

Wellesley Class of 1973

SOS! Our Class Notes cupboard is nearly bare, and I'd much appreciate any and all bits of news and updates you may have for the fall issue of the magazine. My deadline is approaching and I'd love to hear from you, especially if you've been shy about contributing in the past. Please shower down all your news -- or random musings -- as we approach our 45th reunion next June! Keeping your contributions brief, in the range of 75 words, makes it possible to hear from more than a couple of classmates.

Thanks in advance! (And never fear, Lucy Kerman, Freda Levenson, Tamara Farley Loring, Julie Kaufman, Laura Roy Daniel, and Paula Fredricksen: your notes were all sent off for the summer issue.)

Paula Butturini, class secretary

Every woman can—and should—make a meaningful contribution to her world. There is a growing recognition that women's empowerment and leadership are crucial to their own advancement, and to worldwide societal change. Wellesley and its alumnae have supported and championed women's intellectual and social development and autonomy for over 100 years.
