

Dear Primary and Lower School Families,

Please enjoy our first video to welcome you to remote learning.

As I shared in my email on Friday, our first remote learning lessons will begin this week on Wednesday and Thursday. Teachers will be using specific platforms for all lessons that students and families know, and face-to-face digital conversations will be taking place on Zoom.

If you need a refresher on how to join a Zoom meeting, check out this quick guide or watch this short video.

If you need help accessing the platforms that students will be using while at home with remote learning, you can reach out to:

As a reminder, during our time away from school, please remember to follow the social distancing guidelines that have been recommended. We all need to do our part to slow the rate at which the virus spreads, and refraining from playdates, getting together to do school work or planning social gatherings will help to achieve this goal.

As we count the days until we return to being together again, enjoy time as a family, remember to get outside, have fun playing games, and enjoy some new activities and be creative!

Best,
Rachel
