this tribute, he could not help admiring their wonderful qualities as fighters. But there was another way he would like to think of our lads,—not as the great fighting man, the Berserk of old,—but as the men who, in the words of the Victorian poet, Dennis, typified the happy, laughing sunshine of Australia. The speaker went on to compare the happy, light-hearted manner in which the Australians had faced death with a song on their lips when the "Southland" was sunk, with the stolid heroism of the British regulars in the wreck of the "Birkenhead." Each was equally worthy of a place of honour in our annals. He quoted the words of the English war correspondent who was struck with admiration at our lads' behaviour:—"They sang 'Australia Will Be There,' and by God! they were there!"

Major Austin, in reply, thanked them on behalf of the Old Boys who have gone or are joining from the School. He said that the world was having all her philosophies upset by this gigantic upheaval. But it was owing to this war that Australia had found her place. Her heroes had fought and fallen within sight of the plains of Troy, and Australia was no longer a nation apart from the rest of the world. She was joined together with the Empire and the Allies for the vindication of right against might. The School was justly proud of the Old Boys' record, and if it would please his hearers, he could say, on good authority, that the last man to leave Gallipoli was a B.G.S. Old Boy.

While they all gloried in the deeds of those in the firing line, he would like to pay a tribute of honour to those who have not yet left our shores. He could assure the gathering that the same spirit that had been shown by the Anzacs was exhibited by the men in training at the various camps.

The Orchestra next gave a very creditable rendering of Sappe's famous overture, "Poet and Peasant," and was loudly applauded.

Mr. T. E. Jones then rose to propose the resolution, of which notice was given in the daily papers. He said that although it had not yet attained its jubilee, the B.G.S. had a record to be justly proud of; but all its previous honours had been quite eclipsed by the glorious fact that nearly 500 of its Old Boys had volunteered to serve the cause of King and Country. He congratulated Mr. Graham on his eloquent and touching speech, and was particularly pleased that he had touched on a salient point, viz., the obligation of erecting a suitable memorial to the honour of those who had enlisted in the present war. A scheme which had found favour with those Old Boys with whom he had discussed the matter, was that a temporary honour board should be at once erected. This could, he had ascertained by enquiry, be done at a small cost, which might be borne by the Association, and that steps should be taken at once for the purpose of establishing a memorial—whatever expense it might involve—worthy of the brave boys of the B.G.S. This was not a fitting occasion for a discussion of this question, and he, therefore, moved, "That the Council of the Association be requested to take immediate steps to summon a public meeting of Old Boys, for the purpose of deciding what steps should be taken to erect a memorial worthy of those who had honoured the School, by offering their services in the Great War." The motion was carried unanimously.

"George" was then duly toasted, and he replied with his usual, ever-green vigour and emphasis, and it was a joy indeed to see him still able to hold his own as in the old days.

The proceedings terminated with an exceedingly enthusiastic rendering of the National Anthem, with vigorous orchestral accompaniment.

During the dinner, printed lists of Old Boys who have volunteered were circulated, and considerably added to or amended by members present.

The Hon. Secretary takes this opportunity of expressing regret at having overlooked a certain regulation by enclosing subscription notices with some of the recent circulars, and thus causing recipients to be taxed by the postal authorities. This, however, does not explain how it came about that some circulars reached their destination only last week, though posted some time before Foundation Day!

We were very sorry to hear that "Pat" Fewings had over-worked himself, and was suffering from nervous break-down. He has been ordered away from work by the doctor, and after a spell of some weeks at Eumundi, wrote from Redcliffe, where he is trying to recruit his over-taxed strength.

Members are hereby notified that it has been decided by the Council to erect a memorial tablet at the School in memory of the late Mr. C. W. Costin. A subscription list has been opened, and the Hon. Secretary will be glad to receive the names of those who will contribute to the cost of erection. It is proposed to put up a small brass tablet.

Mr. C. R. Gregory has accepted the seat on the Council of the Association, rendered vacant by Mr. G. S. Wilson having resigned to go into camp.

We have received several letters and notes relative to members in camp, or at the front. These have been submitted to Mr. Mason, and absorbed into his war notes.

A very pleasant and readable letter reached us from our old friend, "Smiler" Paton, who was then in camp at Cook's River, Sydney, which, he says, is almost exclusively devoted to artillery training. He mentions having met Newell, Scott, Harold Jones, Hollis, Elliott, Parke, Mawby, and also, among the engineers, Kennedy and Brydon. A. S. West is, he says, on the instructional staff at Liverpool.

A most interesting paragraph in a Melbourne paper, describes a remarkable operation—unique in Australia—recently performed by an Old Boy, already distinguished in the medical world, Surgeon Colonel Moore, in the Military Base Hospital, at St. Kilda. A soldier, who took part in the initial operations at Gallipoli, had his left cheek, part of the lower jaw, and the upper lip, torn away by a piece of shrapnel. He reached Melbourne so horribly disfigured—having been merely stitched up at the front,—and the subsequent shrinkage had made such havoc of his appearance that he was obliged to wear a shade over his face. Dr. Moore took him in hand, and after a series of operations, has virtually provided him with a new mouth and a new cheek. The details given are vague, because Colonel Moore was naturally unwilling to discuss a professional matter. But the paper goes on to say that with the growth of a beard, it would be very difficult to trace the patient's injuries.

The number of enrolments in the Association continues to be very solid and encouraging. At last meeting alone, thirty-one new members were elected. Since the beginning of the current financial year, the following new members have been listed:—Dr. Argyll Campbell, A. H. Brown, F. G. Ballinger, R. C. Compton, John Cameron, R. M. Park, W. R. Steele, C. M. Wrench, J. W. Mott, E. B. Freeman, A. J. Hammond, O. S. Hirschfeld, S. L. Robinson, F. E. North, J. R. Stroyan, H. Cook, A. V. James, J. M. Fraser, C. Warner, S. A. White, K. B. Fraser, R. G. Hamilton, O. F. Blakey, A. S. L. Hay, E. C. Gee, W. H. Moore, A. I. M. Fraser, J. C. Davidson, R. K. Knight, C. M. Longbottom, L. I. A. Micheli, J. H. Edwards, C. Young, A. S. Peterson, M. Hart, M. C. Trotter, A. G. Holland, F. J. Needham, H. C. D. Peel, E. Foster, F. W. Lukin. It will be noted from the war list that most of the above are already in camp, or gone away.

We note another very interesting letter in the "Courier" from Sergeant Dinning. Last December, it will be remembered, he wrote a fine character sketch of "The Australian at the War." The "Courier" calls him "A Philosopher in the Trenches."

Members will share our deep sorrow at the sad death by drowning, at Coolangatta, last January, of our esteemed member, Mr. Robert Doran, accountant of the National Mutual Life Association. He was well-known in business and sporting circles, and was Hon. Secretary of the Insurance Institute of Queensland. Of unassuming disposition, he was highly esteemed by all, an enthusiastic cricketer, for years captain of the Oakfield Cricket Club—a crack club in the old days—and afterwards Secretary to the Queensland Cricket Association. In later years he devoted his attention rather more to tennis. His daughter is a B.A. of the Queensland University.

We would also like to express our sympathy with our late President, Mr. J. J. Walsh, in his family bereavement.

The financial year is rapidly on the wane, and a good few members are still behind with their subscriptions. Seeing that we are not sending notices to the vast majority of those who have enlisted, it behoves those who are at home to be extra forward with payments, in order to, in some way, counterbalance any deficit that might otherwise arise.
