

WEEK 3 DISTANT LEARNING

Dear Parents,

Hello as we enter our third week of distant learning. I am attaching more skills to continue working on. Some skills are being repeated as our children need repetition. Please let me know if you have any questions. Another letter will come out shortly with a schedule and more detailed plans along with ZOOM meetings as all parents expressed interest in trying this out! Please join me for a ZOOM meeting Monday at 12:30 to check in. This meeting will be mostly with parents and a hello to the kids to give information and updates on future zoom meetings. An email invite should have come out over the weekend.

Name writing or tracing if needed

Tracing or writing letters

Tracing or writing numbers

Trying to write CVC words if your child is ready.

Giving letter names and sounds

Think of words that start with a given letter (G-gorilla)

Rhyming practice

Reading sight words

Create a sentence using the sight word

Create sentences using sight words (Worksheet attached with sentences to practice this skill)

Listen to/read short stories and talk about what the story was about.

Counting by rote skill

TK-counts to 30 or higher

K-counts to 100

1st- count to 120

Counting objects one at a time

Simple adding facts

Patterns

Greater than/less than

I know this is a lot of skills but I want you to have plenty to choose from. I am attaching the sight words for your convenience. Take care

Mrs. D