

Attendance

Your full attendance is required for scheduled classes. If you need to miss class for any reason, please email your teacher in advance of the class meeting time. Teachers take attendance each class period.

Workspaces

You are encouraged to set up a proper workspace, such as a desk or table, when engaging in remote learning.

Preparation

Be prepared for each class by having the necessary textbooks, notes, and documents accessible along with laptop and charger.

Online Discussions

Please remember that the remote learning classroom is an extension of the Delbarton classroom. Communicate using language and a tone appropriate for academic discussions.

Remote Learning Etiquette

Conduct yourself as you would in a normal classroom setting..

- Dress appropriately for class.
- Try to show up 5 minutes before the class is scheduled to begin.
- Attend only your classes. Do not “Zoom-bomb” other classes.
- Use your Delbarton account and real names when signing into class meetings.
- Your web camera must be activated during class, and be mindful of what is happening behind you particularly when it comes to family members who may unknowingly be in the background.

Honor Code

Delbarton students should act with integrity and personal honor at all times. Students should uphold and sign the Delbarton Honor Code on all graded assignments.

Recording Classes

Be advised that faculty will be recording many of the classes to allow students who wish to revisit the lessons. However, students are not permitted to record and/or share classes or meetings with teachers without the teacher’s consent. One-on-one “office hours” will also be recorded.

General Behavioral Expectations

During remote learning students must adhere to policies within the Student Handbook, including Acceptable Use, Harassment, and Cyber-Bullying.

Technology Problems?

Please email Mr. Costa (jcosta@delbarton.org) or Mr. Zollers (czollers@delbarton.org.)