

MARCH 2020

Student of the Month

JACK SCARROTT

Jack has shown his resilience over the last few weeks when coping with very difficult circumstances. He has also demonstrated real loyalty to his school and amazing unselfishness in being able to help others, including adults in our community, cope with a very trying situation. Being able to look beyond your own needs and think of others is an incredibly mature attribute; we are so proud to have Jack as our Head Boy.

Mrs S Mason

Jack has gone above and beyond, with great patience, humour and determination, in helping me with Teams and coordinating my iPad and laptop so I have lots of things at my fingertips. He started in person before school closed to students and has continued remotely. He even volunteered to view one of his sister's Y10 lessons when he was free to be on hand when I tried new things. He is an absolute star! Thank you, Jack!

Mr P Johnson

Jack is a pillar of the Wellington community. He throws himself into any challenge that I have set and is a key role model in the Prior family. One of his great qualities is his patience, which he regularly demonstrates by helping the younger pupils with their organisation and supporting them with their homework. He is able to grasp complicated topics and break them down when explaining them to someone else.

Although we do not get to see Jack's talents in the pool he is always modest when discussing them. He will be sorely missed next year but I look forward to hear how he is getting on when he comes back to visit us.
