Re: COVID-19 Update IV

Dear Parent/Guardian:

How quickly the world turns. When we cancelled school on Friday the public sector was resisting a similar decision. Now both the city and the Diocese of Brooklyn have announced closing until April 20th. These decisions are likely to affect us moving forward. We will provide further updates throughout the week.

Our faculty participated in Professional Development training on Friday preparing them to go on line. Today is the official start date for online classes. If there is difficulty with a particular class, please contact the teacher for that class. If there are problems working online, please call the school at 718-857-2700 x 2203. Make sure you leave your name and contact information. We will assist as we can and put you in contact with the right personnel.

Each teacher has access to their class list which makes attendance taking possible. Make sure your student follows the teacher's directions in this regard. There will be assignments which will be graded. Be attentive to due dates.

The administration continues to meet regularly to assess the situation. We expect to set up a regular pattern of communication with our families.

We are living through a challenging time which will become a part of history. There will be some bumps along the way but we share a common commitment to smooth them out together. Together, we will get through this challenge, and with God's grace learn some valuable lessons about the strength of character.
