

A DAY IN THE LIFE

Ancillae is committed to providing a wholesome, comprehensive program addressing the spiritual, academic, cultural, social, and physical needs of our students—from Stepping Stones to Junior High. While there truly is no typical day, week, or month at our dynamic school, we invite you to travel through one day with us, in real-time, as it happened. Although these photographs capture moments of curriculum in action, there is so much more behind these images; there are critical exchanges of life. Each moment builds an understanding for our children that they are known and loved in their Handmaid home. As they journey from simple addition to writing their first lab report, an education at Ancillae goes beyond books to develop responsible, interdependent, creative, and empowered students.

Students in Bevin Bodnar's kindergarten class use the concrete Montessori materials to develop their mathematical mind. Children in the Montessori Program apply their knowledge of logic, sequence, and order through daily interactions within their environment.
