

Hey Wingate students!

Hope your classes are going well in this new system we are all adapting to! We miss you here on campus (well, even I am working from home) but, truly, we miss you and know it may be a struggle adjusting to the COVID-19 realities, classwork, family life, and jobs.

I wanted to be sure that you knew that Wingate has not changed the academic calendar!

- Easter Friday (what some call Good Friday) and Easter Monday are still University holidays for students, faculty and staff
- The final exam schedule remains the same (although your professors MIGHT provide you with final exams early, the exams should not be due until the end of your scheduled final exam period)
- Faculty have been notified that classes should not be held during final exam week (of course!) so that students don't have a time conflict between a class and a final; in other words, classroom instruction should end prior to final exams

So keep up the good work and positive attitude! You still have those options (should you choose to use them) about how your final grade in each course will be recorded on your transcript.

Stay well.

Dr. Randall

Nancy H. Randall

Vice Provost for Student Engagement