

WBHS Cloud Learning Grading Policy

In an effort to validate all learning and to provide students with relevant feedback and grades, WBHS will be instituting the following grading policy for all classes (unless it was already designated as pass/fail) at WBHS for the remainder of remote learning.

All teachers will follow one of the two options below for grading. Grades will be awarded based on the quality of student work for anything that is turned in. If a student is missing any work, it will be held as a 60%, but can be turned in for grade improvement at any time. Our goal is to hold students accountable for learning, but not punish any student with a failing grade on any assignment during this time. The options below are what teachers will follow in the event that work is not turned in.

Option 1

- An assignment is not turned in
- The assignment is left as a blank in the gradebook
- During the intervention/enrichment week, the teacher can work to meet with or assist the student to complete the work.
- Appropriate credit can be awarded upon completion
- Any work that remains missing at this point converts to 60%
- Any work can still be turned in for up to full credit

Option 2

- An assignment is not turned in
- The assignment becomes a 60% in the gradebook
- During the intervention/enrichment week, the teacher can work to meet with or assist the student to complete the work.
- Appropriate credit can be awarded upon completion
- Any work that remains missing at this point remains 60%
- Any work can still be turned in for up to full credit
