Dear Partners in Learning,

This past week, students had the opportunity to listen to the book, Just Ask, by Sonia Sotomayor. Together, we learned how all kids have things that make them different. The students learned how leaders know how to ask the right questions, and who to go to when they want to learn more about things they are curious about. Students also watched a short video about how two friends made Star Wars available to her as she had a disability. Please take a moment to talk to your child about ways to ask you questions about people who may be different from them. Students should be encouraged to learn about these differences and feel safe asking these questions. It is ok if the other person does not want to share their story. However, children should be supported and taught ways to ask questions and learn more about topics they may interested in or curious about. <https://youtu.be/V90pqyZ3cU8>

Reminder

*Students may not be dropped off before 7:45 as there is no supervision.

*Parking lots, both the front and the back are for staff only. Please do not pull in, even to drop off your child.

Thank you for your understanding.

Glass Containers

Please do not send any glass containers to school. They may break, and when heated, they are too hot for the students to manage. Thank you for your support.

Thank you!!!

Thank you to our AMAZING PTA for hosting the most wonderful Breakfast with Santa! The music, our talented pancake flippers, Santa, ornament decorating, the book fair, and all the attention to detail, made this event so special for our students and their families. Thank you all, for coming and supporting one of our favorite events!
