

Wellesley Class of 1973

Dear [first_name],

This is your first reminder to finish and return the questionnaire we sent out before the holidays. We have a pretty tight timetable for getting all the questionnaires assembled, and really want to hear from everyone! The deadline is January 15.

We have space to hear, as well, about those classmates we've lost. If you would like to write a short in memoriam (up to 250 words) for a friend or acquaintance, please contact Betsey (emaupin@cfl.rr.com) or Robin (robinfarabaugh@gmail.com); we can coordinate those who might want to write on the same classmate and get a sense of how much space we'll need.

Please fill out the questionnaire by clicking here.

We'd also love to see your photographs. Please submit up to two photos (you must be in them!) by emailing them to Wellesley1973photos@gmail.com. Please identify who's in each photo and where you are or what you're doing – and make sure to put your full name on the email.

Thanks!

Betsey Maupin and Robin Ingraham Farabaugh, Record Book co-chairs

Every woman can—and should—make a meaningful contribution to her world. There is a growing recognition that women's empowerment and leadership are crucial to their own advancement, and to worldwide societal change. Wellesley and its alumnae have supported and championed women's intellectual and social development and autonomy for over 100 years.
