

Writing

Do a little writing everyday! Here are some ideas to get you started.

Describe a day when you were grouchy. What made you so grumpy and how did you get in a better mood?	Imagine you have an identical twin who is in a different class than you. What pranks would you play on your teachers and classmates?	You see a flashing light in the sky. Write a story about what it is and where it come from!
Imagine you could snap your fingers and be anywhere in the world. Write about where you would go. What would you do there?	What do you know a lot about? Write a nonfiction book about it! (Pizza? Tiffany Park Elementary? The playground?)	Imagine you want a new pet but your parents won't let you. Write a convincing argument for WHY you should get this pet.
Imagine you and your best friend went on an adventure. Where did you go and what happened?	Cut a picture out of a magazine or print one off the internet. Write a story inspired by this picture.	Imagine you are given $100 to do acts of kindness for others. What would you do?
If you could eat only one food for the rest of your life, what would you choose? Why?	If you could make one school rule. What would it be? How would the rule change a regular day at school?	Write a letter to your teacher. What have you been doing at home? What do you miss about school?
