

5th & 6th Grades, Social Studies, At Home Learning Activities and Resources

Directions: Students can spend time daily on Social Studies. Activities 1-3 are shorter activities, numbers 4-6 can be done over multiple days.

Studies Weekly is a curricular resource used for grades K-6. It is a newspaper-like reading with activities for students to complete. Parents and students can sign up for a free digital trial of Studies Weekly for 90 days. Click here to sign up. https://app.studiesweekly.com/online/free_trial	The Smithsonian Tween Tribune has articles on a variety of topics with questions and quizzes at the end for students to complete. At the top of each article are different Lexile scores, the lower the score the easier the reading. https://www.tweentribune.com/	Time for Kids- this has digital articles, videos, and some assessments, often with information in Spanish. The resources are available for students in grades Kindergarten to 6th. There are free resources available. https://www.timeforkids.com/
Pretend you are a colonist or soldier during the Revolutionary War and write a page-long diary entry about your life. Include what you might have experienced during that time.	Students can interview a family or community member to write, or draw, an oral history. Students should ask about a historical event (including questions such as who, what, when, where, why and how). The student can also ask how the historical event impacted the life of the person they are interviewing.	Write a letter to a government official- such as the mayor of Tulsa, the Oklahoma governor, or the President. Identify a major issue and what you would like the government leader to do to help. Include important facts that support your ideas.
